"See me about a telephone before the next rain!"

Last night Mr. Brown had to go out in the rain to telephone.

This was because the Browns have no telephone at home.

He went out to a public telephone at the drug store to send a private call. But when he got there, the first call he sent was to the Telephone Company, and he said:

"Come and talk to me about a telephone before the next rain!"

Summer lingers all the way... on this Southern route to the East

YOUR trip east over the SUNSET ROUTE of Southern Pacific lies along a winterless path of charm and romance. California, the picturesque Southwest and historic Old South are right along the way.

Your route east through this land of eternal summer takes you to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Phoenix, (Apache Trail), San Antonio, New Orleans and a bit of Old Dixie.

From New Orleans continue by rail or enjoy "100 golden hours at sea" by steamship to New York (meals and accommodations on boat included in your rail fare).

Two other routes from California to mid-west and eastern destinations—OVERLAND ROUTE, San Francisco to Chicago; GOLDEN STATE ROUTE, Los Angeles to Kansas City and Chicago.

The fare by way of California is but a very small fraction more than any other way. Phone or call on your local agent for further details of this trip east through southern sunshine.
