—Byron Arnold, organist.

Methodist Jubilee Dinner Pretty Affair

Members of the Woman's Home Missionary society celebrated the annual jubilee birthday dinner at the church parlors Wednesday night beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

The social room was delightfully arranged with fall flowers and tokens of the Hallowe'en time. Twelve tables had been arranged in the room, each table individual in its decoration and each representing a month of the year.

The church orchestra, Mrs. J. O. Russell, pianist, Hortense Taylor, first violin, Martha Kullmer, second violin, Blair Foley, clarinet and Loree Barham, saxophone, played while the guests were being seated.

Two hostesses greeted the members of the society, their husbands, and invited friends as they took their places at each of the tables.

The January table to represent the new year was decorated with cupid and New Year's greetings. Mrs. J. M. Cause and Mrs. Ida Shade presided at this table.

Mrs. F. C. Taylor and Mrs. U. C. Boyer presided at the February table which was decorated with pictures of Lincoln and Washington and with red, white and blue flowers.

The March table was presided over by Mrs. Ronald Glover and Mrs. H. H. Vandervort. Toy balloons floated above it to indicate March winds, and tokens of Easter time carried out the idea of Easter time. For April a large umbrella was spread over the table and other signs of April showers were shown. Mrs. E. E. Gilbert and Mrs. A. B. Hanson were hostesses at this table.

May was represented with a table centered with a tiny May pole and wee May baskets were scattered about. Mrs. F. C. De Long and Mrs. B. Blatchford presided here.

June was the month of roses according to the table at which Mrs. Almira Hale and Mrs. G. H. Alden were hostesses. July was represented with fire crackers and flags at the table over which presided Mrs. D. H. Mosher and Mrs. R. K. Ohling.

August was the vacation month as represented by the lake which centered the table where Mrs. B. E. Carrier and Mrs. A. A. Lee presided. Small boats, automobiles and other signs indicated the spirit of vacation.

Grapes and autumn leaves made a lovely suggestion for September at the table where Mrs. P. T. Kuntz and Mrs. H. F. Shanks were hostesses.

October was joyfully represented by tokens of Hallowe'en at the table where Mrs. E. T. Barnes and Mrs. F. A. Legge presided. November was suggested by bronze chrysanthemums and turkeys for the spirit of Thanksgiving. Mrs. R. L. Farmer and Mrs. A. A. Schramm were hostesses at this table.

December, the last of the year, was easy to find with its Christmas suggestions. Mrs. W. C. Young and Mrs. Josephine Davis were hostesses for this table.

The program hour at the close of dinner was introduced by Mrs. H. H. Vandervort, general chairman of the dinner plans. The Wesley Hymn of grace sung by all the group. Short response speeches were made by the table hostesses to introductions by Mrs. Vandervort. Prayer was offered by Rev. Fred C. Taylor, pastor of the church. Two minute speeches were made by Mrs. Benjamin Blatchford, Mrs. George H. Alden, and Mrs. E. J. Swafford, conference officers of the missionary society. Mrs. John Cause gave a report of the missionary conference in the east from which she has just returned.

This happy meeting closed with a benediction from Dr. John Cause.

Mrs. E. T. Barnes Will Be Piety Hill Hostess

THE Piety Hill club will meet for the first time this fall season with Mrs. E. T. Barnes at home on North Capitol street. Mrs. W. E. Kirk and Mrs. W. P. Fowle will be assistant hostesses.

The members of this club are Mrs. J. T. Whittig, president, Mrs. Russell Catlin, Mrs. Rueben P. Boise, Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. T. B. Kay, Mrs. Edgar Hartley, Mrs. John H. Scott, Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mrs. F. W. Spencer, Mrs. H. B. Thielens, Mrs. S. P. Kimball, Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. C. I. Lewis, Mrs. W. P. Fowle, Mrs. Frank Sneider, and Mrs. W. E. Kirk.

Several of these members, due to illness or to the fact that they are out of town, will not be able to be present for this first meeting.

Cross Country Rides Enjoyed This Morning

A group of equestrians will leave the Salem Hunt club stables this morning at 8:30 o'clock for a canter across the misty early morning hills.

Again in the afternoon a second group will go out for the afternoon sunshine at 2:30 o'clock, and follow the delightful paths which lead through timber and open country for a satisfyingly long ride.

These rides will mark the last West Salem riding for the winter as the club will move back to its winter quarters in the state fair horse show pavilion Monday morning. Regular winter classes of drill and special riding will begin there at once. Both outdoor track and indoor ring work will be given. Classes will include riders just beginning on up to experienced riders who are coming in for polish and show work.

It is urged by the riding master, E. J. MacManus, that those desiring to ride with their friends get the group together and sign up at once so that satisfactory class assignments may be made. Elaborate plans are being made by the club for an excellent program both from the standpoint of riding and that of social life.

The United Artisans are sponsoring a rummage sale Friday of this week. Mrs. Oscar Dancer, Mrs. L. A. Williamson and Mrs. Ivan Martin have charge of the arrangements.

Miss Claudia Buntin, freshman at the Oregon State college returned from Corvallis Friday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Buntin. Miss Buntin is a pledge of the Alpha Omicron Pi at Corvallis.

of vacation. Grapes and autumn leaves made a lovely suggestion for September at the table where Mrs. P. T. Kuntz and Mrs. H. F. Shanks were hostesses.

N. F. Wickers Are Hallowe'en Hosts

A delightful and original Hallowe'en party was enjoyed Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. N. F. Wickers. Games and stunts formed the evening's entertainment. Dr. Kenneth Waters and Ellen Hemenway were awarded prizes for the most clever costumes.

At the supper hour the guests were seated at a long table centered with a bowl of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums surrounded with favors for each guest. A surprise feature came at this time in the form of a flashlight picture of the group. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Art Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cuddy, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Greene, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waters, Ellen Hemenway, Eddie Roth, Charles Greene and Sam Harbison.

Miss Mina Hayes, an early schoolmate of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Mudd, was a recent house guest at the Mudd home. Miss Hayes, whose home is in Oklahoma, was on her way to California where she will spend the winter.

Top row, left to right, are Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, chairman of the Doernbecker hospital committee which sponsored a successful benefit tea Wednesday; Mrs. Edwin Nissen, president of the Council of Church Women of Salem; Mrs. Madalene Callin, editor of the official organ of the Business and Professional Women's club. Below are Mrs. Lawrence Emmons, nee Mildred Pugh, a bride of last weekend; and Miss Jean Shipp, engaged to marry Victor M. Newman of Corvallis.

Mrs. George Rossman To Be Hostess

Mrs. George Rossman will be hostess to members of the Missionary society of the First Congregational church at her home, 910 North Capitol street, Wednesday afternoon. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Walter Buckner, Mrs. Wayne Barham, Mrs. A. A. Gueffroy, Mrs. F. E. Long, Mrs. E. L. Myers and Mrs. W. E. Wilson.

Mrs. S. W. Bailey will have general charge of the meeting. Mrs. M. D. McCallister will have charge of the devotions. There will be a thank-offering meeting at which time Miss Minnie Tontz, a missionary home on furlough, will speak on her work in her field.

Mrs. Harry Harms will sing and Mrs. W. D. Clarke will have charge of the candlelight service.

B. & P. W. Dinner Plans are Original

The Business and Professional Women's club will entertain with a clever dinner Tuesday evening at the Salem Woman's clubhouse on North Cottage street. Each member is to come dressed to represent a character in the funny papers. Committee members and chairmen are planning to come dressed to represent families taken from the funny papers.

Mrs. Dona Aleene and her committee on hospitality have charge of the arrangements for this dinner meeting which will begin at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Harold M. Brown, who with Dr. Brown left Salem not so long ago to make their home in Klamath Falls, is visiting friends here for a few days.

Patriotic Orders Set Banquet Date

The new organization which has been trying to establish itself among the patriotic orders of Salem has reached a definite state of organization which will be completed at the banquet which will be given November 19.

The organization includes the following patriotic orders: Grand Army of the Republic, Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the Grand Army, Sons of Union Veterans, Daughters of Union Veterans, Daughters of American Revolution, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Spanish American War Veterans and auxiliaries, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their auxiliary, War Mothers.

G. R. Stover as general chairman, and Mrs. Florence Shipp as secretary have been acting as officials until organization work has been completed. At a banquet a constitution will be adopted and officers elected.

The object of this federation of patriotic orders is for good will purposes only. It will meet once each year and there will be no dues nor initiation work.

Mrs. Lawrence Hofer will be hostess to members of the bridge club to which she belongs, in Salem at her home in Dunthorpe Thursday afternoon.

Members of the local Business and Professional Women's club have received invitations to attend the district meeting in Albany, November 13. Miss Ruth Rich, national field secretary will be guest of honor for this meeting and will address it.

Miss Mary Sayles and Miss Eva Ferree entertained Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stewart at dinner Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bishop and little sons are Sunday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop.

Miss Anna Stamen left Thursday to spend the weekend with relatives in Portland.

MACK'S Show Fashions In Fox Elsinore Review

"This dinner gown is very attractive because it has the new natural waistline and long draped skirt" says the beautiful Natalie Kingston, describing, in the current Fashion News, the stunning Patou model in Carmine red, which she wears in the popular style reel now showing at the Fox Elsinore Theatre.

Miss Kingston, one of Hollywood's most accomplished actresses, last seen in a featured role in Paramount's "River of Romance," is a descendant of California's oldest Spanish family, and inherits a flair for the vivid. She chose this gown of heavy fish net with its girdle of brilliants, which may also be seen at where it is attracting considerable and most favorable attention.
