

YOUNG WOMEN SEEKING VOTES

Contestants Active in Miss Majestic Race, Report Indicates

Not content with merely taking these votes which may come to them, many of the young women entered in the "Miss Majestic" contest are waging vigorous campaigns for votes secured from the coupons printed daily in The Oregon Statesman, which entitle them to 50 votes, and through turning in prospective radio buyers, each sale netting the contestant from 20,000 to 40,000 votes.

The stories told by the personnel of the Imperial Furniture company and Vibbert & Todd, Salem agents for the Majestic Radio who are sponsoring the contest, are interesting indeed; one young lady has interviewed 100 friends and has them clipping coupons and watching for prospective radio buyers; another has gone out to sell the radio herself. She has interviewed a number of prominent business men in Salem who are now Majestic owners and is using their statements as a background for constructive sales talks. She says she found it easy to obtain these little testimonials in favor of the radio she is selling.

The interest shown in this contest may be surmised from the number of young women who are working earnestly to earn the first prize which is a trip to Hollywood or one of the numerous smaller prizes.

Contest standings to date are as follows:

Arlita Gell	154,850
Evelyn Kertson	137,550
Robert Everson	112,550
Clara King	97,300
Gladys Schaeffer	84,600
Rose Kraeger	81,500
Myrtle Lane	71,950
Hazel Dune	64,250
Francis Walker	63,550
Betty Ross	29,350
Ruth White	24,200
Mildred Sexauer	22,850
Marcia Fuestman	14,250
Ernestine Porter	3,450

LAST DATE FIXED FOR COMPENSATION

National headquarters of the Veterans of Foreign Wars has sent to Marion Post No. 661 of Salem a reminder that expiration of time for filing World War adjusted compensation applications, available to all World War veterans, has been set for January 1, 1930.

With the possibility that congress will refuse further extension of time after this date, every V. F. W. post throughout the country has been asked to canvas its membership and World War veterans in general in this regard, advising them of benefits that await application.

More than 1,000,000 World War veterans have failed to apply for their adjusted compensation certificates, according to government records as of June 30, 1929. Applications totalling more than 3,500,000 have been received and approved by the government.

The expiration date for filing applications has been extended twice in the past as a result of efforts of the national legislative committee of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. and other service organizations, but another extension beyond January 1, 1930, may prove unavailable.

The value of the average certificate outstanding is estimated at $1,000.00 and provides the veteran with a twenty year paid up endowment insurance policy. At the end of twenty years the veteran collects the face sum of his certificate, or in event of his death the full amount of the policy goes to his beneficiaries.

Like ordinary insurance policies, these government certificates have an increasing loan value as the date of maturity draws closer.

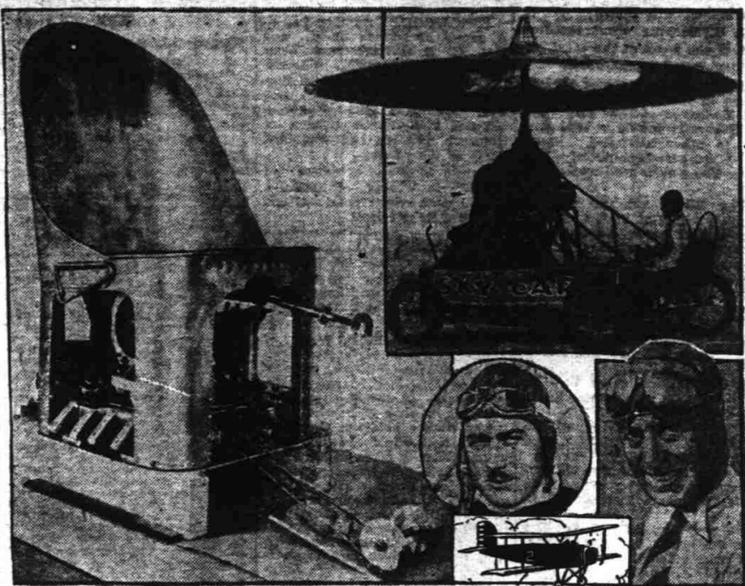

Veterans who have delayed thus far are being urged to act quickly or run the risk of being deprived of this government benefit after January 1st.

FATHERS AND SONS TO HOLD BANQUET

The annual Father and Son banquet of the First M. E. church will be held in the church parlors on Friday of this week at 6:30 p. m. The dinner will be served by mothers of the boys, and the banquet is sponsored by the Men's Council of the church, all boys without fathers being the special guests of the council. Therefore it is urged that all boys of the church school be present.

An enjoyable program of songs, games, short and snappy toasts is being prepared by the committee in charge, and a special feature of the evening will be comedy movies. J. O. Russell will preside as master of ceremonies while the group singing will be under the direction of E. E. Bergman, with Prof. Gaw at the piano. Games will be led by Mr. B. H. Mosher. This banquet has come to be looked forward to as an annual event in the lives of the boys, and last year was perhaps the best that has ever been held in the church, and it is the desire of the committee to make the one this year surpass last year's effort.

Gyroscopic Robot Flies Plane Automatically

One of the most complicated performances ever achieved by man, flying an airplane under all conditions of weather and darkness, has been accomplished by the use of this Sperry gyroscopic robot, at the extreme left. This, however, is not the only achievement made in conquering the air. At the upper right is shown the "Umbrella Plane," which it was assumed would be useful in case of forced landings. In a test at Royal Oak, Michigan, it performed a new innovation in aeronautics, instead of flying it danced around the field. The perfection of airplanes has brought forth many instances of heroism. In the lower right is shown Thomas Carroll, who has tested all makes of fresh planes for more than twelve years, with Douglas Davis, winner of the Cleveland Air Derby, who broke the record for flying between New York and Atlanta.

FATAL SHOOTING OF WOMAN IS MYSTERY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The shooting and fatal wounding of Mrs. Gertrude Hawkins Lavine in an apartment here last night continued to provide a mystery which police were attempting to penetrate before accepting the theory of suicide as final.

One of the disclosures casting some doubt upon the suicide theory was the absence of powder burns around the bullet wound in the temple that caused the death of the 23 year old ditroose and secretary of an automobile dealer here. If she had shot herself, said City Autopsy Surgeon Adolphus A. Berger, there would probably have been powder burns.

The apartment where she was found dying was occupied by Laurence F. Tulloch, employe of a local broadcasting studio, and Tulloch's friend, William Whittle, Santa Cruz broker. Both these men were being questioned in the city jail. Allen Hamilton, son of

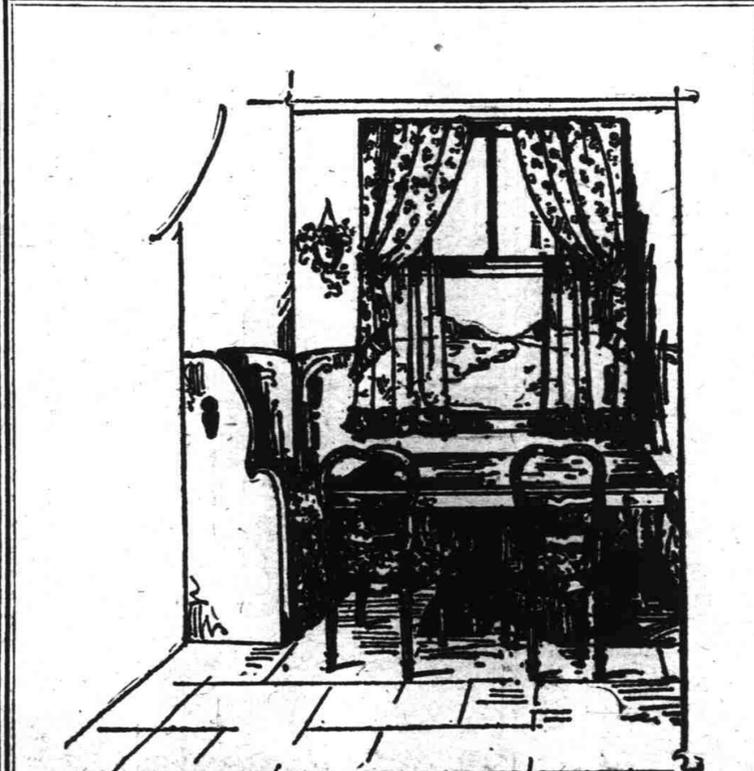

Black Birds Are Brown Birds on Farm at Zena

ZENA, November 21.—Most of us have heard the song "My Blackbirds Are Blue Birds Now," but how many of us have ever seen a black bird that was a brown bird. That is what a farmer at Zena reported he saw recently. A lively flock of birds had been following after him as he plowed, picking up insects and worms. In the flock was one that seemed to be just like the others only in color, being brown like an English sparrow instead of coal black.

Another in the flock was a copper color with black wings flecked with white feathers. The flock, numbering all the way from 50 to 100 birds seemed to be very tame, following the plow quite closely.

Measles Patients Should Be Allowed Reasonable Amount of Light, Report

Contrary to notions which have been carefully guarded for years, patients who have measles should not be closeted in a dark room, but rather should be permitted a comfortable and adequate exposure to light, says the bulletin of the state board of health this week which deals with care of measles. The bulletin follows: One of the earliest signs of an oncoming attack of measles is the reddened condition of the eyes. Tears may be noticed as excessive and almost ready to overflow the lashes during the stage of sneezing and coughing that precedes the skin eruption. These early inflammatory warnings in the eyes usually accompanied by some redness require no treatment. They are the result of the virus of measles. The virus of measles is not only for loss of eyesight but also for the loss of life of many children.

Probably more harm has been done by the old-fashioned notion that the child with measles must be kept in a dark room than by any other nursing fault. The fact that the tears are flowing and the eyes are a little red is not sufficient reason for putting the child in a dark room. In no other disease of childhood are fresh air and good light so imperative in treatment. Fresh air is necessary to avert and counteract lung infection, the thing that kills these babies and children later from pneumonia and other germs often responsible for the serious eye conditions developing in later complications in measles.

Avoid eye complications in measles by banishing the fear of light. Keep the patient comfortable by adequate light and an abundance of fresh air. Extreme cleanliness is a necessity. Nothing stronger than boric acid solution should ever be used in the eyes. Assure comfort by having the patient's back to the light.

Too early use of the eyes at close range and for too long a period after any illness when the eye muscles are relatively weak and flabby, has been responsible for muscle faults. This fact becomes noticeable during convalescence.

Albany Man Is Visitor in This City Thursday

Edward E. Bryan of Albany was a Salem visitor Thursday, calling on the Salem Hardware company. Mr. Bryan is advertising manager for the hardware group affiliated for buying with the Northern Hardware company. Over 200 stores are in the group, including stores in Albany, Silverton, Corvallis and Salem. The affiliation is for buying, the stores continuing to be independently owned and managed.
