Carnegie Institute Finishes Three and Half Year Investigation

Use of Subsidies in Attracting Players Bared by Expert Group

By TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching today made public the elaborate results of its searching and, in some respects, sensational investigation into American college athletics, particularly football.

The foundation report, which may become famous as "bulletin No. 23" in its revelations and effects, runs the gamut of methods, practices and conditions but focuses principally upon what the investigators characterize as "the deepest shadow that darkens American college and school athletics"—the widespread practice of recruiting and subsidizing athletes.

"Those who tempt young men to barter their honesty for the supposed advantage of a college course, dishonestly achieved, are the fagins of American sport and American higher education," declared the 283-page bulletin prepared by Howard J. Savage, staff member of the foundation; Harold W. Bantley, John T. McGovern and Dean F. Smiley, three College Executives Are Blamed for Situation.

Placing the responsibility squarely upon the shoulders of college executives, the authors find that "in the murky there are many brighter patches" and that "the university or college that, under capable leadership, makes up its collective mind to cast out these practices, can do so."

"Portions of the picture are even blacker than they have been painted," the investigators assert in concluding the illuminating section on recruiting and subsidizing in which facts are given and institutions frankly and impartially named whether in criticism or in praise.

The inquiry consumed more than three and a half years, entailed personal visits to 130 American and Canadian colleges, universities and schools, and involved the cooperation of more than 2,000 persons. Only two of the 130 institutions, however, cooperate fully, the report states, specifying the University of Georgia and Oglethorpe.

STAYTON YOUTHS IN CRASH ON HIGHWAY

STAYTON, Oct. 23.—(Special)—On Sunday morning Gale Parish, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parish and Mrs. Shertou, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shelton started to Monmouth on the former's motorcycle. Near Independence they came upon four dead mules riding on bicycles. Young Parish gave them the horn, but they of course did not hear him and as they were spread pretty well across the road with their four bikes the Stayton boys came upon them, making one big mixup in which the motorcycles and all the other boys with their bikes were involved. Parish was dangerously hurt, his skull fractured, cheek bones broken and other injuries. He was removed to Monmouth and later to the hospital at Albany where for a day or so his life was despaired of but at this writing he is doing nicely. Young Shelton although considerably shaken up was not injured. Gale Parish has been driving a truck for Wrights truck line.

STORM STILL RAGES ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Two Known Dead and Many Others Believed Killed in Fierce Gale

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—At least two persons were dead, and others believed drowned, and the safety of a dozen of others on ships somewhere in the lakes was in doubt as the Great Lakes region's worst storm of the year cut a chill path eastward tonight, leaving millions of dollars in property loss behind.

The ore carrier William Pilkey was missing in Lake Superior and was feared to have been lost; the steamer Maple Court was grounded on Magnetic reef in Lake Huron; and 13 persons, including a woman, were taken from the freighter N. NATIONALISTS GAIN SLIGHT ADVANTAGE

HANKOW, Oct. 23.—(AP)—With opposing forces estimated at more than 300,000 engaged in the struggle for supremacy in central China, the Nationalist government armies today seemed to have gained an advantage in the fighting against the rebellious troops of Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, leader of the Kuomintang, or "people's army."

The Nationalist forces recaptured the city of Yen-cheng in Honan province, driving the Kuomintang troops northward 35 miles to Hsuehchow. Bagshaw's Resignation Is Accepted

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The student board of control at the University of Washington accepted the resignation of Coach Bagshaw as head football coach at the institution later today.

Bagshaw's resignation, submitted early today, culminated a long controversy between members of the student body and the alumni on one side and supporters of the veteran coach on the other. Demands for his resignation became more pronounced after the defeat last Saturday at Pullman of the university Huskies by the Washington State college Cougars.

Bagshaw will remain at the head of football affairs for the present season and will receive full compensation for the two years additional which his contract has to run.

Bagshaw submitted his resignation to graduate Manager Campbell after an all-morning conference with Campbell and Ward Kumm, the coach's legal adviser.

A special session of the student board of control was called late today and the resignation was formally accepted by the body. The board also authorized Campbell to "take such steps as he deems necessary to secure a head football coach."
