

Mysterious Old Bog Claims Lives of Horses and Cattle

PIKE'S PASTURE LURES VICTIMS

Old Timers Recall Stories About Treacherous Spot Near Zena

ZENA, Sept. 26.—Fifty years ago when wild game was plentiful around Zena, "Pike's pasture" was a favorite hunting ground. But old timers always warned newcomers in the neighborhood of the treacherous bog or sink hole located there. Man or animal venturing to cross this bog would be sucked down into its depths and would be unable to extricate himself without assistance.

The activities of this bog are not ended as Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Worthington found to their cost recently. Two weeks ago their work team disappeared. After hunting through the "Pike pasture" time and again they discovered the horses dead bodies sunk in the bog with only the tops of their backs and heads visible.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthington are fully convinced that their two cows which mysteriously disappeared two years ago and of which they found no trace, died in the bog also. Numerous other cattle which have been pastured in "Pike's pasture" by neighbors, have been lost from time to time. No one would think to look at this verdant bog that it would prove to be a veritable octopus, sucking the life out of its victims.

C. D. QUERY WAS WESTERN PIONEER

(The following obituary of a man who was well-known in Marion county was not received for publication until the past week, owing to the absence of relatives to do the usual important facts to Mr. Query's life.—Ed.)

ROBERTS, Sept. 26.—Charles Delano Query who passed away August 31, 1929, after an illness of several months, was born in Polk county, Nebraska, near South Platte, October 16, 1874.

His parents, Henry Charles Query and Lydia Margaret Kirk, were pioneers of Nebraska.

When about twenty years old Charles Delano went to Wyoming and spent a few years there and in Colorado following the cattle industry.

In 1904 the pioneer spirit prevailed so he went to northern Nebraska and took up a homestead. There he met Esther Bensen and they were married April 18, 1905.

Two of their children, Julia and Floyd, were born there. Henry, the youngest, was born in Salem where they moved in 1911.

After spending one year in Salem the family moved to Roberts, then known as Craston, and purchased a part of the Edward's farm. On this land a home was soon built, and a large orchard and loganberry field were planted. Part of the land had to be cleared to do this but the inheritance of the pioneer blood of his parents gave Mr. Query zest for his task.

At that time the nearest store was in Salem. A few years later Mr. Query purchased a few acres of land adjoining the place where Roberts, Oregon Electric station, now is and built a store.

He managed this store until the last two years. Mr. Query built a residence for his family near the store. This has been their home since that time. After renting the store, another house was built by Mr. Query for the storekeeper.

Mr. Query also purchased a large tract of land at Jump Off Joe and for years, while in the store, carried on an extensive business, selling wood from it.

Mr. Query was prominent in civic affairs in the neighborhood and was always progressive, seeking to build better roads, a better school, and better farm buildings. He had an optimistic spirit and entered into all his plans with enthusiasm. His many friends remember him as a builder and willing to help promote any enterprise to make his community progressive.

Mr. Query leaves, beside his widow, Mrs. Esther Query, and three children, Floyd, Julia and Henry; two brothers, Irwin Query of Bordeaux, Wash., and Jake Query of Jackson, Wyoming, and three sisters, Mrs. Betty Erickson of Hoquiam, Wash., Mrs. Myrtle Wollett of Olympia, Wash., and Mrs. Julia Perry of Portland.

The funeral services were held at Rigdon's chapel at 10 o'clock September 2, 1929, after which the body was taken to the Portland crematorium.

HUBBARD'S LEADER OF ORCHESTRA BUSY

HUBBARD, Ore., Sept. 26.—At the meeting of the school board Wednesday evening arrangements were made for the continuance of the high school orchestra under the leadership of Dr. A. F. de Lespasse for the coming year. The board also set aside a sum of money to pay a supervisor for the sewing club work which has been organized by the seventh and eighth grade girls. Mrs. Blanche Brown has consented to supervise this work.

It was decided to build a gravel walk from the west side of the play ground across to the school house. The play ground is so low that during rainy season the water stands on it and it is impossible for the children to cross it without getting wet feet.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25.—(AP)—Apprised by hospital attendants today of the serious injury of her son, Mrs. J. F. Ogde died from shock a few minutes later.

Portlander Will Address Salem Lions Luncheon

John K. Logan, prominent Portland attorney who will address the Salem Lion club here Friday noon. He will be introduced by Governor Patterson. Other Portland Lions to attend will be Ralph King, L. C. Cornwall, J. H. Barnett, and Warren Williams, chairman of the Portland Blind work.

Dorothy Pearce Reaches London Relatives Learn

KINGWOOD, Sept. 26.—Mrs. J. B. Smith has had news of the arrival in London of her niece, Miss Dorothy Pearce of Salem. She, with Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Mercer, are touring in Europe. England was the home country of Miss Pearce's paternal ancestors which makes that country of special interest to her. She will stay in Vienna and will be away six months at least and probably a year.

LARGE WHEAT CROP IS NOW THRESHED

HAZEL GREEN, Sept. 26.—C. A. Kobow threshed 52,000 bushels of wheat and oats this season, the largest yield of wheat per acre being 54 bushels on Mr. Steller's farm in Hayesville. Oats, 977 bushels from a 9 acre field on C. A. Kobow's farm. If there is sunshine this week, the threshing of clover will be finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Schwank and small daughter, Loretta, of Portland spent Sunday with Mr. Schwank's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hashebacher, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Hashebacher and son spent Sunday with Mrs. Hashebacher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Wolf, of Shaw. Mr. and Mrs. Wolf have just returned from a two months' visit in Canada.

Mrs. Richard Slaton of Coquille was called here last week by the death of her brother-in-law, George W. Dunnigan.

Mrs. Martha Wolf had as guests Sunday, her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Wolf and son-in-law and daughter, Rev. Dr. R. Peterson and Mrs. Peterson, all of Salem.

John Rutherford is attending the Oregon State college at Corvallis.

Mrs. Clem Wolf and daughters have returned from several weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Inkstrom near Hopewell. Together with relatives they spent some time at Netarts, Oceanside and Neskowin, having an interesting time with earwigs at one resort.

Mr. Hunter and sister, Mrs. Gains and daughter, Ethel of Portland are visiting Rev. Miss Luckey at the parsonage.

The community is busy picking prunes. They are slow in ripening. Those who sold to the cannery had finished soon. It will be two weeks or more before the dryers can care for the crop.

ONION ACREAGE MAKES RECORD

Largest Farm of Kind Upon Coast to be Located At Lake Labish

LABISH, Sept. 26.—Next spring will reveal Labish as the possessor of the largest single patch of big onions on the Pacific coast. This fact was brought to light yesterday by A. F. Hayes, manager of the huge Hayes' company farm. Two hundred and fifty acres, which were leased to set raisers the past season, will be utilized for Oregon Yellow Danvers. The set acreage for next year will thus be reduced to 30 acres. All of the set-raising renters' contracts expired with this year's harvest.

This news has been greeted with some satisfaction by laborers who will be aided by several experienced foremen. H. P. Hayes is the present onion foreman, managing the 65 acres raised by the company this season.

The recent showers caught a few raisers with their onions still curing in the field but the rain was so light that it did little damage. However, the few remaining in the fields are being rushed into the onion houses with great celerity since the raisers, knowing the vagaries of Jupiter Pluvius are taking no chances.

STUDENTS LEAVE TO TAKE SCHOOL WORK

HUBBARD, Ore., Sept. 26.—Miss Taletta Voigt left for Oregon State College Thursday. She will take up vocational education and major in bacteriology. Miss Voigt is a member of the class of '28 of the Hubbard high school and was valedictorian at the commencement exercises held at that time.

Since finishing high school Miss Voigt not only has assisted her father, Octave Voigt, at the Foshay Dairy farm but has also assisted at the Hubbard Creamery of which her uncle, Gardiel Voigt, is proprietor.

Miss Verna Smolinsky left for Eugene Wednesday where she will enter the Sophomore year at the University of Oregon. Miss Smolinsky is a member of the class of '28 of the Hubbard high school and will be remembered for the clever class prophesy which she gave on the night of her class commencement. Mrs. John Smolinsky took her daughter, Miss Verna, to Eugene by auto.

Gravel Plant is To Shut Down For This Year

Due to the lateness of the season the Fairfield gravel plant will be unable to operate longer this fall, and the county court will have to look elsewhere for gravel to finish the Gervais-West Woodburn road, which it had hoped to improve this year. Word was received yesterday from the Fairfield people that they would not open the plant Monday as had been planned originally.

It is reported that part of the Checkerboard market road near Gervais will also be improved this fall.

BROOKS FOLK HAVE GUESTS AT DINNER

Brooks, Sept. 26 — Charles Hardy of Molalla, was a Sunday dinner guest at the Dunlavy home in Brooks. Mr. Hardy is a cousin of Mr. Dunlavy. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Foren and children Edith, Fay and Eva Foren of Clear Lake, Miss Mary Grohng of Brownsville, Ore., and Miss Nellie Clements of Clear Lake, Mrs. Gertrude Call and her daughter, Miss Rosecellia Call of Portland, and Miss Ellen Hackitt and her brother, Robert Hackitt of Brooks.

Flouring Mill is Near Fire's Path

SILVERTON, Sept. 26.—The Silverton fire department was called out bright and early Wednesday morning to check a fire which had begun in some brush and trash outside of Fisher's Flouring mill. The origin of the fire was unknown. It was fortunate that the fire department is next door to the Flouring mill and the fire was put out before damage was done to the property.
