State College Makes Elaborate Preparations for Annual Event

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 23.—While the football game between Oregon State college and the University of Idaho is the headline attraction for O. S. C.'s annual homecoming celebration here Saturday, October 26, many other events have been arranged to make it a full week end of entertainment for the thousands of visitors who will return to the campus.

The festivities will get under way Thursday evening when the annual rally dances will be held in fraternity and sorority houses. The traditional noise parade to be held Friday evening has caused unusual interest this year because all participants are required to wear pajamas or to be costumed. Following the parade, a big student pep rally will be held in the armory. Stringing talks will be made by Coach Paul J. Schissler, Dean A. B. Cordley and student body officers.

Those in charge of the rock bonfire have promised the largest blaze ever seen by a homecoming crowd. The old Phi Kappa Phi house which was partially burned recently will furnish the material for the flames and freshmen have planned a 50-foot stack for this feature. It will be lighted directly after the pep rally.

Other events include the interclass regatta on the Willamette river Saturday morning and the annual rock-sophomore olympics which will be held at homecoming for the first time this year.

Evidences of the elaborate decorations are already showing themselves. A large 60-foot tower on the campus will be the center of the decorations. Homecoming sings will decorate the tops of all the buildings on the campus and also all the fraternity, sorority and club houses. Prizes are being offered for the best signs.

Editors of the state again will be official guests of the college and the department of industrial journalism at a luncheon Saturday noon and at the game in the afternoon.

A radio pep rally over station KOAC for those unable to attend the festivities has been arranged by the alumni association. The program will be held between 8 and 9 o'clock Thursday night. The game will be broadcast over KOAC Saturday afternoon as usual.

'RALLY DAY' SLATED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

STAYTON, Oct. 23.—(Special)—Rally day will be observed at the Baptist church next Sunday and the public is urged to attend. Special invitation has been extended to the children to attend the Sunday school and song service in the morning. At the regular church service at 11 a. m., Rev. Barry will be assisted by several visiting pastors.

In the evening Dr. O. C. Wright, state secretary of the Baptist state convention will deliver an address on Oregon and will show pictures of various places and things of interest in our state. These services, to which everyone is invited, will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

AGED WOMAN SERIOUSLY ILL

MONMOUTH, October 23.—Mrs. Hewett an elderly resident of Monmouth living alone at her home on E. Main street, was found by neighbors Sunday morning in a semi-conscious condition on her floor. She had become ill and was unable to summon help. Medical aid was summoned and she improved sufficiently to be conveyed that afternoon to the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hewett on the Greenwood road near Rickreall.

Always a very active woman, Mrs. Hewett had lived alone most of the time since her husband's death 14 years ago.

Children Confess to Ghastly Crime

John Mulligan, eight, left, with his brother, James, seven, and Detective Sergeant Henry J. Galbrunner. The two boys, orphans, have confessed to the killing of three-year-old Albert Milkenas at Milford, Ct., last July. It was believed at the time that Milkenas was killed by some feeble-minded person because of the mutilated condition of the body. Police declare it was the work of a powerful man but they are inclined to accept the Mulligan boys' story.

OFFICIALS TO EYE SANTIAM ROUTES

A jaunt which will take the party over the two routes of the Santiam highway was begun Wednesday by County Judge Siegmund Commissioner Porter, Roadmaster Walter Johnson and Engineer Swart. The purpose of the expedition is to examine the routes of the Santiam highway and particularly to check up on the survey which is being conducted by engineers under authority of the forest and the Marion county court.

The party will be taken up the South Santiam highway to the Cascade ranger station or farther if the road will permit by H. C. Finley of the Reo car agency. From the end of the road they will hike to the Lost Lake country where the junction of the proposed north and south highways is planned, and from that point the party will cross Big Meadows and follow down the North Santiam to Independence Prairie and on down to the end of the auto road nine miles above Detroit. Finley will meet them there Friday and convey them back to Salem.

The hike will take them along the line which the engineers are staking out now on their preliminary surveys of a route up the North Santiam and across Hogg Pass to Sisters, which would afford a nearly all-year road from eastern Oregon to the Willamette valley.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR STREFF HELD

STAYTON, Oct. 23.—(Special)—Funeral services were scheduled at the Catholic church Thursday morning for Leo J. Streff, who passed away Tuesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Susan Marking, in Portland. He was 25 years of age and had spent the greater part of his life in Stayton. Following the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Streff, he made his home with Mrs. Marking. He

GRANGE MEETS IN WASHINGTON

Northwest Plans to be Host To Farm Organization This Year

The national grange will hold its annual session in Seattle, Wash., November 12 to 20. Selection of Seattle as the meeting place for this year's convention gives the eastern patrons the opportunity of seeing the western coast states. The executive committee of the national grange is arranging a special train for the eastern delegates.

The seventh degree is the highest degree of this order, and is available only once a year at the national session. This will be conferred on patrons from the entire Northwest on November 15. Oregon, Idaho, and California are co-operating with Washington in efforts to make this the largest class ever given the seventh degree.

The grange is a farmers' organization with approximately one million dues-paying members in the United States of the union. It was founded in 1867 by Brother Kelly and his associates, and has been in continuous existence since that time. The grange is not only a farmers' organization, but is the only real farm fraternity. The members are taught through the operating ritualistic work that the grange is a family of brothers and sisters working together to better conditions of the farm folk, and the uplifting of the social and moral life, and financial welfare of the home.

The work of the grange is carried on through committees and is efficiently done by competent members. The legislative committee is the most important, and many successes have been attained through its efforts. Some of the outstanding benefits enjoyed today have come through the untiring work on the part of the grange. Rural mail delivery, the parcel post system, postal savings banks, establishment of the federal weather bureau and election of United States senators by direct vote of the people are some of the major undertakings with which and for which the grange has worked.

BETTY COMPSON IS FINE VIOLIN PLAYER

Betty Compson really does play that violin in "Street Girl" at the Fox Elsinore today and tomorrow. Those who have seen the picture delighted in the beautiful music which runs through the story and were somewhat surprised to see Betty play the violin.

is an exceptionally well—but Betty is a real artist and no double is used for the playing.

Jack O'Leary and Ned Sparks keep the comedy at high pitch. The locale "Little Hungary" in New York is a novel setting for one of the fastest music comedy films yet produced.

Charlie Chase in an all-talking comedy "Crazy Feet" and the Paramount News complete the excellent bill.

Coming Saturday and Sunday Jeanne Eagles in her all-talking dramatic story from the stage play "Jealousy" and the Fanchon and Marco Idea "Columns" in which living models are seen in sculpture poses, make up the program.

Sir Harry Lauder's appearance in person, surrounded by his European company of artists will be at the Fox Elsinore on Monday evening only, and reserved seats are now on sale at the box office daily from 10 a. m. The advance sale assures a full house for this delightful artist.

INDEPENDENCE FOLK SUFFER ACCIDENTS

INDEPENDENCE, October 23.—Mrs. Alice Hettley barely escaped having a serious accident while visiting her daughter Ruth in a Salem hotel. She, together with her husband and daughter was going down stairs when about half way down she turned to listen to what Ruth was saying, and in some way, unknown to herself, her foot slipped and she fell headlong to the bottom of the stairs. She was helped to the car by her husband. It was discovered that her left hand was badly hurt but after two X-rays by Dr. O. G. McConnell it was found that no bones were broken. She received a bruise over the right temple.

The son of J. W. Parrish of Seis, Ore., was brought to Dr. McConnell's office Sunday evening about 6:30 having met with an accident on his motorcycle. He received a fractured skull and a deep cut over his right eye. It was necessary for him to remain in the hotel here that night. He was later removed to the Albany hospital.

Dr. George C. Knott and wife are expected to return home Friday from Glendale, Ore., where they have been visiting friends.

Now You Know they are...

Downyflake Doughnuts

... and that's a whale of a lot more than Columbus, Napoleon or Franklin were privileged to know ... with all their wisdom!

Those three worthies would have been better, stronger, wiser men had their diets included our doughnuts.

You have no idea what goodness ... health ... nutrition ... deliciousness we cook into our doughnuts—but in order to satisfy your curiosity ... and to start you off right, we've arranged for you to sample our new doughnut surprise.

Just go to your grocer's and ask for your sample. When you've tasted one, it's a safe bet you'll be carrying a dozen home with you ... maybe two dozen ... for they're mighty good on the palate. However ... samples speak louder than words!
