ting the roof on now," Donnelly said he told him. "And you'd better hold down here. We'll need you to help get going on the holiday rush."

Donnelly said that Lillian, apparently thinking he was talking to one of his associates, agreed to come. Agents said they did not know where Al Lillian was.

While New Jersey federal men studied the little black potbooke and described incidents that occurred during the 32 simultaneous raids, U. S. Attorney Charles H. Tuttle and Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert B. Watts in New York declared that the syndicate had foreign agencies in England, Canada, and elsewhere, and held virtual monopoly on all liquor smuggling from Maine to the Virginia capes.

Watts declared that two large New Jersey banks were involved as the ring's financial backers. These banks, he said, put up big sums of money which were used by the smugglers to purchase enormous amounts of Scotch Whiskey in England.

Number of Attorneys Declared Involved

Watts also said the government has evidence that several prominent and highly respected lawyers had received large fees for services rendered the ring and indictments will be sought against them. He said several coast guard officers were involved in the rips.

All of the nearly 20 men arrested in last night's simultaneous raids were arraigned today, five of them here before U. S. Commissioner Garrett W. Gutter, and the rest in Trenton, N. J.

Rail ranged from $2,500 demanded for a defendant charged with being an ordinary benchman to $30,000 set in the case of Malcolm McMaster, charged with having been the operator of the syndicate's radio station.

CHARGES AGAINST LINDSEY REFUTED

DENVER, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Charges that disbarment proceedings against former Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver in connection with his acceptance of a sum of money from Mrs. Elen Edwood Stokes, divorced from the late W. E. D. Stokes, were prompted by personal malice, were voiced today by his attorney before the state supreme court.

"Former District Attorney Philip Van Cise out of personal grudge against Judge Lindsey instigated these proceedings on the flimsiest of technicalities which have no basis in justice or in law," declared Philip Hornbels, representing the former federal judge.

He then said the Judge Lindsey accepted a fee from Mrs. Stokes for services in behalf of her children, James E. Stokes and Muriel Stokes, only after the procedure had been approved by the Denver bar. The lawyer's services performed, he said, were in New York beyond the jurisdiction of the Colorado court and Judge Lindsey was within his rights in accepting a fee for such services.

disregarded by the high school principal and students here. An "E" which was presumed to have found its way north from Eugene, was still visible Monday morning at the east door of the local school. School janitors scraped away the smearing here.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Eugene high school building some time last night was daubed with the letters "S. H. S." and the name "Salem." Wall and windows all around the building were smeared. This is the second time the incident has occurred during the last several weeks and Principal Harry Johnson has communicated with Principal Fred Wolf of the Salem high school to make an investigation to ascertain whether the Vandals were from that school.

Firing on Canadian Vessel By Yankee Coast Guard to Bring Many Complications

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The firing by the coast guard last month on the Canadian ship Shawnee, which was mentioned by Assistant Secretary Lowman as a member of the smuggling fleet of the liquor ring uncovered by raids along the Atlantic coast last night, has become the subject of diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Canada.

Acting on instructions from Ottawa, the Canadian legation here has asked the state department for a report on firing September 11, by patrol boat 146, on the Shawnee of New York harbor. The legation also submitted to the department the version of the incident as furnished to the Canadian government by Captain John MacLeod, of the Shawnee.

Assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement Lowman said the Shawnee was a member of the smuggling fleet, the heads of which were the object of raids extending from New York to Atlantic City, N. J. He said it had been sighted off Ambrose light running without lights on the occasion of the firing.

The affidavit of Captain MacLeod alleged the Shawnee was fired upon 17 miles off the American coast. After he had replied to the challenge of the coast guard vessel by hoisting a British flag, he further said he had never been able to make more than 12 knots an hour with his vessel, and that he was therefore outside the "one hour's sailing distance," from shore provided in the rum smuggling treaty as the boundary for coast guard operations with suspected vessels.

attended school in Farmington, Conn., and spent two years in Europe and played in amateur athletic circles. She went to Atlantic City, N. J., for a week's stay and won minor part as an act in "Thunder of the Air," which opened Monday as the premier production of the newly formed dramatic league of Chicago. The role called for only a few spoken lines, but Miss Harding gave a hint of dramatic possibilities, the producer said.

"I do not want any publicity," Miss Harding told a caller. "I intend to leave immediately. I want my work to be judged on its merits alone. I simply will not have people come to stare at me because they have found out who I am."

Oregon Students Invade Portland For Idaho Game

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Students of the University of Oregon are preparing for a big removal to Portland Friday and Saturday to see the Oregon football team battle Idaho on Multnomah stadium field Saturday afternoon. Special trains will go north Friday and Saturday while many will travel to the game in automobiles. Those who take their "campus filfers" will have a chance to win a $10 prize, to be given the most characteristic Oregon car which appears in the rally parade to be held Saturday afternoon.

School Children Get Taste of War

Pupils in the Swegle school, on rural route six out of Salem, had a brief taste of what war might be like, when they were bombarded with birdshot just before dismissal time. An unidentified pheasant hunter fired a charge of shot which struck the building, entering the schoolroom through open windows. None of the pupils was hit, although all were considerably frightened.

HEIRESS RESIGNS AS $40 WEEK ACTRESS

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A heiress to $7,000,000 quit a Chicago stage today because the public found out who she was.

Laura Harding, 22-year-old daughter of the late J. Horace Harding, New York banker and chairman of the American Railway Express company, had had a three day debut in a forty dollar a week role when her identity became known.

She picked up a telephone, expressed her displeasure to the theatrical press agent she supposed had given her away and announced that she would not appear in the cast tonight. She said she would return to New York.

Harding decided to try her talent on the stage after the death of her father last spring. She had home but "four or five times."

Reading the grand jury transcript disclosed no direct proof of the witness' previous statement that he had told Pitts of the alleged visits of Duncav, the examination at that time having been directed solely by Deputy District Attorney Robert P. Stewart.

Witness Has Trouble Recalling Story

Zlaket's memory was faulty on dates of Duncav's trip to Garden Grove and when Pitts gave him the opportunity to pick any one of seven months between February and August, 1928, to fix a time, Zlaket consistently replied, "I don't recall." Once, in exasperation, the witness reported: "You know, I tend to my own business down there."

A further perusal of the grand jury transcript showed Zlaket's meeting with Pantages was arranged by a Mr. Cleary, a grocery salesman, after some hesitancy on the part of the witness in making the trip here.

Zlaket said before the grand jury the only indictment he had ever heard of Miss Pringle's character came from a neighbor, Mrs. Mildred Zeiler, who told his wife that she had heard the girl had broken up a home. Zlaket said he never learned the names of the husband and wife involved.

FLATHEAD POWER SITE NOW ARGUED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Controversy over disposal of coal of the Flathead river power site, owned by Indians of the Flathead reservation in Montana, developed today with the making public by Chairman Frazier of the Senate Indian affairs committee of a letter to F. E. Bonner, executive secretary of the federal power commission.

Quoting a telegram from Caville Dupuis, president of the Flathead tribal council, which said the commissioner's notice for a hearing on October 23 "seems to foreclose us" from investigating the application by the Rocky Mountain Power company for the power site, Frazier inquired whether Bonner had "tentatively denied the application of one of the applicants and granted the application of the other before a hearing could be held."

Frazier added that "this is a most unusual proceeding and contrary to my understanding of the purpose of this hearing."
