Unsolicited Letter Sent in To Headquarters by Woman

"Does Scouting Mean Anything to a Mother?" might well be the title given to the following letter, received unsolicited at local scout headquarters from a woman who signed herself "Mother of a Scout." Here is the letter:

Mildred J. Carr, librarian for the ers, and solemnly repeat the scout oath, promising to do his best to 'obey the scout law' and to keep day. Miss Car has been a member himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight? If you have seen the shining boyish eyes and the determined look in his serious face you have realized that scouting means something to the daughter, left Tuesday for their boy, and, if you are a mother, a silent prayer has filled your heart that the promise may be kept, and your soul has thrilled with the realization that one more stone has been laid in the foundation for the building of an honorable man.

> "The scout law is a law of honor. Recently when asked which of worthy.' Surely this is a very important law to a scout, for he who obeys it obeys most of the ten commandments, and one mother has many times what it means to have a son who does not lie or cheat, who will do exactly a given task, who can be trusted.
