Complain Against Peddler Nuisance

Women Say Peddlers Are Unusually Active Now

Bothered for years by house to house sellers selling almost every conceivable article of merchandise, local housewives are complaining of the increasing number of calls being made on them this fall by people selling Christmas cards.

Settled on these peddlers represent local merchants. When they do housewives don't object to their selling.

As one indignant lady put it, "When every Tom, Dick and Harry goes into the Christmas card business and camps on my front porch day after day, keeping me from my work, I get tired of it."

"It doesn't seem to me that it is quite fair to our local merchants to allow such people to sell cards when they pay no taxes or license fee for the privilege. It's bound to hurt the merchant's business and anything which hurts local business doesn't do the town any good."

"I for one, am going to buy my cards from a regular card dealer, just as I did last year. So all these Christmas card peddlers can strike my name off their list of prospects. It'll save them a lot of time and me a lot of bother."

Monmouth Merchants Stage Successful Carnival For Civic Club Benefit

MONMOUTH, Oct. 22.—Festive spirit akin to a Mardi Gras took possession of Monmouth Friday evening when the many unusual program features arranged by local business firms materialized on the stage in the high school gymnasium. The skits and stunts presented displayed unique originality, and as the nature of each individual offering was carefully guarded secret from the general public until the moment of its dramatization, surprise proved the keynote featuring the events.

The United Parity stores, Modern Cleaners and Dryers, Morlan & Son Confectionery, Book store, Crider's Department store, Guy H. Deming, real estate, Chambers & Powell, insurance, Monmouth Meat Market, Ross Jewelry store, Graham & Calbreath's Red Top Hardware, Bower's Drug store, Millard Mercantile Co., Monmouth Hotel, Monmouth Hardware, Wilson's Blacksmith shop, Economy Grocery, Mulkey & Son Grocery, First National Bank, Johnson's Book store, Monmouth Cooperative Creamery and Warehouse association, Dietrich's Specialty shop, Charles Atwater's Meats Furnishings, Elliott & Elliott Furniture company, Beauty Box, Mountain States Power Co., and Rex Confectionery, furnished clever skits or announcements, and Nelson's Service station provided ushers for the evening, while Prime's Service station was among the firms offering prize drawing contests. Miss Mary Moore of the Beauty Box and Miller Mercantile company also furnished handsome prizes for the contests.

Miss Mary Moore, proprietress of the Beauty Box, featured an attractive demonstration of phases of her work; Morlan & Son, "The Student's Store," effectively demonstrated KONS broadcasting station with Carl Rasmussen as announcer; Mrs. Gail Kennedy, manager of Crider's Department store, exemplified her slogan, "Everything for All the Family," with a style show for children and adults; Dietrich's Specialty Shop and Atwater's Meats Store collaborated in an attractive style show; Monmouth Cooperative Creamery, by means of prize cards advertised every departmental angle of its work; Johnson's Book store demonstrated an amusing old fashioned dance in costume; and a group of junior high students dancing the Minnet in costume appeared for Miller Mercantile company.

A complete check of financial returns has raised the initial approximation of net profit to $180.

Mrs. Belle Gottfried was re-elected president of the Methodist church aid society at their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon. Other officers elected were: Mrs. Florence Grant, first vice-president; Mrs. Hattie Diem, second vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Thompson, secretary; and Mrs. Howell, treasurer.

In a prize picking contest this week Clarence Lee won by shaking and picking up 23 boxes of prunes in three and one-half hours.

Miss Genevieve Thomas of Roseburg was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Helm on Sunday.

Hallet Dahlia Gardens Attract

SILVERTON, October 22.—Much admiration was expressed by the visitors at the blooming in the Harvey Hallet gardens which were open to visitors Sunday. Visitors from Salem and Silverton called during the day.

Mr. Hallet has sixty varieties of dahlias, nearly all of which were in bloom Sunday. Visitors, he said, most frequently selected the larger flowers to admire. The bronze James Crowl was a particular favorite with the Sunday visitors. This variety was outstanding at the National Dahlia show held at New York City. Another favorite with the Sunday visitors was the Alaman Ra, which is almost as large as the James Crowl. This is colored in keeping with the season, having a mixture of the various autumn shades. Of the smaller flowering group the Coltness Gem, a single flowered scarlet one, called forth much favorable comment. This seldom grows over fifteen inches tall and is very popular as a bedding plant.

Mr. Hallet has been growing dahlias and gladioli for the past seven years as a hobby and commercial venture. He is employed at the Silver Falls Timber company mill at Silverton and has been using only his spare time in his gardens. He is eliminating all cheaper and more common varieties retaining only the newer and better sorts.

Silverton Legion Holds Carnival

SILVERTON, October 22.—A carnival, starting next Monday, is the first thing on the program of the Delbert Rogers Post of the American Legion, according to the outlining of the activities at Monday night's meeting. Claire Jarvis, newly elected commander, presided.

The carnival is being sponsored by the local post of the legion and will be stationed in the vacant lot back of Eastman Brothers. The Scotch Greater Shows is the carnival which will show here. It will open Monday and continue through to Saturday.

Many other activities were also planned for the winter. Among these is a big Armistice day celebration at Silverton. A parade in the morning, a big football game between St. Mary's high school boys and the local team, and the usual Armistice day dance at the armory in the evening are a part of the features to be offered for that day.

On November 24 the Legion will hold a turkey shoot. More definite plans of this will be given out at a later date.

Mr. West, executive chairman for the Cascade area of Boy Scouts attended the meeting and spoke on the activities of the organization which he was representing.

Aged Visitor Much Pleased With Willamette Valley

AUBURN, Oct. 22.—A most interesting and appreciative guest in Mrs. Kate Hoffman of Long Beach, Calif., who has been a house guest at the home of Mrs. G. L. Cummings, 1894 North 4th street.

"Aunt Kate," as she is affectionately known by a host of friends, is in her 88th year, but care for her home in Long Beach and manages her household neatly in many ways. She has been a visiting year through the middle west since June, having spent a month with her great-nephew, Johnnie Cooper, on her ranch at Lemay, Mont.

She also visited her many childhood friends, and old neighbors in Elston, Alma Center, Marylin, and Northfield. Among whom were the Monroe Cady family, four of whom now reside at Salem: Chas. W. Cady, Mrs. Rosetta Sheffield, Mrs. Lydia Hobbs, and Mrs. G. L. Cummings.

Mrs. Hoffman is enthusiastic in her praise of the Willamette valley and its resources. She visited the Spaulding ash and door factory, some of the prune dryers, and enjoyed a motor trip through several of the fruit orchards and the gladioli gardens of Arthur Cummings in the Kelsier district which are gorgeous at this time with late blooms and where bulb-jets are now being dug, all of which interested her very much.

"Why, you can raise just anything here," she remarked as she was preparing to leave Sunday evening.

Robert Allgood all of Dallas. The examining board was made up of W. C. Retzer, Penn C. Crum, W. P. Miller, J. M. Campbell, F. W. Westfall and J. R. Allgood. Rex Sanford of Salem presided in the absence of Judge H. H. Bell. Adolphus Ballantyne was made a first class scout, and a star was awarded to Howard McPetridge and John Robert Allgood for having five merit badges.
