WORK ON ROADS GOES ON APACE

Five Crews Rushing Market Route Construction Says Johnson

Market road construction, while well past the half way mark for the season is still going on apace, according to Roadmaster Frank Johnson who says some crews will be active until November 1.

Five gangs are now at work in various sections of the county.

One crew, working on the Ankeny Hill-Buena Vista market road had three more weeks of grading ahead of them. After this week there will be fully three more weeks of graveling left according to Johnson. About 1600 yards of gravel are spread in six days and this amount is sufficient to cover a mile of graded road.

One crew to quit.

In two more days the crew at work on the Pratum to Macleay road will have finished its work and will quit for the season. A considerable amount of construction yet remains on the Stigmund road out from Stayton and fully four weeks work is needed to end the Mehama-Taylor's Groves project.

One crew is working on the Gervais to Mt. Angel road. When that is ended some work will be done on the Silvertown to Monitor road which has been virtually completed save for some construction around a hop yard. Work here was left until the hopping season ended in order to facilitate harvest work.

Johnson said the paving crew now working on the market road near Kelser would be through by Wednesday. About three-fourths of a mile of pavement will have been laid by that time. No more paving will be laid this season.

Time Misstated—By error, the Statesman referred to the Presbyterian church as Sunday, September 1. The picnic was held on Labor Day, September 2, near Mehama where the church owns property which it uses for picnic purposes.

Schei's and Elks Team are Winners in City Bowling as 1929-30 Season is Opened

Good scores considering the fact that the season was just opening and close matches featured the first City bowling league competition on the Winter Garden alleys Monday night. Schei's Clothing won three games straight from the Man's Shop, and the Elks won after the same fashion from the Flying Clouds.

The two new teams, Cline's Food Shop and McKay Chevrolet, staged a great battle, the apron wearers coming through with a wto out of three victory.

Sam Steinbock won the Nebergall bacon with a high series of 608, and the Capitol theatre tick-ets with high score of 212. Each team was supported by a large crowd of rooters.

The score:

Team	Schei's Clothing	Man's Shop	Flying Clouds	McKay Chevrolet
Kerison	181	176	178	535
Edwards	178	156	182	486
Grote	138	144	142	424

CRAMPS HELD TO BE CAUSE FOR DEMISE

John Lickess of Portland, who with his family was camping at a hopyard near Butteville, was drowned in the Willamette river at Butteville about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. According to reports reaching Coroner Lloyd Rigdon, Lickess had eaten a quantity of ice cream and then gone swimming, and it is presumed cramps were responsible for the tragedy. Lickess was about 53 years old, and lived at 402 Almsworth avenue.

The drowning occurred with several members of his family looking on. Although search for the body was started immediately after the drowning, it was not recovered until 10 o'clock Monday morning, nor far from where Lickess disappeared from sight. The body was taken to Aurora and will be taken to Portland today for services and interment. Lickess is understood to have been a world war veteran.

MRS. CROWLEY IS BURIED HERE TODAY

Mrs. Martha J. Crowley, who became seriously ill two weeks ago, died Sunday night at the home at 1850 Center street at the age of 70 years. She had been in poor health for some years.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Rigdon mortuary, following which her daughters, Miss Carletta Crowley, of Salem, and Mrs. Scott W. Leonard, of Portland, will leave for Des Moines, Iowa, where burial will be made. Her husband, J. A. Crowley, was buried there 20 years ago.

Martha J. Ratcliffe was born in Iowa, June 25, 1859, and had lived in Oregon since 1911, the past six years being spent in Salem. She resided at McMinnville before coming here, and was a member of the Eastern Star chapter there and also a member of the Presbyterian church here. Besides Miss Crowley and Mrs. Leonard, she is survived by five grandchildren. Three children died before their mother.

FOX GIVES OUT DATA TO CLUBS

Final Instructions for Exhibits at State Fair Are Mailed

With the approach of the annual state fair, W. W. Fox, county club leader, Monday mailed letters to each leader of boys' and girls and club projects in the county giving final instructions for the fair exhibits and wind-up of the year's club work.

Marion county hopes to maintain its previous high standard of achievement in competition with the rest of the counties in the state and at the same time advance the per cent of clubs and members completing their projects, the letter states.

Achievement Pin Offered
Clubs that finish 100 per cent will be entitled to a leader's achievement pin from the national department of agriculture, the state club department and the county club leader. These to be mailed after November 1, close of the club year.

All livestock members are requested to send their final reports to Mr. Fox or turn them in at the fair. These exhibits must be in the barns before 10 o'clock Sunday evening, September 22. Exhibits of sewing, cooking, and other club work should be in the 4-H booth Sunday also. A supply of entry blanks, premium lists and other club materials is available at county leader's office.

NEW NUMBERING IS ADOPTED FOR ROOMS

A new numbering system for rooms in the senior high school building has been outlined by Fred Wolf principal, and R. W. Tavorn, assistant, and will be put into effect when school opens Monday, September 23. Under the new scheme, each room will be designated by both a letter and a number, the figure being used to show the floor on which the room is located. Letters will be used to differentiate the rooms on a floor, starting at the beginning of the alphabet and continuing consecutively until all rooms are cared for.

A reassignment of rooms to teachers will be made shortly before school opens, the principal said yesterday.

'CHILD STEALERS' TO BE BROUGHT BACK

Dr. Samuel A. Bowman, Salem dentist, died Sunday afternoon at his home at 1840 South Commercial street. He had been ill about two weeks, suffering a severe case of indigestion while vacationing at Neskewin late in August. He was 70 years old. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Presbyterian church, of which he had been an elder since coming to Salem 15 years ago. Rev. W. C. Kantner will officiate at the services, interment to be in Belcrest Memorial park.

Dr. Bowman practiced dentistry in Newcastle, Pa., his birth place, until he moved to Salem. Here he was a partner of Dr. T. C. Smith, Jr.

He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. John W. Harbison of Salem, with whom he made his home, a step-son, Samuel Cloud of Pennsylvania, and three grandchildren who live in Pennsylvania.
