substantial purse and the handsome silver loving cup. Cyclone, slated by many as a sure winner, fell back, tasting dust in this race.

Not feeling quite sure what it was all about, Boy Friend had the traditional horse shoe wreath placed over his neck by Mrs. Leona Tabbot, Albany, the derby queen, assisted by Governor Patterson. The winner took his honors rather surprisingly, and could not be convinced that everything was all right.

Boquet Is Presented
By Governor Patterson

After the derby crowning ceremonies, Governor Patterson presented Mrs. Tabbot with a beautiful bouquet as a tribute to her graciousness, and then spoke briefly to the audience, which he designated as the largest that had ever attended a derby in the state of Oregon.

A special feature for Governor Patterson, one of the Asaw elephants from the troupe which performs daily in front of the grandstand, was brought forward to pay his respect to Governor Patterson, as a fellow member of the republican party. The elephant was persuaded to broadcast to the audience, which while practically unintelligible was translated by Herb Sutherland, announcer, as saying that this was the finest grandstand he had ever seen.

While the Governor's Derby was the highlight of the afternoon, the four heats of the 2:08 pace, the three heats of the 2:16 trot, the Salem Day running race, and the 4 furlong running race came in for their share of thrills.

Charles W. roan stallion, owned by J. P. and Thomas Myers, came in first in three of the four heats it took to complete the 2:08 pace, and with the $1,000 purse. Hal J. Logan, owned by R. A. Anderson, came in for second, making a sensational recovery of lost ground in the last heat which caused about the most sensation of the afternoon.

In the 2:16 trot, Nadene, belonging to M. C. Keefer, came in for two firsts and a third, while Tramp Spruce, owned by J. B. Meyers, won a first and two seconds. Every heat was for a $500 purse. Ruth Parton's Cross Bow Places First in Mile Race

Cross Bow, the Ruth Parton entry, scored first in the Salem Day running race of 1 mile, while her other entry, Babe Ruth, came in first in the five-furlongs.

Today is Portland day, with the parade of the winning livestock for which judging has been going on all during the week, will be the highlight. This will take place at 4 o'clock on the race track in front of the grandstand and will feature some of the finest specimens ever assembled on the Pacific coast.

Headlined in the races will be the Portland Day mile handicap, with a handsome purse. The 2:12 trot and the 2:25 pace, and the 4 1/2 furlongs running will complete the racing program.

Portland Organization Appears Sixth Time

The Portland Veterans Fife and Drum corps, appearing for the sixth time at the state fair, will entertain the grandstand audience at 2:30, while the Salem Municipal band will play during the afternoon.

The results of yesterday's racing follow:

2:08 pace; three in five heats; purse $1,000. Hal J. Logan (Jane) 7, 1, 3, 3; Dorothy Patch (Dimpler), 2, 3, 6, 2; Cincifield (Ireland) 3, 4, 2, 4; Charles W. CONVICTION IS GIVEN IN COURT

Woman Found Guilty on Lesser Charge; Long Deliberations

gal battle which might carry the case to higher courts.

Mrs. Pantages was brought to trial on a charge of murder in the second degree. Prosecutors presented testimony that the woman was intoxicated when the collision occurred.

Three women jurors wept when the verdict was read. Mrs. Pantages fell on her face on the counsel table and began sobbing and screaming.

Dr. E. C. Fishbaugh, her physician, was summoned and she was carried into the judge's chambers to await decision on motion for release on bond. After the court had been cleared she was carried to the jail elevator and removed from the building. Whether she was taken home or to the hospital, in which she was confined for several weeks after the collision, was not revealed.

erly Hills, California; second, handsome Barrolo owned by Miss Alice and Miss Marjorie Marston; third to Liberty Chimes entered by Beh R. Mayer; fourth to Rosemary owned by Carnation Farm stables; fifth to Patty Barrett owned by Mrs. L. C. Williams; and sixth place was won by an entry from the Carnation Farm stables.

Both the audience and judges granted first place to Duke of Richmond, an entry from the Carnation Farm stables and second to the popular Buckley Vedio owned by Aaron M. Frank in the single harness event for horses 15.2 hands or over. Third and fourth places went to Duke of Rutland also a Carnation farm entry, and Lily entered by Bridgeford Bros.

In the walk, trot and canter entry the old favorite, Kimberly Mine, owned by Mrs. James C. Mercer, Berkeley Hills, California, placed first; Lee Coup, from the Carnation Farm stables, second and Bucharest, also a Carnation Farm stables entry, third.

The Wednesday night crowd again displayed much enthusiasm over the draft horses and the driving which displayed the suitability of the horses for draft purposes. The judging line was rather difficult with final results standing, first to A. C. Ruby, Jr., second and sixth to Carnation Farm Products Co., of Seattle; third to A. Schab of Salem; fourth to L. F. Burge of Albany; and fifth to McCrosky and White of Garfield, Washington.

The high stepping harness ponies stood Wednesday night just as in Tuesday night's judging: Lord May, entered by Bridgeford Bros., placed first; Jolly Boy, entered by George S. Howell, second; Locust Marie, owned by Bridgeford Bros. of Joy, Illinois, placed third; and Animation, another George S. Howell entry, placed fourth.

Much enthusiasm was displayed on the part of audience and drivers in the $1000 stake put up in honor of Governor Patterson for placement of the money was awarded to Patty Miller, owned by Miss Alice and Miss Marjorie Marston, first; second to May Aubrey, owned by John Hubly, of Mason City, Illinois; The Arrow, owned by Bridgeford Bros., placed third; fourth by John Hubly placed fifth; and fifth and sixth places placed fifth and sixth.

Rather unexpected results came from the judging of harness ponies not over 12.2 hands high. Mrs. Harry Goeltz, Jr., took first on Sunshine and fourth on Mysterious; Blue Moon owned by Ben R. Meyer placed second; and entry by Aaron Frank took fourth.

Some very graceful riding was displayed in the ladies' three-gaited saddle horse event. Results of judging stood first to Bergar Boy owned by Mrs. James C. Mercer of Berkeley Hills; a horse, from Carnation Farm stables, second; Mary Sue entered by Miss Alice and Marjorie Marston, third; and Miss Nicholas, owned by Miss Elinore Ferbig, Pasadena, California, fourth.

The gig horse results left the audience a bit silent. First went to Buckley Vedio, entered by Aaron Frank and driven by Jack Sullivan; second, Melanethon, owned by Carnation Farm stables; third, Miss Joyce, entered by Bridgeford Bros.; and fourth, Fidelity entered by Mrs. W. Anderson.

DOUGLAS MACLEAN NOW SHOWING HERE

Douglas MacLean in his latest all talkie comedy, "Divorce Made Easy," opened its engagement at the Elsinore yesterday.

This picture was produced by Al Christie, famous producer of Christie Comedies, who has given MacLean an excellent vehicle to display his talents. The theme of the picture deals with the divorce angle, in which a merry mix-up takes place, and in which friends are called in to straighten out the situation.

Johnny Arthur, Frances Lee and Dot Farley are contributing stars.

The Elsinore announces that Saturday will bring Fanchon and Marco's "Garden Idea," in which the famous 16 Sunkest Beauties will again occupy the stellar role. This production is said to be lavishly mounted, and boasts of some great talent, including Horton Spurr, who appeared with Eddie Cantor in "Kid Boots," the musical comedy show on Broadway.

Vina Zolle, late prima donna with the Duncan Sisters in "Topsy and Eva," Harm and Neer, international singing syncopators of dancing, Griffith and Pierce, flashy dance team, who offers a series of ball-room and whirlwind dancing.
