Studio Reception Is Delightful Affair

A delightful reception was given in the lovely studio room of the T. S. Robert's home Saturday night when Prof. and Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. William Dillman Smith, and Mrs. Grace Elizabeth Smith complimented Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Smith of Santa Monica, California.

Guests were received in the long studio room with its beautifully graceful organ, grand piano, flowers, and soft lights, davenport, and informally grouped chairs.

After introductions were over and a social half hour had been spent, Prof. Robert's and Mrs. Paul Smith, who appears musically as Mrs. Evelyn Padgett Smith, gave a beautiful concert recital, to a very pleased audience. They played both solo and piano and organ duet numbers.

Mrs. Smith was piano soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra last year, and this spring she appeared on the music week program of the Pacific Palisades in its auditorium where, with rare exceptions, only internationally known artists appear.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been spending the summer in the east visiting in Cleveland, Ohio, Montpelier, New Jersey, and on to Montreal, and back to the west over the Canadian route. They are en route to Santa Monica, and will leave here Thursday.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. William Dillman Smith, and a brother of Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith and Ray Smith of Salem.

Assisting Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Smith and Miss Smith with receiving Saturday evening and later in serving were Mrs. Ray Smith, Mrs. Floyd Uiter, and Miss Minda L. Downing.

The guest list of 20 included some of the most prominent musical talent in Salem.

Stayton was the host of hundreds of flower lovers who motored from valley towns for miles around to inspect the floral gardens of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Goodes Sunday.

Many surprises were in store for visitors when they paced through these gardens which, though beautiful from the roadside, cannot be seen and appreciated until a view from the inside is obtained. There are asters, zinnias, stocks and many fall flowers too number to name, now in full bloom. There is a large formal garden with lawns and lined with low-pruned English box hedges reminding one of the gardens of the old Washington home grounds. There are other floral beds and plants that evidence seasonal blooms from early spring to the present time.

Lawn and concrete paths render it possible to walk through any part of these gardens without soiling the shoes in the least. One of the main attractions was the new road added to two already there. In the building of this last foot the problem was to produce a reflective mirage, and the efforts of the Goodes to do this was very successful.

And there are rockeries and then more rockeries under construction, and many other plans under development.

The public appreciated the hospitality of the Goodes assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Love of Salem, and all visitors were impressed with the fact that at the Goodes Gardens every day is open garden day and visitors are always welcome.

Andrew Vincent To Exhibit Pictures

It has been announced by members of the committee working on the art exhibit for Marion county which will be displayed as a part of the state fair art exhibit that several local artists are entering this display.

The list is headed by Andrew Vincent who will display 22 of his own canvases. At present Mr. Vincent is at an Oregon beach where he is working on some canvases.

Past Matrons Club Will Meet Today

Mrs. Bertha Loveland will be hostess this afternoon to members of the Past Matrons club at her home, 405 South 25th street.

The club will continue the course of study which it has outlined for itself on Americanization. Mrs. Florence Shipp will be in charge of the discussion for this afternoon.

Portland Wedding Of Interest in Salem

At a lovely wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox Smith at Portland, Miss Edith Stone, who has spent the past summer in Salem, became the bride of Leroy Boling of St. Louis, Missouri, Sunday, September 15.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of ivory satin and lace. The marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. C. O. Wright of Portland in the presence of a few close friends and relatives. Preceding the ceremony Miss Marie Mauss sang two numbers accompanied by Miss M. Sandwick of Corvallis and Miss Alice Vandervort of Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Boling left immediately for St. Louis where Mr. Boling will continue his work in Washington University.

Salem Schools Open Monday Sept. 23rd

President and Mrs. Canse of the Kimball school of theology entertained faculty members and wives at the college Friday evening. This Friday happened to fall on the 13th of the month and there were just 13 guests present. The evening was spent in conversation and music.

Those present were Dean and Mrs. John D. McCormick, Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Hammond, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Andrews, Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Keefe, Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Hertzog, Miss Helen Hertzog, Dr. and Mrs. Canse.

Mrs. Earl Shafer, nee Eugenia Zieher, who has been a guest at the home of Miss Sally Bush for the past few days, has returned to her home in San Francisco, and accompanying her was Mrs. Brazier Small and her daughter, Susan. Mrs. Small and daughter will visit for a fortnight with Mrs. C. E. Smith, Gladys Cartwright, at the Smith home in Placerville.

Mrs. O. Monson has returned to her home on Rural avenue after a week spent in Newberg visiting friends.

Society's Attention Centers on Night Horseshow

The state fair offers one thing that appeals to the society folk of the city—the horse show. Boxes are filled each night with folk in formal dress, and in the ring those prominent in the society of other cities are displaying the art of horsemanship and a beautiful horse.

The weekend brought in a large number of fine horses which will be entered in the horse show, Sept. 23 to 26. A number of other stables are expected in within the next few days, while on Monday, the opening day of the fair, a solid express train, the first in the history of an Oregon state fair will arrive from Pomona, carrying horses worth many times a fortune.

Eight imported Irish hunters, belonging to Mrs. Alma Spreckels Rosekrans, San Francisco, came in Sunday. Among them were Humdinger, winner of the championship stake for hunters at the recent show at Sacramento, Berryline, Sunbeam, and others.

Adolph Spreckels, son of the late A. B. Spreckels, San Francisco, brought in four thoroughbred hunters. Outstanding of these is Cycod, winner of the championship stake for jumpers at Sacramento.

Also coming in Sunday were the five thoroughbred hunters owned by Alex Young, Jr., San Francisco. Kula Kula, the beautiful brown gelding, formerly owned by Mrs. Claude D. Starr, and second in the championship stake at Sacramento this summer, is probably the most famous of these. Others include Pop Over and Zeppelin, both gray mares, and Kreksumas, a fine type of thoroughbred hunter.

Monday brought in John Hubby, Mason City, Ill., with eight road horses, including Jack Belding, winner of the championship stake for road horses at the San Joaquin county fair at Stockton this year; Maybird, May Aubery, Sally Volo, and Peter Rabbi. Hubby owns what is conceded to be one of the two really great stables of road horses in the world.

Old bundles of papers 5 cents, 215 N. Com'l, Statesman office.

McDowell Club is To Give Program October 28

Members of the executive board of the Salem McDowell club met at the home of Mrs. W. L. Phillips Saturday evening and completed a few plans for the coming season.

The date for the first program was set for October 28. The assisting artists as the program is now planned will be Bryon Arnold of the school of music in Oregon state college, and William Wright, popular Salem soloist.

Practices will begin the first week in October. Members of the board present for the committee meeting Saturday night were Miss Frances Virginia Melton, president of the club, Mrs. Sheldon Sackett, Mrs. Charles Sherman and the hostess, Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. E. A. Victor and daughter, Miss Jean Victor, returned Saturday evening from a visit of five weeks spent in Seattle with Mrs. Victor's sister.

Presbyterian Young Folk Plan Evening

The Beginners' department of the First Presbyterian Sunday school will entertain in the social hall of the church Tuesday evening with a candy sale and program. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock with a moving picture of the Christian Endeavor taken in Salem last April, and will also show winter sports at Mt. Hood and other local pictures.

Victor Wolf of the First Christian church Endeavor, will sing several numbers.

The entire proceeds from the sale of the candy and a slight admission charge will go into the fund for buying furnishings for the Beginners' department.

Baraca Philathea Class Enjoy Evening

Members of the Baraca Philathea club of the Calvary Baptist church met Friday evening at the church for a combination business and social evening. In the business meeting, reports were read by the officers, and plans were discussed for the coming year. Miss Nina McNary and Rev. Cochran each spoke briefly.

During the social hour the group went to the Y. M. C. A. pool for a swim which was made possible through the courtesy of the Y. M. C. A. folk. Later music and refreshments concluded a happy evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Barkus have had guests from California visiting them during the last week. Mr. and Mrs. Frits of Pasadena, California, Mrs. G. R. Moorhead and Virgil Moorhead, of Long Beach, California, and Mrs. Larry Kimsey, nee Louise Moorhead, were

Presbyterian Women To Hear Special Talk

The women of the First Presbyterian church aid society will hear a special talk on styles and fall materials at the regular meeting which is called for Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church parlors. Mrs. Crater, buyer for Miller's, will be the speaker.

The hostess committee will be the executive board, Mrs. L. M. Furrive, Mrs. L. E. Laws, Mrs. D. Pugh, Mrs. Waldo Mills, Mrs. William Schultz, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. Charles Weller, Mrs. Max Buren, Mrs. Ross Bidwell, and Mrs. E. E. Ling.

Homer Smith Jr., was host to 50 of the younger crowd at the Homer Smith home Saturday night. The party was enjoyed on the lawn and in the parlors. Bridge was in play and music added pleasure to a happy evening.

Miss Hazel Johnson, returned Monday night after having spent some time visiting in Lewiston, St. Marie's, and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.
