High Handed System Resented by Independent Faction of Council

er the proposed budget recently prepared by the ways and means committee.

The amendment to the zoning ordinance granting to T. W. Campbell a change of zone for one lot on North 24th street, will be up for renewed consideration. It was vetoed last week by the majority of the council.

Aldermen who voted for it at the last meeting, take the position that they had no other course open to them, as Mr. Campbell's petition carried signatures of more than the required percentage of property owners affected. However, the fate of the ordinance is uncertain, as it requires a two thirds vote to override the mayor's veto.

Two aldermen voted against it when it was passed two weeks ago.

Bids were called at the last meeting on $53,456.92 worth of Bancroft bonds, and will be opened at this meeting.

banquet was held in the church dining room. Members of the Central Booster club of Salem served the banquet, over which presided J. Weigelt of The Dalles. William E. Salsmann of Portland, convention song leader, led the group of young people in peppy songs at the supper.

Following the banquet, the annual "night of fun" was held in the church, with the Central Booster group directing the presentation of stunts from each town represented.

Out-of-town registration had not reached 100 persons last night, however additional delegates and visitors are expected for today, the last day of the convention.

Rev. G. K. Andeen of Astoria, and prominent western Lutheran leader, will deliver the three main addresses today, speaking at the morning sermon on "In the Way with the Master," at 3 o'clock this afternoon on "A Message," and also at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

VOLCANO ERUPTS FOR THIRD-TIME

FORT-DE-FRANCE, Martinique, Oct. 19.—(AP)—After a day of calm on Mont Pelee yesterday, a third eruption, stronger than the two preceding ones, occurred early in the morning, the director of the volcano observatory announced.

Gas and ashes were thrown out and flashes of light lasted for ten minutes. Intermittent rumblings and bursts of white steam accompanied the eruption.

The activity occurred on that part of the cone which cominates the lava flows of the disastrous 1902 and 1903 eruptions.

The village of Precheur already has been evacuated, and most of its inhabitants came to Fort-De-France recently.

The governor has taken the necessary measures for the safety of all the inhabitants in the region of the volcano.

Plaintiffs Lose Motion in Court

Judge Kelly overruled the motions of plaintiffs in the cases of Frank Minto, Charles Vick and W. C. Winslow vs. F. A. Elliott, state forester. These are the cases growing out of the forester's order which put to work fighting forest fires these three Salem men who were sojourning in Douglas county. Each brought suit for $15,000 against the state forester. The motions were to require the defendant to make more definite and certain his reply to plaintiffs' complaints. Plaintiffs are now given five days in which to plead further.

Indian Does Fine Dance At Theatre

By OLIVE M. DOAK

"Eddie, the manager wants you to do the same thing that you did this afternoon." It was back stage at the Elsinore theatre Saturday night and Eddie was one of the Three Gobs, colored boys, by name—Sunny, Eddie and Eddie who took three encores a few minutes before with an original act that had the merit of being both amusing and clever.

Standing near him was Fernine of the team of Fernine and Loris, who present an Astec Indian dance on the Fanchon and Marco bill today. I went back stage to talk to a girl but I found my quest to be Fernine, a man of no particular age, slim, small, a face whose lines are classic. When he spoke his accent defied identification, except that it had the soft roll of the romantic south.

In the few minutes snatched conversation he said: "I am half Astec and half Mexican. I can not remember when I did not know how to dance these dances. Yes, I have been on the stage a long time. I have appeared many times in Washington, D. C., doing special features when the Mexican ambassador entertained. The music which accompanies our act here was written by Gome Andre and is the real music of my people." And with charming courtesy he was gone.

Fernine and Loris are not only exceptionally fine, but they have a spectacular chorus back ground and outstanding music for their native dance, "Praying for Rain." Two acrobatic dancers, Marie and Mildred, do some unusual work with this chorus. The whole act is led by a very good soloist.

Charley Rozell is the comedy for the show. The antics he performs with his "bassoon" are quite effective mirth-provokers.

As to the feature picture—its Irish broght—which becomes badly mixed with Anglo Saxon on occasion, piety and love. Colleen Moore's giggle may be Irish—if it is, no wonder we hear only of the "Irish smiles." There is much musical ability in the main characters which when displayed is really quite pleasing, but for the most part it is to be feared the director did not take time enough to iron out the American in an Irish picture.

Complain Against Peddler Nuisance

Women Say Peddlers Are Unusually Active Now

Bothered for years by house to house solicitors selling almost every conceivable article of merchandise, local housewives are complaining of the increasing number of calls being made on them this fall by people selling Christmas cards.

Seldom do these solicitors represent local merchants. When they do housewives don't object to their calling.

As one indignant lady put it, "When every Tom, Dick and Harry goes into the Christmas card business and camps on my front porch day after day, keeping me from my work, I get tired of it."

"It doesn't seem to me that it is quite fair to our local merchants to allow such people to sell cards when they pay no taxes or license fee for the privilege. It's bound to hurt the merchant's business and anything which hurts local business doesn't do the town any good."

"I, for one, am going to buy my cards from a regular card dealer, just as I did last year. So all these Christmas card peddlers can strike my name off their list of prospects. It'll save them a lot of time and me a lot of bother."

ATLANTIC ZEPPELIN SERVICE PROJECTED

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The New York Herald Tribune tomorrow will say the day of regular Zeppelin service, carrying passengers, mail and possibly small package freight, has been brought nearer by the incorporation in Delaware yesterday of the International Zeppelin Transport company, backed by the powerful National City Bank interests.

Officials of the bank refused today to discuss the details of the formation of the company, which now has a nominal capitalization of only 1,000,000 shares, but it was learned they would be made public in two weeks.

Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, has been in Europe conferring with German bankers, the Herald Tribune will say, and it is believed German capital will participate in the development of operating of the service. It was recalled that in August Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, conferred with National City Bank officials.

Will Rogers writes about LEVI STRAUSS OVERALLS

Bad Year for City Slickers, Says Rogers

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Say, our champion New York university team looked like Man of War till that bunch of Oregon apple knockers got a hold of 'em this afternoon. It was no place for a racoon coat athlete, up against an old bunch of wheat shockers whose college emblem is a pair of Levi overalls.

These old salmon gleasers from the mouth of the Columbia had the city slickers strewn from goal to goal.

With Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia and Al Smith going down all in succession, it just looks like it's the old country boys' year.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

GRADES ANNOUNCED IN PHYSICAL EXAM

Compiled results of the physical examinations given Salem high school boys and girls show that girls are only half as healthy as the boy students, reports Dr. E. L. Russell, school physician who directed the examinations, the first inspections of this nature given to all high school pupils. Of the 421 boys examined only 88 showed defects; of the 576 girls who were inspected, 393 passed high and will be allowed to take regular gymnasium work, 173 had such physical defects that they will be placed in corrective divisions, and 10 were rated in class three, which means they will be placed in rest classes. Salem is the only high school which is giving such a complete examination to boys and girls of this age, and because of this health educators over the country are particularly interested in the outcome, Dr. Russell says.

FALL TRIAL NEARS CLOSE; EVIDENCE IN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Final arguments by counsel alone remain before the jury trying Albert E. Fall on bribery charges meets to determine whether he shall go to jail, the defense having concluded its case today after the former interior secretary's wife and daughter had testified.

The defense failed in an attempt to question Mrs. Fall and Mrs. V.

C. Chase, of El Paso, about conversations they had with the defendant after his receipt of $100,000 from Edward L. Doheny. Justice William Hitz sustained an objection to that line of testimony by the government, which alleges the money was a bribe for the Elk Hills oil lease granted to a Doheny company.

Mrs. Fall said she was present when her husband received the money from the late son of Doheny. Mrs. Chase detailed the purchase by her father of the Harris ranch in New Mexico.
