NEW YORKERS FETE ECKENER

Commander and Officers of Graf Zeppelin Are Acclaimed Heartily

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP)—New York today paid homage to that Magellan of the skies—Commander Hugo Eckener—and the officers of the globe girdling Graf Zeppelin.

Through a storm of torn paper and swirling ticker tape on lower Broadway to the city hall and an official reception—another ride through admiring thousands to the Hotel Astor and a luncheon—the silent Teutonic air wizard smiled and waved as he was feted in the manner of all visiting heroes.

Plugs of both the United States and Germany waved in the air—soldiers, sailors and marines stood at attention, and the U. S. navy dirigible Los Angeles floated overhead to give an official rite to the occasion.

Two and a half tons of paper floated down upon the German airship pioneers—a compliment such as has been afforded to few and second only to that which was given another adventurer of the clouds—Colonel Charles Lindbergh, on his return from Paris.

Mayor Walker was waiting at the city hall to receive the commander. A band played "Deutschland über Alles."

Commander Eckener was presented with a scroll and the official medal of the city of New York. Medals also were presented to other members of the Zeppelin crew and the passengers who made the epochal around the world flight.

The reception over the party went to the Hotel Astor for the luncheon.

Mayor Walker, Dr. O. C. Kiep, charge of affairs of the German embassy, Rear Admiral L. R. De Stoguer, of the U. S. navy, and Lady Hay were among the speakers at the luncheon. Each heaped upon the grizzled head of the Graf a commander unstinted praise.

WOODBURN FARMER TAKES OWN LIFE

Probable despondency over financial difficulties before was believed to have been cause of William Gore Hagar, Woodburn farmer, turning a 30-30 calibre rifle upon himself about 9 o'clock Friday morning. Hagar was found dead in the living room of his home, two miles north of Woodburn on the Boone's ferry road, about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Howard Hovenden, 12-year old son of E. C. Hovenden, a neighbor, discovered the body.

Hagar had been awakened by Howard about 8 o'clock after he failed to appear to assist Hovenden when Hagar had not appeared in two hours. Howard was sent again, only to find the body. The bullet, apparently shot from the rifle held between his knees as he sat on the floor, pierced his heart.

Hagar had lived alone since coming from Beaverton about nine years ago. A wife, from whom he was separated since about the time he came to Woodburn, is supposed to be living in Portland. Hagar was born in Oklahoma and was about 65 years old.

Recent claims totaling $1315.70 have been paid to holders of Oregon Statesman, North American Accident Insurance Co., policies.

SAN JUAN'S SISTER IN SIMILAR CRASH

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 30.—(AP)—The White Flyer Line steamer Humboldt, sister ship of the Pigeon Point, which sank off Pigeon Point, after being rammed by the S. C. T. Dodd, was in another crash at approximately the same hour as the San Juan sank. It was reported here today.

The Humboldt rammed the fish-boat barge Jane L. Stanford, which was anchored in Santa Barbara channel.

A gapping hole was torn in the Stanford's hull by the prow of the Humboldt, and the barge has sunk almost to the waterline.

Because of its wooden construction, and that fact that it has no engine, it was not expected to sink, marine authorities said. Preparations were made to tow it ashore.

The Humboldt, San Francisco bound, struck the barge when heading for the Santa Barbara wharf. Its prow sunk more than eight feet into the Stanford's side, according to reports here. The liner was slightly damaged.

The cause of the collision had not been determined. After repairs at the wharf, it proceeded northward. Three of the barge owners, who were aboard at the time of the collision, were taken ashore by the Humboldt. They declared the Stanford's lights were burning at the time of the crash.

DANCE MOODS IDEA BEGINS HERE TODAY

Today will mark the second week of the fanchon and Marco greater "Ideas" for Salem audiences.

For a three-day engagement, starting with this afternoon's performance, Fanchon and Marco's "Dance Moods Idea" will occupy the stage spotlight, in one of the most gorgeous and artistic presentations that has yet been offered to local theatre-goers.

"Dance Moods Idea" features those 16 versatile and talented Hirsch-Arnold Beauties, who hail from San Francisco, and who are reputed to be amongst the most versatile of dancers on the stage.

Gus Mulcahy, a wizard on the harmonica, is the underlined attraction on the same bill, while Betty and Ramon, adagio team, and Nadine, danseuse are other features.

On the screen will be seen Greta Garbo in her film and synchronized success, "Wild Orchids," is said to be one of Miss Garbo's best screen efforts. An excellent supporting cast, consisting of Nils Asther, young Swedish star, and Lewis Stone, known to many movie-goers for his versatile characterizations, are also capable supporting members.

L. Carlos Meier and his augmented Elsinore Band have prepared for an overture "Poet and Peasant."

British officials at the first word of the border crossing promptly dispatched strong forces to the north with the hope of checking the Arabs before they became engaged in warfare. Similar tactics were successful a few days ago against another band which crossed into Palestine from Trans-Jordan.

The most serious of the scattered outbreaks of the past 48 hours appeared tonight to have been at Safed. A fire started during the rioting was said by the Jewish telegraphic agency to have spread through the whole town. The agency estimated the Jewish dead at 9 but other sources said the total was five.

Additional evidence that the disastrous events of the past week did not result alone from the religious dispute over possession and use of the walling wall came today with formulation of demands on the British high commissioner by the Palestine Arab executive.

From this it appeared the Arabs feel deeply the attempt to establish a Jewish national home in territories which they feel to be theirs by right of long occupation.

The Arabs were said to be ready to ask for establishment of a parliament in Palestine revocation of the Balfour declaration and the aid of the British government; establishment of a Jewish national home, and non-admission of Zionists into Palestine.

These demands are in complete opposition to the aims of the Zionist organization and are likely to lead to long discussions both in London and in League of Nations circles.

Although Rin-Tin-Tin, the famous dog star and the best loved canine support actor, has now appeared in 18 motion pictures, his latest, "Frozen River," is said to be the most colorful and thrilling story in which he has starred. It will be the feature attraction at Bligh's Capitol theater, starting Sunday.

Filmed against the vast background of the frozen and icy north, "Frozen River" depicts the love of a dog for a man, even though he has been reared from a puppy by a she-wolf. Many dramatic situations occur in this picture in which Rin-Tin-Tin saves the lives of three persons he has befriended.
