STOCK MART IS YET UPON RISE

Substantial Progress Made By Most of Quotations On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The stock market firmly resisted selling pressure today and made further substantial progress under the impetus of continued improvement in credit and constructive news from Washington.

Profit taking on the advance of the past two days, inspired considerable short selling during the early hours of the session and leading shares sagged moderately until close to midday, when they attracted sufficient buying to shake off their sluggishness, and shorts quickly covered, closing prices generally 1 to 17 points higher.

Strength was concentrated in the utilities, rails and chemicals trading continued orderly and comparatively quiet, but showed moderate expansion of volume, 3,138,680 shares changing hands, compared to 2,829,040 yesterday.

Henry Ford's announcement of an immediate wage increase for his employes was a surprise in view of the recent overproduction problems in the motor industry. Otis Steel and Midland Steel Products, which serve the automobile industry primarily, posted notices denying rumors that any wage cut was planned.

Not least among the day's surprises was the federal reserve weekly brokers' loan compilation, disclosed late in the afternoon. A further reduction of $585,000,000 in loans, carrying the total to $3,587,000,000, the lowest since December, 1927, and little more than half the record total of $6,804,000,000 of October 2, last, surpassed all estimates.

Credit was so plentiful during the day that bankers said they could see nothing to delay building and public works projects which have been held up during the recent high rates. Call money again renewed at 5 per cent, and was reduced to 4½ at the loan post. But funds still went begging, and were offered as low as 3 per cent outside. Money brokers said that between $60,000,000 and $80,000,000 seeking employment could not be placed.

Silverton Mill Waits for Logs

SILVERTON, Nov. 21. — The Silver Falls Timber company mill closed Tuesday afternoon to be down until logs are again brought in.

Logging in Silver Falls camps has not been carried on since early in August when forest fires stopped the work in the camps. Considerable track and a number of bridges were burned out at this time making a great deal of construction work necessary. Construction crews have been working in the camps ever since fire conditions permitted and mill officials stated Tuesday that if the present weather continues construction would be sufficiently completed to begin logging by December 2.
