Reduction of World Armaments Too Slow Says Spokesman

GENEVA, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The Irish free state through its spokesman, Patrick McGilligan, foreign minister of the Saorstát, today voiced impatience with the slow rate of progress in the movement for reduction of world armaments and called on the powers to convene a general disarmament conference.

"An improved atmosphere," is practically the only result claimed for the activities of the preparatory commission for disarmament since last year, said McGilligan. He suggested that an anti-war pact between nations, such as the Briand-Kellogg pact, should be followed almost automatically by reduction in the weapons of war.

The Irish foreign minister praised the United States and Great Britain for their efforts to reach a settlement on the question of naval power.

The free state proposal runs counter to the disposition seen in influential quarters in Geneva, notably in circles familiar with the French viewpoint, to leave disarmament discussions alone until the Anglo-American conversations result in the successful issue which Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald predicted here last week.

Popular interest in the League of Nations disarmament program was increased today by a report that Lord Cecil on behalf of the British delegation would offer a resolution inviting the League to speed up the call for a general disarmament conference.

The session of the disarmament committee this afternoon was given over entirely to the question of whether the League should own and operate its own wireless station. The majority sentiment favored the League's having independent control of wireless communication during emergency periods of at least.

The committee adopted Lord Cecil's resolution instructing the secretary-general of the League to take the provision for a radio station as soon as possible.

The assembly of the League today finished with its list of speakers on the work of the League and adjourned plenary sessions for several days.

HAVANA, Sept. 11.—(AP)—A sales contract for 5,000 tons of Cuban sugar, the first to be sold under Cuba's recently created cooperative exports agency since it began operations August 31, was today completed by Mendoza and company.

FIRE LOSSES ARE DECLARED IMMENSE

Oregon's fire losses since 1925, aggregating $52,000,000, amount to more than enough to pay the indebtedness of the state and place Oregon on a cash basis, President Pearson of the Oregon State Fire Chiefs' association points out in letters being sent out Wednesday to fire chiefs throughout the state to join in observance of fire prevention week, October 6 to 12.

Clare A. Lee, state fire marshal, is cooperating with President Pearson in the campaign to reduce the state's fire losses and has ordered a supply of posters, pamphlets and stickers of appropriate design for distribution in the various communities of the state.

graduated from Willamette university last June, will leave today for Baker, where she has accepted a position as Girls' Work secretary with the Y. W. C. A. there. Miss Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tucker, is well-known among the younger people here. She was in Astoria, Calif., this summer to take the graduate course in Girls' Work.

KINDERGARTEN HAS MUSIC SPECIALTIES

Mrs. Frank Lilburn will again open her musical kindergarten which she made so popular last year. This year the kindergarten will be held in the Sunday school rooms of the Congregational church, Liberty at Center, between the hours of 9 and 11:30 o'clock, Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, beginning September 30.

The school is planned to care for children of pre-school age. This year Mrs. Lilburn will present some new work, an adaptation of a system called the "Melody Way."

Miss Louis Plummer will assist Mrs. Lilburn with the music. Mrs. F. E. Mercer, who was with Mrs. Lilburn last year, will have charge of the kindergarten busy work, story telling and dramatization, and Miss Barbara Barnes of the Barnes school of professional dancing will have charge of the dance work in connection with the music.

Real Estate in This Section is Moving Rapidly

Real estate is rising from slump, especially farm lands, according to prominent local dealer.

In evidence of the fact two sales may be noted, one for spot cash. The Bartlett estate, a 238 Acre Polk County stock ranch, was sold to R. F. Deter, proprietor of an Independence meat market.

Edward Doerfler bought recently the 177 acre Albert Frank ranch, situated four miles from Sublimity for cash.

A awakened interest in real estate is arousing dealers for the general outlook of the community.

INTEREST IS SHOWN IN DAIRY PRODUCTS

A great deal of interest is being shown this year in the dairy products exhibit which will form one of the important divisions of the Oregon State Fair, Sept. 23 to 28, says D. B. McKenzie, Salem, superintendent of the department.

Particular attention will center on the cheese exhibits from Tillamook and Coos counties, since they are rivals of long standing. Two years ago Coos county came out first in cheese making, while Tillamook county came off with all the honors last year, so this season the competition will probably be of the keenest.

Norman Christenson, Tillamook, and Reed Farmer, Coos, are the two prize cheesemakers of the state, and their handwork will be here in full force this year.

Both cheese and butter form the exhibit. Nearly half of the creameries in Oregon send in butter to enter the competition. Extensive exhibits of very high class produce comes from very widely diversified districts in Oregon, including Astoria, the Lower Columbia Dairyman's association; Eugene Farmers Creamery; Carlton Creamery; the Snyder's Dairy of Medford, and the creameries of Klamath county. These are only a few of the more important points out over the state, as many other districts will send in fine showings, according to Mr. McKenzie.

The exhibit will be housed in the dairy produce building, a white frame structure on the north side of the grounds.

Patterson Issues Order Postponing Deer Season Till Wet Weather Comes

Governor Patterson Wednesday issued a formal proclamation closing the hunting season, scheduled for opening on September 15, until a general rain throughout the state shall have removed the fire hazard which now prevails in the forested areas.

The proclamation carries out his intentions as announced last week when he made it known that he would move to postpone the hunting season unless rain fell in the meantime.

At the time of making public his proclamation the governor also explained that as soon as Oregon is visited by a general rain, he would move to lift the hunting ban and would give this news to the hunting public not only through the press but by radio as well.

The proclamation of the governor reads as follows:

"Whereas, because of the extreme drought which has prevailed for the past several months and continues to prevail throughout the entire State of Oregon, loss by forest fires is daily growing greater and more menacing to the forests of the state, and

"Whereas, forest fires inevitably result in the permanent destruction of vast areas of timber, which constitute one of the greatest sources of wealth in our state, and in addition endanger stock, destroy range and cause serious loss of property, taking as their toll homes and sometimes lives, and

"Whereas, it appears upon showing made by F. A. Elliott, State Forester of the State of Oregon, that the forest fires are now of Forest Grove, Reichert is here now. Powers plans to retire from active business.

Powers Ranch Sold for Large Sum of Money

The Ed Powers 177-acre ranch on top of the hill near the asylum farm has been sold to the Bancroft Corporation of Portland for a consideration which is understood to reach $52,000. Included in the deal was the large prune dryer owned by Powers and located just outside the city limits.

The farm is one of the best improved in the section and contains one of the nicest prune orchards in the country. Powers set out the trees some years ago, the orchard taking 75 acres. His own prune holdings enabled him to build a dryer near the city.

The Portland firm purchased as an investment and has already rented the farm to J. H. Reichert gon, and upon other facts and information, that the use of firearms and fires by hunters during this season under the prevailing conditions is liable to cause forest fires with their attendant losses to both property and life.

Now, therefore, in view of the foregoing premises and by virtue of the authority in me vested by law, I, I. L. Patterson, Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby close and suspend the open season for hunting which will begin in the State of Oregon on the fifteenth day of September, 1929, and I do hereby make said season a closed season for the shooting of wild birds and animals of any kind, and I do further proclaim and declare that such open season is closed from the fifteenth day of September, 1929, until ordered open by this office, and shall remain closed and suspended throughout and over the entire State of Oregon."

CALIFORNIA MAN IS SOUGHT IN OREGON

Governor Patterson Wednesday requisitioned the governor of California for the return of William McBride, who is wanted in Yamhill county for larceny. McBride is now serving a jail sentence in El Centro, California, which will expire Sunday.

McBride is charged with having defrauded four citizens of Yamhill county out of sums ranging from $100 to $250 under the pretext of performing operations to remove cataracts of the eye. McBride was indicted on four counts and found guilty being sentenced to indeterminate terms of five years on each count. Upon his promise to reform and to make restitution of the money taken from his victims McBride was paroled from the bench. Later he went to California where he is said to have engaged again the practice of medicine without a license for which he was arrested and sentenced to jail.

Santiam Forest Is Shut to all Side Traveling

Effective Wednesday, the Santiam forest has been closed to travel except along well established roads and has also been closed to camping except in well known camp grounds, according to word from C. C. Hall of Albany, forest supervisor. This means that no travel off of main roads or camping outside of the established camp grounds will be allowed. Hall says. The closing is in compliance with orders of the district forester and under regulation of the department of agriculture.

MAIL CARRIER LIKES ETHYL

RICKBALL, Ore., Aug. 21 (EP)—Deliberately filled the gasoline tank of his local mail carrier, filled the gasoline tank of his local mail carrier with several kinds of gasoline. His mail route, a most difficult one because of many steep hills, has afforded him an excellent opportunity to accurately judge and compare motor fuels. Here is what Mr. Goodell has to say about Associated Ethyl Gasoline:

"I have been using Associated Ethyl Gasoline practically 100% since it has been on the market, and have had excellent results. I can immediately notice a difference in other gasoline because I have to make so many gear shifts in going over hills that I can make in high gear with Associated Ethyl."

Associated Ethyl Gasoline increases power by putting carbon to work. It gives stronger, smoother engine action, less shifting, quicker pick-up and knockless performance. This super motor fuel reduces operating costs and lengthens your motor's life. Drive in at the red, green and cream stations or garage and fill up with Associated Ethyl Gasoline. You'll notice the difference at once.
