

Eastern Gridiron Elevens Begin Strenuous Practice Grind

Curt Comments

Introducing the "hard luck kid," Curtis French of the Bearcat football squad. Here's his four year record:

1926—Chopping wood at home, but his foot, unable to play the latter part of season.

1927—Fractured arm hitting upright of tackling dummy frame, unable to play latter part of season, carried arm raised overhead in plaster cast several months.

1928—Broke his nose three times but kept on playing.

1929 so far—Selected the wrong place to dive and injured heel severely—still out for practice but may not be able to play Saturday.

Otherwise the casualty list is limited to several fellows with foot injuries caused by poorly fitting shoes, but don't worry—scrabble practice will start about today.

Rod Denham, assistant coach, had some of the new candidates ambling along on their hands and feet Monday afternoon. It's a 5 to 6 mile run—our nine months old daughter puts in hours every day at it.

Ad for local women's furnishings store features the un-even hemline, and down at the bottom of the ad it goes into further details. "High at Center," it says.

We guessed correctly again, failing guessing average to 582; seven right and five wrong. Don't know what we'll do about Oregon State-Willamette football game. It would be a little unfair to count that one.

Between our vacation and games away from home, we aren't in position to say much about the Senators, but the box score indicates they are playing real ball. We'll be out to find out if it's so next Sunday—if our tennis match doesn't come at the wrong time.

Oregon Normal footballers have it soft—two weeks out at Yachats. Bet Larry Wolfe has a gang that will make it tough for some of the colleges this season.

Joe Kasberger left Monday for Ashland, where he'll coach the Ashland Normal backfield. Funny thing, Joe played in the backfield at O. A. C., but he's especially good as a line coach, which was his principal job as Willamette the last two years. But Spec Keene has another able assistant to succeed him in that department—"Am Y Hausser, once All-American selection while playing at Carleton, later coach at Chemawa when that school was a thorn in the flesh of all the smaller colleges.

DUCKS MOVE UP AS ANGELS ARE BEATEN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Red Killister's Missions enjoyed a field day at the expense of four Angel pitchers today, pounding out a 21 to 3 victory over Los Angeles in a play off of a tie game.

The Reds got 19 hits and pulled their scoring in bunches of threes and fives in the first six innings. Ike Boone slotted out two home runs, and walked three times to turn in five Mission runs. Huff also hit for the circuit while Earl Webb homed for the Angels.

Nelson held the Angels to six hits.

Local Man Will Represent City

One representative of the Salem Y. M. C. A. will probably attend the meeting of the state amateur boxing association at Portland Thursday night, at which the schedule of amateur boxing tournaments in the state will be arranged.

Army and Notre Dame play their annual game at the Yankee Stadium, November 30.

Coast League Race Found Merry Mixup as Season Draws Gradually to End

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND Associated Press Sports Writer SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Who's Who in the coast league is as much a matter of dispute today, three weeks from the season's finish, as it was July 2 when the teams lined up for the second half of the split season.

Hollywood's Stars, in top place, are 1 1/2 games ahead of the Missions; and 2 games ahead of the Seals. It will take some deep digging in the records to uncover such a baseball windup.

Mathematically, the Ducks are privileged to make eyes at No. one position but the home stretch gallop is one between the first three teams with Los Angeles a long shot to place.

Since the start of the second half, each of the first five clubs have led the league for a time. Hollywood moved up, supplanting

GIL DOBIE WILL GET MORE MEN

Additional Support is to be Given Former Western Coach at Cornell

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 16.—(AP)—A new sort of optimism is riding around the football situation at Cornell, once the home of the "big red" elevens of the east. The feeling is that any change in Cornell's pigskin prospects must be for the better, since they can't be worse than in the last two years.

Despite the rather open quest last winter for Gil Dobie's coaching scalp and organization of a graduate "committee of 17" to find out what was wrong with Cornell football, there is no sign of demoralization as an aftermath. Rather, Dobie is working quietly and earnestly with the material at hand, the boys are willing, and the cause appears anything but hopeless.

Practically All Regulars Gone

Out of a team that failed to win a major game last season, losing to Princeton, Dartmouth, and Pennsylvania, tying Columbia and St. Bonaventure, Dobie has lost all but one regular lineman, two backs, and a flock of substitutes. Apparently this does not bother Dobie, the tall tactician who looks like Coach Mack of the Athletics and has waited almost as long for a champion. Gil's belief is that the regulars he lost were not any better than the substitutes left.

The ray of hope in the situation is the appearance this year of a strong freshman class and a few strong sophomores. Dobie has an abundance of men but few stars.

Although Dobie appears depressed, as usual, as he looks over the squad, he believes this team will do better than the 1928 outfit.

The discards were immediately enrolled in Jimmy Knox's scrub corps.

Another experienced man reporting Monday was Leonard Schiffman, who got in some time at end and halfback in games last season. Lloyd Girod, who was a member of the squad last year, also turned out. Other new candidates are Lee Tate and Daniel Lemery of Salem and Howard Fruit of Ashland.

SENATORS TRIM MONTAVILLA 9

Local Team to Play Deciding Game Against Mt. Scott Here Sunday

Defeating Montavilla 9 to 7 Sunday in Portland, the Salem Senators took the lead in the inter-city fall baseball tournament and set the stage for a deciding game here against Mt. Scott next Sunday. The Hilltoppers lost to Oswego, 6 to 5.

In each of these games the losers outthit the winners. Salem's victory was to a considerable extent accounted for by the Villans four errors, the Senators taking full advantage of each.

Montavilla took an early lead, scoring one run in the first inning and two more after Salem had scored two in the fourth. Then the Senators scored two in the fifth and three in sixth. Montavilla got two in the last half of the sixth, leaving Salem a 7 to 5 lead. The Villans scored two runs in the eighth inning to tie the score, and the Senators grabbed off the winning run and one extra in the first half of the ninth.

Russell Dose Well On Pitching Mound

Russell pitched consistent ball, fanning ten batters, and was given an eight support. Traynor, who started for Montavilla, lost control and support constantly put him in the hole, and he was relieved by Johnny Harkins.

Foss, Senator shortstop, hit a home run, as did F. Harkins and Stein of the home team. Foss was the slugger of the day for the Senators, getting two singles in addition to his circuit clout. Luke Gill also did well at bat, getting two hits. Marvel hit a three-bagger.

MAN'S SHOP TAKES 2 GAMES OUT OF 3

The Man's Shop won two games out of three from the Elks, McKay Chevrolet took three from the Red Flying Clouds, and Scheel's Men's Wear won two out of three from the Senator Food shop, in the second series of the season for the City Bowling league, rolled Monday night on the Winter Garden alleys.

S. Steinbeck set two records that are unusual for so early in the season and may not be topped for some time to come, when he rolled a game of 244 and a series of 817. Otherwise the evening's scores were not exceptionally high, but much improvement is likely to be shown in the near future.

WINSLOW MAY SUE FORESTER

Damage Action Promised as Result of Order to Fight Fires

A damage suit against State Forester Frank Elliott, District Fire Warden Fred Southwick and Deputy Warden Blakely and Cassidy is in the offing if Walter Winslow, well-known Salem attorney and sportsman carries out his threats to sue for treatment which he considers unfair and discriminatory. Winslow in company with Frank Minto, Salem chief of police, and Charles Vick, was "drafted" to fight fires in Douglas county last week-end.

"When we get through they won't have any such law as this to fall back on," Winslow stated Monday. "The act is unconstitutional and we'll not only book the law off the statute books but in doing so we'll collect damages for ourselves. W. H. Trindle already had habeas corpus proceedings prepared and ready to file just when we were about to be released.

Winslow's statement, made upon his return, in part follows: "There wasn't much of a fire as forest fires go, we were the only people drafted in the whole state of Oregon and there isn't a farmer in the section who was drafted. The farmers, as a matter of fact, wanted the fire to burn. If the situation had been as serious as pictured they wouldn't have had to draft us. If they'd needed help we'd been the first ones in. As far as that's concerned I own a timber claim down in Douglas county myself and I'm as much interested as anybody to see that the forest are not destroyed.

"We went down there intending to go in as usual and wait until it rained. It looked funny to us but the forest was closed 20 minutes after we left Roseburg. The packers wouldn't go in with us for fear of getting in bad with the forest authorities. They were going to deny us the right to go in, but we have a cabin in there we pay rent for to the government and they couldn't stop us and let us go through. But because we didn't have packers, we camped on Little River to wait for rain."

Warden Blakely came to our camp about 11 or 12 o'clock Wednesday night and woke us up. He was pretty decent at first. He said big fires were burning, that farm houses were being destroyed, that the farmers were out, and he needed our help. We told him we'd let him know in the morning as we were tired and wanted to sleep. He started away a little distance, then came back and got nasty and told us we'd been drafted and he would see we went in. He then went away. This chap Cassidy, some kind of a deputy warden or something, showed up the next

WOODBURN HAS FINE PROSPECT

Gridiron Material Unusually Strong This Year is Indication

WOODBURN, Sept. 16.—(Special)—With slight variations and at least a half dozen experienced men Coach Ray O. Wolf and his assistant, Gilbert Odde expect to build a team that will raise havoc among teams of the north Willamette valley. The first call for grid practice was issued by the coaches last Thursday and by the middle of this week a squad of about 40 men is expected to be in suits.

Gribble, half and A. Schooler, center, both three year veterans, will be the mainstays of Coach Wolf's team, while Bartos and Lemacke, tackles are also expected to reach the peak of their form this year.

Black, guard, L. Schooler, half, Nebl, quarter, and Gearin, end, all one year lettermen will be back in their old positions, while Oberst, Dirksen, Gustafson, and Scott will probably break into the lineup before the season is well under way. All these men are underclassmen and will be counted on for future material.

The season's schedule is as follows:

Sept. 27—Gervais at Woodburn.
Oct. 11—West Linn at West Linn.
Oct. 18—Independence at Woodburn.
Nov. 1—Amity at Woodburn.
Nov. 15—Newberg at Woodburn.
Nov. 23—Silverton at Silverton.

SALEM GOLF CLUB WINS FROM ALBANY

The Salem Golf club defeated the Albany club 19 man team Sunday on the local course by a score of 28 to 28. Because of this event, the first medal round of the president's cup tournament at the local club was postponed a week. Scores in the intercity match were:

Salem Albany
W.A. Johnson 1/2, McDowell 2 1/2, Bert Hill 3, McDewitt 0.
D. W. Eyre 3, Percy Young 0.
T. A. Livesley 0, Cecil Cathy 3, Chester Cox 3, Kirk 0.

STOCK JUDGING TO TAKE PLACE TODAY

Marion county boys' and girls' stock judging teams today will join the judging contest at the Clackamas county fair, being held at Canby until Friday, W. W. Fox, county club leader reports. This is the first time Marion county teams have entered this event, and has been possible through the courtesy of Leroy C. Wright, Clackamas county club agent.

Strong judging teams are anticipated in this county this fall, and the outcome today will be fairly indicative of the future work. Members will go from the Waldo Hills Shropshire sheep club, which has furnished judging aspirants at the state fair for the last six years, from the Silverton calf club and the Silverton sheep club. Donald Doerfler has represented the Waldo Hills club at the fair. S. B. Torvent will probably go from the Silverton calf club, and Kenneth Dahl, who was 1926 winner of the Linn trophy for the best Jersey calf at the state fair, will probably be in the contest today. A member of the Silverton pig club was also to have been invited to participate.

Teachers Eleven To be Good One

MONMOUTH, Sept. 16.—(Special)—Coach Larry Wolfe and Jack Coax, assistant coach, with forty gridiron aspirants of the Oregon Normal school squad, entrained Sunday noon here for Yachats beach where a two weeks training camp has been established.

Coach Wolfe has on hand material which, when organized, will cause plenty of trouble for opposing teams. With a ten game schedule facing them, the Wolves are expected to finish with a majority of victories to their credit.

Roger Pockinpaugh and Bucky Harris are sure of their jobs for next year. That's more than some major league managers can say.

Critics blame Babe Herman's slump on his tendency to grieve when an opposing player snared one of these Herman-made liners.
