ARRESTED BY COPS

PORT ORCHARD, Wash., Sept. 5-(AP)-Helen Mak!, 16, of Astoria, Ore., who eloped with Hugo Hannula, 20, from the girl's home in Astoria Saturday after a spectacular race with the sheriff there, and Hannula were arrested at Pearson, Wash., today by John Stanioch, sheriff of Kitsap coun-

4.25

Disillusionment followed quickly upon the arrest for the brideelect, Stanioch said. In the girl's presence, Stanioch declared, Hannula admitted he had served six months in jail on a federal conviction for robbery of the postoffice at Suquamish, Wash., a year ago last June and also confessed to participation in a store robbery and an auto theft.

"I didn't know he was that kind of a man," the girl exclaimed, Stanioch said.

They were to have been married oday but the arrest of the couple at Hannula's home at Pearson, prevented the ceremony.

The arrest was made at the request of the girl's mother, Mrs. Alma Maki of Astoria. Hannula denied he had anything to do with the loss of a purse contained $15. reported by Mrs. Maki. Federal agents will be called upon to inrestigate possible Mann act violations, Stanioch said.

VADUZ (AP) - Volunteers from twenty countries responded when this little principality of Lichtenstein called for help to repair roads, drain flooded areas and otherwise remove evidence of havoc caused by the unprecedented winter and scudden spring thaws The cost was born partly by the Swiss government.

Chicago's loop district has a floating population of more than a million and is traveled daily by more than 10,000 street cars and 152,000 trucks and autos.

The same blue dress was worn by three Paris, Tex., girls who married secretly in recent months.

parently Himmelstoss doesn't quite know what to do. He would like most to set us all on the run again. But he seems to have learned already that the front line isn't a parade ground. He tries it on though, and by addressing himself to one instead of to all of us hopes to get some response. Kropp is nearest, so he favors him.

"Well, you here too? But Albert's no friend of his. A bit longer than you, I fancy,' he retorts.

The red moustache twitches. 'You don't recognize me any more, what?" Tjaden lifts his head. "I do, though." Himmelstoss turns to him, Tjaden, isn't it?" Tiaden lifts his head. "And do you know what you are?"

Himmelstoss is disconcerted. 'Since when have we become so familiar? I don't remember that we ever slept in the gutter together." He has no idea what to make of the situation. He didn't expect this open hostility. But he is on his guard; someone has already PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25.—(AP)— Butter: Extras 49c; standards 48c; prime firsts 47c; firsts 42c. I've been wanting totell you that for a long time.'

> The satisfaction of months shines in his dull pig's eyes as he spits out: "Dirty hound!" Himmelstoss lets fly too, now: 'What's that, you muck-rake, you dirty peat-stealer? Stand up there, bring your heels together when your superior officer speaks to you."

Tjaden winks solemnly. "You take a run and jump at yourself, Himmelstoss." Himmelstoss is a raging book Sheep and lambs: Steady; receipts, 700.

Haie laughs so much that he dislocates his jaw, and suddenly stands there helpless with his mouth wide open. Albert has to put it back again by giving it a blow with his fist.

Kat is troubled: "If he reports you, it'll be pretty serious." "Do you think he will?" asks Tjaden.

"Sure to, I say." "The least you'll get will be five days close arrest," says Kat. That doesn't worry Tjaden. "Five days clink are five days day's finish, hWest closed firm, 8-8c to rest."

"And if they send you to the fortress?" urges the thorough-going Muller. "Well, for the time being the
