CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 .- (AP) - Suggestions f improving prospects for bigger export did a good deal to bring about fresh up-turns in wheat values today. A larger domestic demand for flour was also re-ported, and immediate delivery of No. 2 red wheat here commanded within 3c of December delivery, the highest basis yet this season. Forsty weather in Argentina, unfavorable for the wheat crop there, acted further as a stimulus to buy. Closing quotations on wheat were un-settled, 5 8 cent to 1c to 12 c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish, corn closed unchanged to be up and oats unhanged to a shade advance.

> All Quiet on the Western Front

(Continued from Page 8.) flies. The present method of fighting from posts demands knowledge and experience; a man must have a feeling for the contours of the ground, an ear for the sound and character of the shells, must be able to decide beforehand where they will drop, how they will burst, and how to shelter from them. The young recruits of course know none of these things. They get killed simply because they can hardly tell shrapnel from high explosive, they are mown down because they are listening anxiously to the roar of the big oal boxes falling far in the rear, and miss the light, piping whistle of the low spreading little daisycutters. They flock together like sheep instead of scattering, and even the wounded are shot down like hares by the airmen. Their pale turnip faces, their pitiful clenched hands, the miserable courage of these poor devils, the desperate charges and attacks made by these poor brave devils, who are so terrified that they dare not cry out loudly, but with battered chests and torn bellies and arms and legs only whimper softly for their mothers and cease as soon as one looks at them. Their sharp, downy, deaf faces have the awful expressionlessness of dead children. It brings a lump into the throat to see how they go over and run and fall. A man would like to spank them, they are so stupid, and to take them by the arm and lead them away from here where they have no business to be. They wear gray coats and trousers and boots, but for most of them the uniform is far too big, it hangs on their limbs, their shoulders are too narrow, their bodies too slight: no uniform was ever made to these childish measurements. Between five and ten recruits fall to every old hand. A surprise gas-attack carries off a lot of them. They have not yet learned what to do. We found one dug-out full of them, with blue heads and black lips. Some of hem in a shell hole took their masks off too soon; they did not know that the gas lies longest in the hollows; when they saw others on top without masks they pulled their off too and swallowed enough to scorch their lungs. Their condition is hopeless; they choke to death with hemorrhages and suffocation.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 2 .- (AP) The Canadian department of justice has ruled formally that the government of Canada has not the power to prohibit by regulation the export of liquor to any country wherein the importation of iiquor is prohibited or restricted.

This opinion, which has partieular application to the United States, became known today when Premier MacKenzie King, after & meeting of the cabinet council. said the department of justice had been requested for a ruling on Open High Close
