Charging Forwards Capture Spot in Limelight of Homecoming Tilt

(Continued from Page 1.) Point lead, Willamette had steadfastly refused to risk any passes; but with twelve points to work on, the DePoe-French combination trotted onto the field, and on the third play after the Bearcats got possession of the ball again, DePoe hurled it to French, who twisted, whirled and straight-armed his way to Pacific's goal, a 49 yard gain. Erickson kicked goal and that made it 19 to 0.

Pacific Threats Stopped Before Scoring Done Pacific had made something of a threat in the first quarter when it recovered the ball after a fumbled punt on Willamette's 26 yard line, and advanced to the 21 yard line on two plays. Then a Bearcat lineman hurried through again to block a forward pass, and Phil Williams, Willamette guard, caught the ball as it flopped into the middle of the line heap.

Another threat was made as the quarter ended when a penalty gave Pacific first down on Willamette's 15 yard line. Three running plays yielded no yardage, and Engenbretsen batted a pass to the ground on fourth down.

The third period was fought pretty much on even terms, punctuated by a spectacular play in which French intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards to the Pacific goal line, but it was ruled he had stepped out of bounds three yards from the last marker. A penalty for offside nullified Willamette's attempt to pack the ball over, though on fourth down Gretsch slid to within a foot of the line.

Steady Advance Made From Middle of Field Just as the fourth period opened, Willamette started a determined march, featured by short, consistent gains on Gretsch's line plunges, with some help from French, Erickson and DePoe. They packed the ball without a setback from their own 45 yard line to a touchdown in five consecutive first downs.

Coach Keene Willamette used a large sprinkling of reserves throughout the second half, and had nothing but reserves in the lineup in the last quarter; he was sending in the last man he had on the bench when the final gun sounded.

Nevertheless, the Bearcats succeeded to hold the ascendancy, much credit for this being due to two outstanding performances by Steelhammer, rangy end candidate.

So Brilliant Plays Made by Steelhammer Steelhammer charged in and hit Frost so hard as he was trying to pass, that Frost dropped the ball and Steelhammer fell on it. Gretsch started hammering the Pacific line again, and was stopped on what the referee judged to be the four inch mark.

A little later, Steelhammer went out to take a pass from DePoe, and snagged the ball after it had bounced back and forth between him and two Pacific players.

Willamette made 14 first downs to Pacific's five; completed four passes out of seven for a total of 70 yards while Pacific was completing two out of 15 tries for 19 yards. Three Pacific passes and one of Willamette's were intercepted. Penalties cost Willamette 65 yards and Pacific 45.

MARCO SHOW HELD ATTRACTIVE EVENT

Saint Louis beauties seem to be quite as good looking in Oregon as they are reputed to be in the south if those who are appearing at the Fox Elsinore this weekend with the Fanchon Marco feature "Drapes," is a proof. This chorus has one feature dance which is an exceptionally artistic offering. The Beauties are in colonial costume with skirts that are even more full and billowy than colonial skirts are supposed to be. In these dresses the chorus dances in single line before a dark curtain with varied lights playing over them, changing the color of their gowns. The perfect rhythm and the beauty of the girls creates a pleasing picture. Frank Melino and Co., offer some fairly good laughs and Melino himself draws a big hand with acrobatic dancing that is still different. To be different in feature and acrobatic dancing is getting to be a problem—there are so many working on the same idea.

Greta Garbo in "The Single Standard" is the screen production. Greta may have been a bit daring in previous pictures but she hardly leaves one's imagination in "The Single Standard." She is beautiful, vivacious, living life as she wants it until the love for her child does the thing the world expects it to do, creates love that quiet recklessness and saves tragedies.

MURDER DEFENDANT APPEARS ON STAND

WEATHERFORD, Tex., Nov. 2.—(AP)—The story of a "mortal battle" with the young university student who had secretly married his beautiful 17-year-old daughter was told dramatically from the witness stand here today by E. H. Hamilton, charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Tom Walton, Jr., last May. Hamilton, veteran Texas jurist and educator, testified with confidence, bringing into play oratorical skill gained from many years of legal practice, as he narrated the events that culminated in the killing of the man his daughter Theresa had chosen for her husband against her father's wishes. He said he grappled with Walton and pulled the trigger of a pistol, the young man had taken from him.

Old doctor's idea still helping Elderly People conquer constipation

DR. CALDWELL made a startling discovery shortly after he graduated from medical school back in 1876. He found great numbers—especially older men and women—suffering from constipation, who were taking harsh laxatives and purgatives. So he concluded that many things people take for constipation do more harm than good, and physicians of today are of the same opinion. This thought made Dr. Caldwell conduct a search, and out of it came the prescription which made him famous. Over and over he wrote it, when he found people ill from it. It was out-of-date, weak or feverish; with coated tongues had breath, no appetite or energy. Its action was so thorough even in the most obstinate cases, and yet so gentle with women and children. The product you get from your drug store, today, when you ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is put up exactly in accordance with this prescription. It has become the world's most popular laxative. It is a pleasant tasting mixture of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients; it is a real corrective for constipation for men, women and children.

John Hughes, Well Known Indian is Victim of Tragedy

STAYTON, Nov. 2.—Word has been received here of the tragic death of John Hughes, an old Indian, who for many years made his home with the parents of J. T. and Miss Susie Kearns here. In company with other Indians he was hunting in the mountains near Toppensish, Wash., when he suffered a falling spell and fell into the camp fire. Although terribly burned about the face he rode horseback toward home all one day. That night they made camp, but the next day he was unable to continue. He had lost his sight from the terrible burns. Before medical aid was secured from the town of Toppensish he died. He made his home on the reservation near Toppensish, and as is their custom the other Indians there made his coffin, lining it with white cloth. He was buried at Wiley City, Wash. He had many friends among the white people.

ANOTHER PIONEER CALLED BY DEATH

John Wesley LeBare, a resident of Marion county since 1875, died shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday evening at the home at 1745 Lee street at the age of 91 years. He was one of the few remaining veterans of the Civil War. Mr. LeBare fell two weeks ago while visiting at the home of a son in Wren, and had been up and down since that time. Mr. LeBare was born in Ohio February 2, 1838, and grew to manhood there. He served two enlistments in the Civil war, one from Ohio and one from Illinois. SOPHIA TUCKER IS SUCCESS IN FILM

Sophia Tucker, synonym for noisy good humor and human sympathy, is at Bligh's Capitol for the next two days in "Honky Tonk" a play that takes its name from the cabaret which furnishes most of the background. There are some songs that Sophia puts over and one takes, but the wonder is if any other mortal would dare to sing them before a good church going crowd. She develops such a sympathy on the part of her audience that she could accomplish most any feat of the conventions and she would still have her audience with her. It's the human sympathy of her, the genuineness and blunt humor of her that will make people say "Honky Tonk is a good show," when in fact much of the structure work is not good. There are moments of tears and again laughs come spontaneously but what ever happens it is Sophia Tucker that has caused it in spite of the fact that she has a splendid supporting cast who act well and who are well screened.
