Attention to be Given Improvement of Inland Waterways
Jaunt to be First Long One Since Being Inaugurated to Office

By RAYMOND Z. HENLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—President Hoover will leave Washington tomorrow for a five-day trip into the middle west on a mission which will emphasize American achievement and domestic expansion by improvement of inland waterways.

This will be Mr. Hoover's first extended trip out of Washington since he became president. Except for his regular trips to his Rapidan River fishing camp, he has not spent a night away from the White House since March 4. Setting out for Detroit tomorrow evening, the president will speak at the 50th anniversary of Edison's discovery of the incandescent electric lamp at Dearborn, just outside the Michigan metropolis, where he also will dedicate a laboratory erected by Henry Ford to be known as the Edison Institute of technology.

From Dearborn, Mr. Hoover goes to Cincinnati to dedicate a monument in Eden Park, commemorating the completion of the canalization of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, Ill. Wednesday evening at Louisville, the president will outline the progress and future possibilities of America's inland waterway system.

From states—Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky—will participate in making a full program for the president throughout the trip. This schedule calls for a public reception in Detroit by Governor Green of Michigan and a brief stop at Madison, Ind., on the way to Louisville where Governor Leslie of Indiana will extend greeting.

The president will be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, Secretary Good, and one of his secretaries, George A. Kerson. From Washington to Cincinnati, Mr. Hoover will have as his guest, Representative Charles A. Eaton, who represents the New Jersey district in which Edison lives. Speaker Longworth, who represents the Cincinnati district, will accompany the president from Cincinnati to Louisville.

Other members of the party will be Captain Allen Buchanan, U. S. N., and Lieutenant-Colonel C. Hodges, U. S. A., naval and military aides; Lieutenant-Commander Joseph W. Beason, U. S. N., White House physician; and a company of 42 newspaper writers and photographers.

CONCORD, N. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—After forty-five minutes' deliberation, a Cabarrus county jury this afternoon acquitted the four men on trial here on charges growing out of the kidnapping and flogging of Ben Wells, British communist textile organizer.

The jury reached its decision on the fifth ballot and reported to Judge A. M. Stack that O. G. Moorehead, Carl Holloway, Dewey Carver and Horace Lane, all of Gastonia, were not guilty of taking Wells and two other organizers from a Gastonia rooming house and beating Wells at a spot near Concord, almost 50 miles distant.

FRANCE OPPOSED TO SUBS ABOLISHMENT

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Absolute opposition to the abolition of submarines as defensive weapons of war and the interdependency of the problems of limiting naval, aerial and land armaments inside the scope of a general disarmament agreement were two principles for which the French delegation to the naval disarmament conference in London next January will probably stand unflinchingly.

Export Debenture Plan is Incorporated Into Tariff Measure by U. S. Senate

By HOWARD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Despite President Hoover's emphatic objection to the export debenture plan of farm relief, the senate approved it today for the third time since the special session began and the bounty provision now rests in the tariff bill.

Twice the senate inserted the controversial proposal in the farm relief measure by a margin of three votes but receded in the face of an overwhelming ballot against it in the house. The victory today for the democratic-western republican coalition was by a majority of eight—42 to 34.

SOVIET PLANE PASSES OVER PRATUM AREA

Russian Aviators Fly Near Salem on Trip South To Oakland
Thousands Cheer Welcome To Birdmen on Arrival At Airport

PRATUM, Oct. 19.—(Special)—An immense airplane recognized as the "Land of the Soviets," on its way from Vancouver, Wash., to Oakland, Cal., enroute from Russia to New York passed over this city at 9:20 o'clock this morning. The machine was flying high and was headed almost directly south.

OAKLAND AIRPORT, Cal., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Russian plane "Land of the Soviets" spiraled down to a perfect landing here at 3:10 p.m., today, completing the Seattle-Oakland leg of the good-will flight from Moscow to New York. The flight was interrupted yesterday when oil line trouble forced them to return to Vancouver, Washington. The distance from Vancouver to here is slightly more than 500 miles.

Thousands Cheer as Plane Taxes Into Place
The plane was taxied to the administration building amid cheers of thousands and the hymns of the Russian choir from San Francisco, and shouts in Russian of "long live the Soviet fliers" and "welcome to California."

When the low-flying monoplane touched the ground the crowd broke the ropes, swept past the guards and rushed the plane. Airport attendants said they had seen nothing like it since Col. Charles Lindbergh's first visit here following his flight to Paris. The fliers stood up in the cockpit of the plane in front of the administration building, smiling down at the crowd, and waited until the first burst of enthusiasm had died away before they stepped to the ground.

Ben Taylor Back After Long Jaunt

B. P. Taylor of Salem has just returned from a "rim trip" around the United States. In the space of a month he made the circuit of the U. S. A. by rail, stopping in many of the principal cities. In Washington he called on Senator McNary and on Jefferson Meyers of the shipping board. Meyers told Taylor that Oregon ought to return McNary to the senate, for his splendid service to the farming interests.

About the best farming country in the world was the dairyland section of New York state. There were signs of much prosperity there which were not apparent in other states. As good corn grows in Salem as anywhere else that he saw, was Mr. Taylor's comment.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Federal enforcement and prosecution forces today settled down to search out members of the gigantic liquor syndicate who eluded them during synchronized raids Wednesday which broke up the $1,000,000 organization.

William J. Calhoun, New Jersey prohibition administrator, who acted as field general of an army of more than 25 officers in the raids expected the surrender soon of William Lillien, of Newark, and Al Lillien and James Murphy of Asburk Park, alleged "big three" of the broken rum ring. In addition, the administrator said he expected the indictment of other leaders, not named in the indictments returned last week in Trenton.

Paving Program Will Be Carried Through Rapidly

Good weather the last few days has practically guaranteed the completion of this year's paving program in Salem, it was stated Saturday by Walter Low, street commissioner. The stretch of paving to be done on Broadway is the only one in question. Paving was proceeding there Friday and Saturday under difficulties, it being necessary to use planks in order to move the material. No paving was done Thursday on account of the rain Wednesday and that morning.

The only other unit of paving remaining to be done is on North Front street, a stretch of seven blocks, but this is being prepared for paving and will probably be completed, as soil conditions there are more favorable.

BLAME PLACED FOR SINKING OF VESSEL

Officers on Both Colliding Ships Held Negligent in Catastrophe

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Blame for the sinking of the coastwise passenger steamer San Juan with a loss of more than 70 lives August 29, was officially placed on the shoulders of three ships' officers by U. S. steamboat inspectors here late today. Captain Adolph F. Asplund, master of the San Juan, who went down with his ship, was held equally responsible with his third officer, Robert Papenfuss, and Otto Saunders, third officer of the Standard Oil tanker S. C. T. Dodd, which rammed the passenger vessel off the Santa Cruz coast.

The penalty imposed on Papenfuss is the most severe within the power of the local inspectors. Because of his error in sending the San Juan across the course of the tanker, for his failure to call Captain Asplund to the bridge and for reversing engines of his vessel, the inspectors ruled, Papenfuss must permanently lose his license as mate of steam and master of sail. He can never again hold a post of responsibility on an American steamer.

Saunders was penalized by a year's suspension of license for failing to sound the Dodd's whistle in a fog and because he did not reduce the vessel's speed in a fog. He was also criticized because he did not call Captain Huog Bleumchen, of the tanker, to the bridge.

Mayor To Lose High Authority

High Handed System Resented by Independent Faction of Council
Halt to be Called in Practice of Naming Friends On Committees

Steps to deprive Mayor T. A. Livesley of the "whip" which he has been in the habit of cracking once a year in order to force recalcitrant councilmen into line behind his policies, are likely to be launched at Monday night's council meeting, it was indicated Saturday.

The "whip" referred to is the mayor's power of making committee appointments. The "independent party" in the council is planning to introduce a resolution proposing a change in its rules, so that committee appointments will be proposed by a committee on committees, elected by the council, its recommendations to be subject to a vote of the council as a whole.

This drastic change was proposed following the last meeting, at which the mayor's selections for the newly created incinerator committee were announced although the mayor himself was absent. Wishes of Majority Deliberately Flouted

The group appointed was chosen from among the mayor's friends on the council, and the former members of the plumbing committee, which was eliminated to make room for the incinerator committee, were ignored. The resolution providing for the change had suggested that these aldermen be retained on the new committee.

The result was that two aldermen were left with places on only one committee each. This was the overt act which stirred the independents to action, although there has been friction over the matter of committee appointments ever since Mr. Livesley took office. Members of the council objected to his practice of withholding the appointments until after the council had elected the city officers whom the mayor favored.

Until the present year, the county has been the lowest contributor to the support of the demonstration. Let us look at the local financial assistance given to help put over the program for which the Commonwealth Fund is spending some $300,000.
