Music Season Begins in Earnest

The late fall and winter are the seasons when music has been wont to hold a year over a large following—it is the season for the symphony and music clubs of many types. This year Oregon is to have one more musical treat along with the other offerings. The Chamber music society which has been heard chiefly in Portland has widened its field and will be heard this winter beginning with October 8 in Pendleton; in Baker October 9; in La Grande October 10; in Salem October 14; Eugene, October 15; Corvallis, October 16; Medford October 18, and into Washington to play at Walla Walla October 24. The group will finish the tour with a concert in the lovely Spanish ballroom of the Olympic hotel in Seattle, Washington, October 25.

The Salem chamber music society was organized in June and with in a short time the subscription membership of 200 will have been completed. The society is limiting the number of members to this number because of the fact that concerts will be given chiefly in private homes.

Salem officers for the Chamber music society are Mrs. C. S. Hamilton, president; Mrs. L. E. Patterson, honorary president; Miss Sally Bush, first vice president; Miss Elizabeth Lord, second vice president; Mrs. William Lytle, secretary and treasurer.

Portland officers are president, Mrs. M. Lloyd Frank; vice president, Mrs. Robert H. Strong; secretary, Mrs. Stanley G. Jewett; directors, Mrs. L. Hawley Hoffman, Mrs. Erskine Wood, Mrs. Pat Allen, Mrs. Rogers MacVeagh, Mrs. Don McGraw, Mrs. Ralph H. Schenckeloch, Mrs. Charles E. Sears, Mrs. Ora Baker, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Spencer and Mrs. Robert Stanfield.

Mrs. Susie Fennell Pipes is the director of the group which will entertain in concert this fall. The personnel of the group is Mrs. Susie Fennell Pipes, first violin; Alexander Vovoin, a Russian who is principal violinist in the Portland symphony; violin; Ferdinand Konrad, a German of musical merit and prominent in Portland musical circles will play the cello; and Hubert Sorenson, young Portland violinist will play second violin.

In addition to the Chamber music society announcements the Portland symphony announces November 4 as the date for the first of the 15 concert dates for this winter.

The schedule is as follows: Dates for the evening series are November 4 and 25, December 16 and 30, January 13 and 27, February 3 and 17, and March 3 and 17.

The Sunday matinee concerts begin on November 17 and are scheduled December 8, January 5, February 23 and March 9.

The Portland junior symphony has also begun work and it is announced that it will give three concerts during the winter. The date for the first one has not yet been announced.

Among the Salem organizations which have announced dates is the MacDowell club which will sing October 30. Many other organizations are getting under way for concert dates.

Mrs. Brazier Small and her daughter Susan returned Monday night from California where she had been visiting her sister Mrs. Chester A. Smith in Placerville. Mrs. Small had been gone two weeks.

LAFOLLETT TRIED ON WIFE'S CHARGE

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Charles R. LaFollett, state representative from Washington county, went on trial today before a jury in Circuit Judge John Stevenson's courtroom on a charge of non-support for which he was indicted by the county grand jury August 19. He is said to have failed to provide for his estranged wife, Mary, and their four minor children, who are in her custody here.

In the midst of his trial a new phase was added to LaFollett's legal entanglements growing out of his separation from his wife when Presiding Circuit Judge Robert Tucker signed an order today requiring him to appear in court Monday to show cause why he should not be adjudged in contempt of court for failure to comply with an order by Judge Walter Evans to pay his wife $75 a month starting September 1 and $100 suit money. The payments were to have been made pending an appeal to the state supreme court of a ruling of the court holding him in contempt for refusing to comply with a previous court order to pay his wife support money. LaFollett is also faced with a divorce suit filed by his wife.

In the opening statement to the jury, Lidam O'Bryon, deputy district attorney, stated that the LaFolletts were married in Salem in 1912 when Mrs. LaFollett was 16 and Mr. LaFollett 32.

Guy C. Smith, defense counsel, stated LaFollett was willing to support his children at his home in Washington county but that he had declined to do so as long as they remained away from him.

Three new members were announced at the board meeting, William Burchardt, Curtis Cross, and Mrs. T. K. Ford.

The committee which was appointed at the last spring meeting to report on a good plan whereby money might be raised with which to furnish more rooms in the hospital reported in favor of a benefit dance. This report was accepted by the board. The committee reporting was Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. Frank Spears, and Mrs. Dan J. Fry, Jr.

Monday afternoon, October 7, there will be an open meeting for all members of the auxiliary, at 2:30 o'clock at the chamber of commerce. Committee reports and other business plans will be made at this meeting.

The auxiliary plan to start work on the furnishing of two more rooms at the hospital. One room is already furnished through the efforts of the auxiliary.

Jacob Arenz, her husband, died five years ago. She is survived by four sons, George, Edward, John and Theodore, all of Portland, and the one daughter, Mrs. Crain of Salem.

TARIFF BATTLE IS STILL CLOSE

Two Factions in Senate are Still at Loggerheads As Vote Nears

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Senate factions at loggerheads over the flexible tariff policy appeared today to be more hopeful than confident of the outcome in the first real test of strength in the tariff contest.

So close was the issue after the sixth day of debate that some senators said a tie vote might result, leaving Vice President Curtis to cast the deciding ballot. The outlook was for a vote late tomorrow or Thursday.

Nearly a dozen speeches were made during the day. Incidents of the last presidential campaign were revived. Senator Allen, republican, Kansas, speaking for flexible provisions, said he had "waited in vain for the repetition of some words of democratic leadership upon this subject which became so familiar to us all during the recent political campaign."

He said the words of John J. Raskob and Alfred E. Smith on the tariff were not reconcilable, with those now being uttered by democrats in the senate and asked whether they "were playing politics then for campaign purposes, or if they are playing politics now for party purposes."

Replying, Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, said he was sorry that Allen, by innuendo had "waved the bloody shirt of partisanship," in such a scientific discussion. He also regretted that the Kansas co-worker in the campaign (William Allen White), had not been brought forward to retract the campaign words which Tydings said had cast aspersions upon the personal character of Alfred E. Smith.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the republican leader, reiterated a belief that the vote on the flexible issue would be very close.

He indicated an effort to obtain an agreement on a time to vote would not be made until Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, arrived here tomorrow from Europe.

Reflecting the minority views, Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, predicted he had votes to withdraw the power now delegated to the president to change customs duties after investigation by the tariff commission.

He added that only one democrat, Kendrick of Wyoming—still was in the doubtful column.

The democrats conceded the republicans four or five minority votes, but hoped to more than offset these by a dozen or more republican independent ballots.
