

CURT COMMENTS

Whoopie! We're mad!

Gosh darn it, we weren't so far wrong—only seven touchdowns to exact.

But we weren't as surprised as some folk were at that. Fact is, there were few persons in Salem who came as near as we did to realizing that Willamette had that kind of football team this year.

That game makes up for the defeat College of Idaho handed the Bearcats at Boise a year ago, and then some.

Now let Whitman watch out. Also let the Bearcats watch out; theirs the Pacific and Linfield yet to beat.

We haven't heard such a roar out of a Willamette gang of rooters since about 1919, when the Bearcat basketball team beat the socks off O. S. C.

"Idaho makes back yardage," a four year old hopeful was heard to remark in the grandstand when the white shirts were thrown for losses of 15 yards in two plays.

Not content with six touchdowns, Spc Keene was still telling the boys on the bench how it could have been done better, right up to the final whistle.

Everything was all fixed so the crowd could tell, by numbers on the field; and then Idaho turned up with white jerseys, the same color as Willamette's, so the Bearcats had to go with red jerseys which had no number on them. Better luck next time.

You may think we're squeaked. All right, we pick Stanford to beat U. S. C., Oregon to beat Washington, O. S. C. to beat Idaho; Pacific to beat Puget Sound. We expect to be wrong on all of them, but your guess is no better than ours. Both are just guesses.

WOMAN'S TEAM IS STILL IN TOP PLACE

Although defeated two games out of three by Central Pharmacy, the Day and Niles women's team retained the lead in the Statesman bowling league after Friday night's play on the Winter Garden alleys.

The Oldsmobile Vikings won three straight from Sunfreeze, and Fulop's won two out of three from Carson Pharmacy. Hartwell of the Vikings, rolled high game, 194, and high series, 538.

A handicap sweepstakes will be rolled tonight at 8 o'clock, open to all. Scratch will be 180, and players with lower averages will be handicapped so as to even the play and give the new players a chance. Entries were coming in rapidly Friday, and a large list is expected.

AUMSVILLE BEATS PARRISH 12 TO 7

A beefy though inexperienced Aumsville high school team, with a weight advantage of about 20 pounds to the man, defeated Parrish junior high Friday afternoon at Olinger field, 12 to 7.

The visitors scored mostly straight football and scored one touchdown in the second quarter and another in the third. Parrish's score was made on five forward passes, two minutes before the great game ended.

From the relative sizes of the players, it appeared at the start of the game that Aumsville might run up a huge score, and Coach Aubrey Fletcher of Parrish was pleased at the scrappy showing his lads made.

The Parrish lineup included Sanders at center, Hogate and Quesseth guards, Moody and Kanchod tackles, DeJardin and Fisher, ends, Perrine quarter, Kelly full, Nicholson and Sugal halves, Peters substituted for Sugal, Brown full for Nicholson, Berger for Hogate, Boardman for Fisher.

Salem High Grid Team Trims Albany Eleven 24-12

LOCALS TAKE TORRID GAME

Inexperienced Aggregation Shows Up Well in Friday's Contest

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Salem high school football team defeated Albany high here 24 to 12 this afternoon in a game which was exceptionally hard fought and varied enough to be full of thrills from beginning to end.

The visitors used only simple plays and attempted but two forward passes, one of which, in the second quarter, was intercepted by an Albany player and run back for a touchdown.

Albany's second score came in the third quarter and it too resulted from a forward pass, this time thrown by an Albany back. That was the period in which the local team showed to best advantage. It carried the ball down the field in a steady march to get in position for the scoring play.

Salem exhibited its offensive power early in the game, forcing over two touchdowns in the first period. A 20 yard gain on a forward pass contributed to the first score, but the other was made on straight football. The visitors' third touchdown was made in the third period, and the last one in the fourth.

James, a compactive "dark horse" in the Salem backfield, played a consistently strong game. Hug, fullback, made some nice gains, and his punting was nothing short of remarkable. All of his spirals carried far down the field and were high enough so that the ends got down and spilled the receiver before he could make much headway.

"Chinny" Kelly, quarterback for Salem high, carried the ball capably but made some glaring errors in choice of plays, the most costly occurring when he called for a forward pass while close to his own goal line, the pass being intercepted for Albany's first score.

Salem's starting lineup was as follows: Johnson, center; Wright and Rhotens, guards; Weisser and D. Drager, tackles; Adams and Gley, ends; C. Kelly and James, halves; Hug, full.

PORTLANDER HELD ON MANY CHARGES

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25.—(AP)—James Takeoff was held in the city jail tonight on the following among other charges:

Compelling his wife, Mildred, mother of a month old infant, to write fictitious checks.

Taking his wife's and baby's clothes to exchange for liquor.

Beating Mrs. Takeoff.

Breaking down a neighbor's door.

Choking the neighbor's wife.

Threatening to kill the neighbor's wife.

Resisting arrest by Motorcycle Patrolman Hammersly, who was in uniform but in a bathrobe.

Striking Hammersly on the nose when the policeman called the patrol wagon.

Striking Hammersly elsewhere during a violent struggle for the policeman's gun.

Being drunk and disorderly.

Takeoff, police declared, returned to his home early today and beat his 20-year-old wife. The neighbor's wife ran to Hammersly's house and the policeman went to Mrs. Takeoff's assistance. In the meantime, reports revealed, Takeoff had battered down the neighbor's door in search of Mrs. Takeoff. When Hammersly appeared with the neighbor's wife, Takeoff started to choke her. Hammersly intervened and a fight ensued. The policeman said he drew his revolver and tried to strike Takeoff. The gun was dropped and a fierce struggle for its possession followed. Finally, however, Hammersly connected with Takeoff's chin and the fight ended temporarily. It was resumed when Takeoff revived, and lasted until the patrol wagon arrived.

Silverton Team Loses Game to West Linn, 13-0

SILVERTON, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The West Linn high school football team defeated Silverton high 13 to 0 in a game replete with spectacular plays as well as fumbles and other "breaks" most of which favored the visitors. Nevertheless, their victory was earned.

West Linn scored touchdowns in the first and fourth periods. Harwood was Silverton's principal ground gainer, making a total of 50 yards. Anderson, right end for the local team, was forced out of the game with injuries in the third period, and Lofftota, guard, in the fourth.

The local team is now preparing for the Armistice day game on the local field, in which St. Mary's high will furnish the opposition.

WOODBURN ELEVEN DEFEATS GRESHAM

WOODBURN, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Woodburn high school football team defeated Gresham high school eleven of that city 19 to 6.

Gribble, Woodburn halfback, made sensational runs to score two touchdowns in the first quarter, and Gustafson scored the third touchdown in the second quarter.

After a succession of passes which marked a Gresham rally in the third quarter, the home team scored its lone touchdown. The fourth period was fought out on practically even terms.

WEBFOOT GIVEN EDGE ON HUSKY

Oregon Team is Favored to Trim Washington in Game Today

SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Despite the fact that three University of Oregon regulars are on the injured list, the Webfoots were favored tonight to conquer their old friendly rivals, the Huskies of Washington, on the gridiron here tomorrow.

Although the Washington Huskies have yet to win a Pacific Coast conference football game this year, the possibility of an upset was seen in practice today when the Washington players showed more "zip" than in any other workout to date.

Ever since Coach Enoch Bagshaw announced his resignation Wednesday, ending a year of strife on the campus, the Huskies seemed fired with a new spirit.

The Oregon squad arrived in Seattle this morning and went through a snappy workout. The first eleven was minus three of its regulars—George Stadelman, center; Austin Colbert, tackle, and Jerry Robinson, half back. Stadelman was left at home while Colbert and Robinson are in none too good condition.

Occasional rains were predicted for tomorrow but the weather bureau indicated that the showers may hold off until night.

DALLAS HIGH BEATS SHERIDAN BY 26-0

DALLAS, Oct. 25.—(Special)—The Dallas high school football team trampled the Sheridan high eleven underfoot on LaCrore field here this afternoon, to the tune of 26 to 0.

The outstanding play was an 80 yard run for a touchdown by Griffin of the Dallas team. McCann intercepted five Sheridan passes.

It was the first game of the season for the Dallas high team, which was handicapped by the fact that it had been out for practice only two weeks.

The Dallas lineup included McCann, center; Berg and Parrish, guards; Hyde and Mosler, tackles; Stevenson and Miller, ends; Griffin, quarter; Uglow and Quiring, halves; Vaughn, full.

Today's Grid Games Are Expected to Draw More Than 700,000 Watchers

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The roar from the athletic offices over the now famous Carnegie report will be drowned out tomorrow by the tumult from the stadiums over touchdowns.

Whether they are subsidized or unsubsidized, major college teams will stage the October gridiron climax before the greatest crowds so far this season, attracted by prospects of an unusual number of hard and keenly fought games.

From the classic at Stanford stadium to the spectacle at Yale bowl, football will stage one of its biggest combined shows, with national championship aspirations at stake in at least a half dozen of the main contests.

Palo Alto Game Draws Biggest Crowd
The greatest crowd of the day, close to 90,000, is expected to watch Stanford and Southern California, two undefeated arrays, battle for what may prove Pacific coast supremacy for 1929.

In the east, approximately 275,000 fans will turn out for five of the leading attractions, with 75,000 in the Yale bowl for Army's charge against the Elis and 70,000 expected to witness the clash of Notre Dame's Ramblers with the Carnegie Tartans at Pittsburgh stadium.

The five leading battles of the middle west figure to draw over 225,000, with the Michigan-Illinois affair at Urbana likely to top the list at around 55,000.

The south, for five of its principal contests, should show 100,000 with Tulane and Georgia Tech playing to at least 50,000 in their tussle at New Orleans.

To See 16 Games
This runs the aggregate figures up to around 700,000 for some 16 games alone. It takes no statistical wizard to realize the grand total over a million eye-witnesses of this "pageantry of American college life," not to mention the national wide radio audience.

It is more difficult to figure the winners, especially for so vital a battle as that between Southern California and Stanford, two of the strongest teams in the country.

The fast traveling Trojans, off to a great start this season, were early favorites, but expert faith in Pop Warner's ability to keep something up his sleeve for so crucial a game and Stanford's unquestioned power development have made the outcome a toss-up.

The winner, if any, will be well on the road that leads to a national championship, even though each has a number of high hurdles to clear later on.

West Point Favored To Trim Yale Team
Unless there is a let-down in the Cadet charge, with Red Cagle feeling the effects of the bruising battle a week ago with Harvard,

Army figures to beat Yale by a decisive margin. West Point had the offensive power to do it, the critics agree, but Yale has Albie Booth and hopes of springing an upset.

Notre Dame, although beaten a year ago by a clean cut margin by Carnegie, is picked to turn the tables on the rugged Tartans.

Even though he needs the aid of a wheel chair, Knute Rockne is on hand to direct personally the Hoosier attack that has trampled Indiana, Navy and Wisconsin as far. Notre Dame has concealed no part of its intense desire for revenge. Carnegie has lost Howard Harpeier but has most of the veterans of last year's victorious team on hand, eager to check-the Ramblers' rush.

Harvard and Dartmouth Game to Be Close One
The clash of two other unbeaten teams, Harvard and Dartmouth before 58,000 at Cambridge, is another difficult game to "dope." The big green team, with Al Marsters leading its drive, is a slight favorite. Counter-factors are the Crimson's strength in its own stronghold, its ability to rise to emergencies and the Jinx it has frequently held over the Hanoverians.

Fordham's shig-powered Maroon machine faces a test against Davis and Elkins, renowned as a giant-killing array, but is figured to win and keep a clean slate. The Navy is favored over Princeton. New York university over Butler. Syracuse over Brown and Holy Cross over Marquette in other eastern engagements.

Chicago Grid Team to Clash With Purdue
The big ten program offers plenty of chance for additional upsets. Purdue and Chicago, two unbeaten contenders, are well matched, with the Boiler-makers holding an edge in offensive strength. Ohio State is favored to down Indiana and hold its pace-setting position. The championship team of Illinois, already tied, faces twice-beaten Michigan, while Iowa invades Wisconsin's stronghold.

The big six race may be decided by the outcome of the fray between Missouri's Tigers and the championship Nebraska eleven at Columbia, another game where the rivals are closely matched.

Tulane's title hopes in the south are based upon stopping Georgia Tech's tornado, but it will make all of the skill of Bill Baker and his mates to turn the trick, even with Tech suffering some casualties. Georgia's Bulldogs, if they maintain their fast gait, figure to beat Florida in another class game. Tennessee's Volunteers expect to keep their slate clean at the expense of Washington and Lee.

Utah's strong array, holding the Rocky Mountain title, is an overwhelming favorite to beat Colorado Aggies at Fort Collins. In the southwestern conference, the championship Texas eleven is favored to beat Rice and take the lead while Arkansas and Texas Aggies struggle to get out of the "second division."

VANDAL SQUAD INVADES O. S. C.

Idaho Grid Team Declared in Fine Shape for Game At Corvallis

CORVALLIS, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Leo Calland and his big squad of Idaho Vandals arrived here tonight following a stop at Portland for a workout in fine shape to give Oregon State a hard battle for homecoming honors tomorrow.

Calland announced that all his men with the exception of Wilkie were in top form. He plans to start Berg at full, saving Wilkie for an emergency if at all.

Coach Paul Schisler of Oregon finished his practice this morning and announced several changes in the lineup. Pete Miller, oldest man on the squad, has won the starting berth at tackle, while Kerr will start at halfback in place of Sherwood, who is not in shape to play.

Weather remained crisp and dry today, insuring a fast field. The town is full of alumni and a fair crowd is forecast.

The possible lineup:
Idaho POS Oregon State
Dittman.....LE.....McKallip
Diehl.....LT.....Stout
Martin.....LG.....Cox
Kirkpatrick.....RG.....Geddes
Coakley.....RC.....Scott

BASKETBALL TEAMS NOW WORKING OUT

RICKREAL, Oct. 25.—(Special)—Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams are getting ready for hard work in practicing. The gymnasium floor was sandpapered and varnished. New basketball, sweat shirts, trunks and shoes for both teams are to be ordered.

The boys' team will probably have almost the same players as last year's team. Donald Pence, who is going to Salem high, is the team's heaviest loss. They will have the same coach as last year, Siegmund Huth.

The girls' team lost a good player in Dorothy Morrow, who graduated last year, and Eva Hamilton who cannot play on account of her health. The coach for the girls is Miss Phenice.
