PAGE TEN

The OREGON STATESMAN, Salem, Oregon, Friday Morning, October 18, 1929

'All Quiet de Western Front"

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Our stretchers stand on the rains and the station has no roof. Our covers are thin. We have waited already two hours.

The sergeant-major looks after us like a mother. Although I feel pretty had I do not let our scheme out of my mind. Occasionally I let him see the packet and give him one cigar in advance. In exchange the sergeant-major covers us over with a waterproof sheet.

"Albert, old man. I suddenly bethink myself, our four-poster and the cat-'

"And the club chairs," he adds. Yes, the club chairs with red plush. In the evening we used to sit in them like lords, and intended later on to let them out by the hour. One cigaret per hour. It might have turned into a regular business, a real good living.

"And our bags of grub, too, Albert."

We grow melancholy. We might have made some use of the things. If only the train left one day later Kat would be sure to find us and bring us the stuff.

What damned hard luck! In our bellies there is gruel, mean hoscannot work up any more excitement about it.

The stretchers are sopping wet by the time the train arrives in grees. the morning. The sergeant-major sees to it that we are put in the the bed above him.

"Good God!" I exclaim suddenly.

"What is it?" asks the sister. I cast a glance at the bed. It is opened if it can be avoided. covered with clean snow-white linen, that even has the marks of the iron still on it. And my shirt has gone six weeks without being washed and is terriby muddy.

"Can't you get in by yourself?" asks the sister gently.

"but take off the bed cover first." "What for?"

I feel like a pig. Must I get in amongst them. We do not get exthere ?-- "It will get -- " I hesitate. | amined today because there are "A little bit dirty?' she suggests | too few surgeons. The flat trolleys helpfully. "That doesn't matter, with the rubber wheels pass conwe will wash it again afterwards."

"No, no, not that-" I say ex- always with someone stretched at citedly. I am not equal to such overwhelming refinement. "When you have been lying out there in the trenches, surely we can wash a sheet," she goes on.

in some way even alarmed.

All the same the woman is a to us: "Up here in the corridor tormentor, she is going to force every morning the sisters say me to say it. "It is only-" I try prayers. They call it morning deagain, surely she must know what votion. And so that you can get I mean.

"What is it then?"

Albert is feverish. I feel miserable and have a good deal of pain, platform. We wait for the train. It but the worst of it is that apparently there are still lice under the plaster bandage. They itch terribly, and I cannot scratch myself.

We sleep through the days. The country glides quietly past the window. The third night we reach Herbstal. I hear from the sister that Albert is to be put off at the next station because of his fever. "How far does the train go." I ask.

"To Cologne." "Albert," I say, "we stick together; you see.

On the sister's flext round I into my head. My face swells and something fly." turns red. She stops. Are you in pain?" "Yes," I groan "all of a sudden."

She gives me a thermometer and goes on. I would not have been under Kat's tuition if I did not know what to do now. These arym thermometers are not made for old soldiers. All one has to do is to drive the quicksilver up and then it stays there without falling again.

I stick the thermometer under my arm at a slant, and flip it steapital stuff, and in our bags roast dily with my forefinger. Then I pork. But we are so weak that we give it a shake. I send it up to 100.02 degrees. But that is not enough. A match held cautiously near to it brings it up to 101.6 de-

As the sister comes back, I blow myself out, breathe in short gasps same car. There is a crowd of Red goggle at her with vacant eyes, Cross nurses. Kropp is stowed in toss about restlessly, and mutter below. I am lifted up and put into in a whisper: "I can't bear it any longer-' She notes me down on a slip of paper. I know perfectly well my plaster bandage will not be re-Albert and I are put off together.

We are in the same room in a Catholic hospital. That is a piece of luck, the Catholic infirmaries are noted for their good treatment "Why yes," I say in a sweat, and good food. The hospital has been filled up from our train, there are a great many bad cases

POLLY AND HER PALS tinually along the corridor, and full length like that;-the only time it is good is when one is asleep.

The night is very distrubed. No one can sleep. Toward morning I look at her, she is young and we doze a little. I wake up just as crisp, spotless and neat, like ev- it grows light. The door stands erything here; a man cannot open and I hear voices from the realize that it isn't for officers corridor. The others wake up too. only, and feels himself strange and One fellow who has been there a couple days already, explains it your share, they leave the door

"But we want to go on sleeping_'

"Prayer is better than sleep, she stands there and smiles inno-"And it is seven o'clock cently. pleases. already."

Albert groans again. "Shut the door," I snort, She is quite disconcerted. Apparently she cannot understand. 'But we are saying prayers for you too!"

"Shut the door, anyway." She disappears, leaving the door open. The intoning of the Litany proceeds.

I feel savage, and say: "I'm going to count up to three. If it hold my breath and press it up doesn't stop before then I'll let now risk anything. "Me, too," says another. I count up to five. Then I take hold of a bottle, aim, and heave it through the door into the corridor. It smashes into a thousand pieces. The praying stops.

swarm of sisters approach and reproach us in concert. "Shut the door!" we yell.

They withdraw. The little one who came first is the last to go. 'Heathen," she chirps, but shuts the door all the same. We have won. At noon the hospital inspector arrives and abuses us. He threatens us with clink and all the rest of it. But a hospital inspector is just the same as a commisariat inpector or anyone else who wears a long dagger and shoulder straps. but it is really a clerk, and is never considered even by a recruit as a real officer. So we let him talk. What can they do to us. anyway-Who threw the bottle?" he asks

Before I can think whether I report myself, someone should says, 'I did." A man with a bristling beard sits up. Everyone is excited; why should he report himself? "You?"

"Yes. I was annoyed because we were waked up unnecessarily posits. and lost my senses so that I did

He talks like a book. "What is your name?"

RULES!

DOD

"Reinforcement Reservist Josef | acreage.

We are all curious. "But why did you say you did it? It wasn't you at all!" He grins, "That doesn't matter. I have a shooting license." Then, of course, we all understand. Whoever has a shooting license can do just whatever he

"Yes," he explains, "I got a SAN FRANCISCO (AP)-In an crack in the head and they presented me with a certificate to nese hospital has won its way into say that I was periodically not re- the confidence and respect of Chisponsible for my actions. Ever natown. since then I've had a grand time.

No one dares to annoy me. And -it was goo denough to get an nobody does anything to me." "I reported myself because the shot amused me. If they open the door again tomorrow we will isfaction of the oriental mind.

We are overjoyed. With Josef Hamacher in our midst we can trollies to take us away. The bandages are stuck fast. We bellow like steers.

(To be continued.)

pitch another."

OACOMA, S. D. (AP)-Manganese ore, indispensable to the steel industry, has been found in such quantities along the Missouri river in South Dakota that engineers believe the deposits will of foreign mines. The manganese bed near here

It is believed sufficient to meet the needs of the nation's steel mills, which now use 850,000 tons yearly, about 95 per cent of which is imported from Russia, India,

Africa and Brazil. Mining operations are to be not know what I was doing.'

SPOSE Y'KNOW THAT ARMOR

AINT ACCORDIN' TO QUEENSBERRY

LISTEN, IF IM GONNA

TO A GORILLA, ILL T

MAKE ME OWN

BE SPARRIN' PARTNER

RULES!

DUNNO,

SHORTY I

SORTA THINK-

P

By W. A. WELLS (A. P. Feature Service Writer)

uphill battle, America's only Chi-From the start-four years ago

"A" rating from the American Hospital association but there were a lot of questions that remained to be answered to the sat-

In that transplanted colony of some 14,000 souls there was faith in the prowess of the herbalist in

Then came the soundless, flat drawing poisons from wounds and treating gangrene. The disciple of the old country school of medicine wanted to avenue as bald headed Indians.

say, that there are few Chinese it gathered momentum. engaged in hazardous occupations and that the herbalist is given to preserving a limb in withered form although it were better sevpatient dies in preference to parting with any part of his anatomy, plugged along treating the ailing made up of one man from each of and trying to improve the sanitary the 38 police precincts. The ofmake the steel mills independent and eugenic conditions of the col-

Perhaps the greatest opportunthe largest in North America. ity to win converts came when sional storms over its conduct as the mother of twins died and the a "model for the nation.' the lathospital assumed the responsibil- est charges of lax prohibition enity of rearing them.

mascots, Douglas and Edwin, have ell of Nebraska. become the pride of Chinatown. In the tag end of a speech on

WELL

TINK

FAST

I AINT

GOT ALL

DAY!

carried along from the surface, clock, consume calories by the prohibition was not being enforced bay where contraband might be similar to the open-face pits of the northern Minnesota iron de- the most approved manner.

Physicians have pronounced upon it. He amended his state-One company has leased land them 100 per cent perfect, physi- ment, saying his was not attackbelieved to hold from 100,000,000 cally and mentally and Chinatown ing the administration. to 300,000,000 tons of mangan- has taken them to its heart.

ese. Other companies held smaller Their vigorous health has helped ator's statement seriously impugn- per behind their hands "embassy establish the value of scientific ed the good faith and capacity of stuff. It's good."

"Coca Gives Shorty The Floor"

pital. The institution is manued almost 100 per cent by Chinese. Perry Newton Ho, an American educated Chinese, in the superintendent method of rearing children in the minds of the local Chinese and has given them confidence in the hos-> plans. kitchen. She was very "Eating in the kitchen, was a sym-bol. It indicated a decline in the ment, on floors and walls, with gay bol. It indicated a decline in the ment, on floors and walls, with elegancies-a sort of domestic slump, cretonnes at the window. may like getting slatternly after the first very attractive spots. So called

WASHINGTON - (AP) - Ony 48 of the 1,500 policemen in the national capital have authority to enforce the prohibition law. The reason is that District of Columbia, unlike the various states which cloak their civil officers with the powers of a prohibition agent, has no prohibition code

That condition has been know why one-legged people were brought to attention as the Capinumerous in other sections of the | tal Hill charges of lax enforcecity but as scarce along Grant ment of dry law in Washington stirred up a controversy that di-Where they might have an- rectly brought President Hoover swered, American physicians into and echoed and re-eoched as

Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, observes that whenever an ordinary policeman arrests a prohibition offender his ered, or even that often times the authority is attacked. It has become customary for the officer to turn his evidence over to one of the management of the hospital the "liquor squads" which are ficer takes the role of prosecuting witness.

facts" before the department of Constantly buffeted by congresjustice. forcement in Washington were put These one-year-old hospital into circulation by Senator How-

They sleep and awake by the another subject he asserted that count and exercise and play in in the capital and said it would landed are not far distant. be if the chief executive insisted > though the liquor they peddle The president declared the sen- was made in a cellar, they whis-

Hamburger Ruling Controversies over dry law en-It is a violation of the pure food forcement are not new in the capital. It was not long ago that act to mix horse meat with hamburger, and sell the same as hama stir was created when police shot a man in a rum running epiburger, according to a legal opinsode. Then too, the port of Balti- ion prepared by Attorney General more and coves along Chesapeake | Van Winkle here Thursday. The opinion was requested by Dr. W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian. It And the bootleggers have a was said that several violations were reported in Portland. sales talk for the guillible that doesn't go anywhere else. Even

Half the butter produced in the United States comes from Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Home-Making Helps By ELEANOR ROSS.

The Many Advantages of the Kitchen-Dining-Room.

five years of married life. "We're always going to have a properly set table, and a dining room and nice linen and a few flowers." the kitchen delightfully. Or bright

she continued, dreamily gazing into tablecloths with napkins to match the linen-having just emerged well as adequate for simple home from an overwhelming shower of service for two.

circle of affectionate friends. And by its once humble position as the least the time she has completed her attractive room in the house. In

For nowadays the best people do fully selected, actually are the most it is quite sure to have as an ad- ture has the stand-offish air that junct a "breakfast nook"--which is sometimes chings to the more elegant merely a built-in table flanked by items in the living-rooms of a house

But this equipment is in the kitchen sure to be used for serving some and the only partition may be the meals, and it is comparatively easy

It's an excellent arrangement for table of sufficient size, on custors, those who do little entertaining and, so that it may be rolled out of sight thus do not actually require a sep- when not in use, may be kept perma-arate, well-fitted dining-room, but nently in the kitchen for dining purwho do eat at home sufficiently poses only. This is more convenient often to want comfortable serving than covering the ordinary kitchen arrangements. Especially is this a table with a cloth-for the kitchen great convenience in the servantless table may be required during the ousehold. If there's no maid to meal for cutting, serving and so on.

district authorities and invited Horse Meat Not in the very expensive apart- attractive rooms. They have a

She was safe enough about are informal and cheerful-dainty as itself, the sight need not be an un kitchen sets consisting of a little

The kitchen has graduated from pleasant used look. but are shiningly

If the kitchen is large it is almost to arrange to do it charmingly. A immaculate, and none of the furni probably fact, many of our kitchens, equipped the lowly with modern labor savers, and with color schemes and decorations care positive about it. esthetic one. Our modern kitchene

WO things I'll never de serve courses or change dishes. it's scend to," said the newly exceedingly awkward for the house wife to travel between kitchen and engaged Young Person, dining-room - and this is mitigated eagerly discussing her housekeeping somewhat by the kitchen-dining "I'll never wear gingham room combination. Incidentally, even in those houses aprons, and we're never going to where there isn't the dining alcove have any meal whatsoever in the and a table is laid in the kitchen five years of married life.

modify her views about habit of eating in the kitchen.

linens and laces presented by a large apartment hunt, she will probably ments where space is carefully meas-used out, if there's a kitchen at al!

high-backed benches on both sides.

space.

settle backs.

"Because of the lice," I bawl No doubt it is well meant, but out at last. it gives us aches in our heads and She laughs, "Well, they must bones.

have a good day for once, too." Now I don't care any more. I scramble into bed and pull up the sleep.'

cover. The sergeant-major. goes off with the cigars. An hour later we notice that we are moving.

At night I cannot sleep. Kropp realize it all yet; a bed, a train, home.

The train travels slowly. Some times it halts and the dead are un- why the door is open," she reloaded. It halts often.

"Such an absurdity!" I say, "just when a man dropped off to He "All the light cases are up here, that's why they do it here," he replies. Albert groans, I get furious and call out: "Be quiet out there!"

A minute later a sister apis restless, too. The train rides pears. In her black and white easily over the rails. I cannot dress she looks like a beautiful tea-cosy. "Shut the wood, will you, sister?" says someone.

"We are saying prayers, that is sponds.

YOU-AND ACCEPTED STANDARDS OF HEALTH

If You Seem Otherwise Fairly Normal and Feel Well, Says Dr. Copeland, it Means Nothing that Your Health Rating Differs from Average.

> By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

HERE is no rule of thumb to determine for a certainty whether you are a healthy person. Science has not determined and fixed exact standards. After the examination of a large number of persons, certain averages have been established. These are pretty generally accepted as approximating the truth. The great life insurance companies appointed a committee to examine a half million insurance policies and the circumstances relating to the life history of the policyholders. Ages at death, ages of those living, weights and heights, family histories—all the many facts relating to the physical history and habits of this great army were inquired into and made the basis for a remarkable report. Out of this grew tables of standards. standards.

One thing you must not forget if you do not measure up to these standards. If you are above or below height or weight, if your pulse rate does not conform, etc., you must not worry. If you seem otherwise fairly normal, it means little that you differ from the average. The test of the pudding is in the eating. After all, the best test of your degree of health is your ability to do a day's work without undue

DR COPELAND is your ability to do a day's work without undue fatigue, to eat three good meals a day and to get up rested after decent sleep.

It is not tremendously important to know your height, weight, pulse rate and temperature. What is "normal" for you may be nal for me

If your pulse is habitually slow or habitually fast, if your temper-ture is habitually low or habitually high-these facts mean hitle, prohigh—these facts mean little, pro-vided you feel well and go cheerfully about your affairs, doing your work casily. The individual element tells the story better than any accepted "standards."

Of course, we have gone so far a our standardization that we are in our standardization that we are on pretty safe ground to accept the averages as essentially correct. But if you happen to fall short of the average you need not feel alarm and begin to picture just when your approaching end will arrive.

I have known many men and women who did not conform to the accepted standards, but who lived far beyond their "allotted time." the threescore years and ten. You need not worry because you are "ab-

By simple living, by observing the rules of hygiene, even with a frail foundation, you can realize the nor-mal expectations of life. A very slight and weak person may outlive a "husky." There are many factors associated with long life, besides those considered in fixing "stan-blood pressure and female organs? A .- It has a tonic effect. C. P. F. Q .- What causes lichy scalp and falling hair?

A.—This may be due to dandruff. Shampoo the hair frequently, also brush daily and use a good tonic. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and re-peat your question.

peat your question. M. L. T. Q.-Hew can I remove wart son the hand?

A.—Apply vaseline to the area sur-rounding the warts. Then apply glacial acetic acid to the warts and be careful not to get the acid on the skin. Repeat this treatment for four days.

A Constant Reader. Q .- Can a person aged fourteen, have cancer of the breast?

A.-Very unlikely. An examina-tion will determine any trouble which may be present. E. D. L. Q .-- What

TILLIE, THE TOILER

DET THIS, TOM - 1M

GETTING TOO BIG FOR

THIS JOB - IT'S LIKE

AFTER YOU LEARN IT

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

ANSWER 13

By BEN BATSFORD

"Unidentified!"

TOOTS AND CASPER

"The Mystery Is Unexpectedly Explained."

By JIMMY MURPHY

