

WITNESS SAYS WOMAN SOBER

Friend Gives Testimony for Mrs. Pantages at Her Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Bertha Jacobs testified in defense of Mrs. Lois Pantages at the theatre man's wife's trial on a second degree murder charge today, that the woman was sober 15 minutes before the state declared she drove her automobile into a Japanese on June 14 inflicting injuries from which he died.

Mrs. Jacobs said Mrs. Pantages had been her friend for ten years, and she had spent the week ending June 16 at the Pantages home in Venice. At the close of her visit, she said, Mrs. Pantages drove her to Los Angeles, dropping her at a corner just 15 minutes before the fatal collision occurred. The state presented witnesses who testified Mrs. Pantages was intoxicated at the time. Mrs. Jacobs declared no liquor had been served at the Pantages home and the woman had touched none up to the time she was dropped.

Harry Laderbring, a state witness had testified he offered to cur a taxi for Mrs. Pantages when her engine stalled at the corner Mrs. Jacobs said she left the car. Laderbring said she was drunk. Mrs. Jacobs denied a man had spoken to Mrs. Pantages at the corner while she was there. She said she called a taxi and went home, and did not witness such an interview.

On cross examination Mrs. Jacobs denied she told detectives during the investigation which preceded the trial that she left Mrs. Pantages' car at her home, several blocks before reaching the corner mentioned in her testimony.

Dr. C. A. MacDonald, a physician at a hospital where Mrs. Pantages was treated following the crash, testified as the first defense witness. He said he had smelled no liquor on the woman's breath, and that a dazed condition mentioned in previous testimony might be the result of concussion rather than intoxication. He admitted on cross examination no sobriety test had been made, and he could not say whether she was sober.

John Conterno, a service station operator, stationed near the scene of the collision, testified Mrs. Pantages' car was forced to the left side of the street by a large touring car. State witnesses had said no automobile was near the Pantages machine at the time of the collision.

Cross examination revealed Conterno had told his story to Alexander T. Pantages, husband of the woman, who faces trial September 23 on statutory charges brought by Eunice Pringle, 17, dancer, but had refused to talk to Rokumoto's family.

The state closed its case with the testimony of a policeman, a doctor and a nurse. The officer said he reached the scene of the collision and knelt by Mrs. Pantages. He said he could smell liquor on her breath. The doctor and nurse said they had treated the woman for injuries, and detected the odor of liquor on her breath.

MISS HICKS IS DERBY WINNER

Final Match of Middle West Tourney Carried Off In Easy Style

By PAUL R. MICKELSON Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—(AP)—New York's 15-year-old golfing prodigy, Miss Helen Hicks, ended her first important invasion of the middlewest gloriously today, winning the derby, a new 72-hole medal play classic for women, by a decisive margin of 14 strokes.

The husky, broad-shouldered New York girl, who amazed the golf world by her brilliant performance down south last winter, shot exactly par for her four rounds on the tricky Flossmoor Country club to gain her easy-sided triumph, ending an 81 today to her previous best of 85-78-82 for a handsome 220 total.

Her closest rival was Virginia Van Winkle of Chicago, finalist in the 1928 national championship, who jumped from fourth to second place by shooting a 79, the lowest score turned in by today's field, for a 324 total. Maureen Orcutt of White Beeches, N. Y., was next.

Compared with women's par, Miss Hicks' performance probably established a new record for feminine golf. From the first round on she held a wide margin over the small but classy field, which faltered badly on the first two rounds to give her a 10 stroke lead at that halfway mark. Miss Hicks shared 18 birdies on her 72 hole tour.

MRS. JAMES WINS GOLF SWEEPSTAKES

Portland, Ore., Sept. 12.—

(AP)—Setting a new course record to take both low gross and low net in class A, Mrs. George James of the Multnomah golf club here won the interstate sweepstakes of the southwest Washington and Oregon women's golf associations at the Clark county country club, Vancouver, Wash., today.

More than 130 dextrous diggers of the gentler sex participated in the tournament. Mrs. James was around the picturesque Washington course in 80, two under par. Her eleven handicap left here with a net 69.

In class B a triple tie resulted for second place. Miss Muriel McLean of Longview having captured it with a 69. Tied were Mrs. Conroy club to gain her easy-sided triumph, ending an 81 today to her previous best of 85-78-82 for a handsome 220 total.

for the second time this year, Georgia put something over on California.

Bobby Jones, who plays golf, laid the stryke that stumped the usual western "retort courtous" today. Georgia Tech's football crew that larruped California's Bears last New Year's day accounted for the first coup.

Jones, still greatest of fairway fanciers and as big in defeat as in victory, bid goodbye to the coast today with the hope of returning soon. He left his national amateur crown on the twining Pebble Beach course, but: "Made a lot of new friends—did Hollywood—and saw the Pacific ocean." Loss of his title is the least of his worries.

TASTE WARNS TOO LATE FOR SAFETY

Foods may "taste all right" and yet be dangerous to health. Your doctor will tell you that foods spoil because of the tiny micro-organisms which become active when these perishables are kept for long at a temperature above fifty degrees. Fifty degrees is the danger point. For cold can conquer these bacteria and arrest their progress. In foods kept above fifty degrees—even two, three or four points—the micro-organisms multiply astonishingly, and are lurking menaces to health, even though they may not noticeably affect the taste of the food.

Year 'round refrigeration is the one safe way to keep perishables at exactly the right temperature without changing the wholesome condition of the food, or destroying a particle of its nourishment value. Window-sill and back-porch make-shifts keep foods too warm or too cold—both dangerous to health.

MUSSOLINI MAKES CHANGE IN LINEUP

ROME, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Duce today shook up his government in the most vigorous fascist ministerial reorganization since July 1928, relieving himself of most of the posts which he then assumed. Instead of eight cabinet offices, Signor Mussolini will now hold only the portfolio of all-importance—ministry of the interior, but continues of course to be premier.

The revamped cabinet is noteworthy for the fact that three of the famous quadrumvirs who led the historic march on Rome, Oct. 29, 1922, have now achieved full ministerial rank. General Italo Balbo becomes minister of aviation in the new government; Michele Bianchi, minister of public works, and General Debono, minister for the colonies.

The duce divested himself of these three portfolios among the seven he relinquished today.

After the 1928 reorganization he held six portfolios, those of foreign affairs, the interior, aviation, corporations and marine. Afterwards he assumed those of the colonies and of public works, which gave him eight out of thirteen votes in the cabinet council.

Today's reorganization, announced in a royal decree, was based on Mussolini's plan of rotating the various ministerial posts to the best men in the fascist party, in order to build up a governing elite.

SENIOR HIGH WILL BE LAST BUS STOP

School buses which will bring pupils to Salem high and junior high schools this year will go direct to the junior high schools, with few exceptions, on the trips into town in the morning, and make their last stop at the senior high. R. W. Tavener, assistant principal of the high school, told the junior and elementary school supervisors at their initial meeting of the year held at the high school Thursday afternoon. In the evening, all stops will be made first at the senior high. Tentatively at least, three buses will bring pupils from the South Sa-
