FOOD PRESERVATION IS HELD IMPORTANT

Preservation of food in the home is a problem deserving of the greatest care. It was stated by Dr. W. B. Morse in a talk at the Salem Rotary club Wednesday in connection with national health week. He stated that physicians are called more frequently than is generally known, to treat entire families suffering from blood poisoning, the result of putrefaction, fermentation or mold formation.

Left overs or food which is kept for any time after reaching the home, should be kept at a temperature below 50 degrees and over 32 degrees, Dr. Morse said, and a thermometer should be used to make certain that these conditions are maintained. The serious thing about food poisoning is that the harmful results often are permanent, he added. Frequently, it is impossible to determine by taste or smell, that food has spoiled.

FIRE ALARMS ROUSE DALLAS

Numerous Fires Keep Dallas Firefighters Busy During The Week

DALLAS, Sept. 18.—Sunday afternoon about five o'clock the fire department was called out to the farm home of Dr. Mark Hyster, which is occupied by C. B. Teats, and is located about three miles north of Dallas. The house was completely destroyed by fire which started in the roof and spread from sparks, although there had not been a fire in the house since one o'clock. The son of Mr. Teats who was upstairs heard the crackling, and gave the alarm, and began to throw stuff out of the windows. Practically all of the household goods was saved, except from the kitchen. Two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Teats had the misfortune to lose all of their clothing in a fire on the same property.

A small fire was reported in the vicinity of Black Rock Sunday afternoon, but was under control. Information received today was to the effect that the Willamette Valley Lumber company had shut down all logging camp operations for a time, until fire hazards are not so serious.

An alarm at 10:30 Monday morning, called the firemen to the home of Mrs. V. A. Kersey at the end of Mill street, when the emptying of a pan of ashes on a heap of dried grass and refuse caused a blaze. No damage resulted.

Fire alarms have been numerous in Dallas for the past few weeks, many being turned in for grass fires, but several have been serious and resulted in considerable loss of property. With the opening of the prune drying season and continued dry weather more fires are apt to be the result.

Following the accident he was removed to a hospital in Astoria and after an operation succumbed within a few hours, his lungs being pierced, back broken and other internal injuries.

Mr. Dunigan was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunigan, Sr., who motored to Astoria as soon as notified of the accident.

George Dunigan is survived by his widow, Louise, (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis of this vicinity) and one son, George Jr., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunigan, Sr., one sister Mrs. Mary Wampler, four brothers, Edward, Henry, Maurice and Will, all of Salem.

Mr. Dunigan was reared in this community where his parents have resided for the past 25 years. At the time of his death he was owner of a garage in Chinook, Wash., where he had resided the past two years.
