

CURT COMMENTS

Guessing average .655; 38 right and 20 wrong.

For today, we'll pick Corvallis high to beat Salem, Hawaii to beat Oregon, California to beat Stanford, Washington State to beat Gonzaga, College of Idaho to beat Puget Sound.

For once, we'll credit reports from Walla Walla that Pacific scored on the Missionary reserves and not on the regulars. Naturally, Borleske wouldn't keep his first string men in the game any longer than necessary, with the Willamette game coming up so soon. Looks like the Bears are for their work cut out for them when they go to Walla Walla next Thursday.

With a light schedule and games well spread out, the strongest squad in at least eight years and plenty of incentive to fight, we'll opine that the Bears are the best chance they have had in years to shake off the old jinx. But can they?

After all the insults Whitman has heaped on Willamette's long suffering head in the past, one would think the Bears would be about ready to do battle this time if they never did before. There's the two basketball championships Borleske hornsawgged Willamette out of, and, if unofficial reports are authentic, there's some little point about the championship baseball series, last spring that Spec Keene's athletics would like to iron out.

How about it, Bears?

When Borleske was down here with his football team a year ago, he felt awfully sorry for Willamette. "How can they expect to have anything without the town back of them?" said Nig. That was when his team was away in the lead and the deadheads on the other side of the millrace were razzing the Bears.

We haven't heard anybody razzing them this year—except down at Albany last week, and then it was some Albany wolves that did it.

Arnold Bennett Hall is a brave man. Whether he's a wise one or not will develop in the near future.

Likewise John J. McEwan is a clever business man. He picked just the right time to announce his "resignation," which may or may not be final.

Already the hue and cry is rising, just as the captain figured. Aside from any opinion we might have one way or the other about McEwan's merits as a coach, our viewpoint is that his negotiations for a new contract should have been carried out on a matter of fact basis. He is adopting the attitude we hear so much about, that the football coach is bigger than the college, and that by threatening to leave at the psychological moment, he can get anything he wants.

So we're going to have some wrestling. More power to their elbows!

CENTRAL DRUGGISTS BEAT DAY AND NILES

The Central Pharmacy bowling team had the honor of dropping the Day and Niles quintet from first place in the Statesman league Friday night, that honor now being shared by the Oldsmobile Vikings and Carson Pharmacy.

The Carson pill rollers won two games from Fulop's Central Pharmacy won two from Day and Niles, and the Vikings defeated Sunfreze in like fashion.

Mert Hemenway, dean of the Winter Garden bowling academy, will inaugurate his handicap turkey shoot tonight at 8 o'clock.

Backed by nearly 400 rooters who will make the trip on a special train, the Salem high school football team will line up against the Corvallis high gridgers, not yet defeated by a Willamette valley eleven, on Bell field at Corvallis this afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 2:15.

Excursion Train to Leave at 12 o'clock
The red and black excursion train will leave at noon from Trade street between Commercial and High. It will go direct to Bell field, and will be loaded for the return trip as soon as the game is over.

Coach Hollis Huntington reported Friday night that all of his regulars were in good condition, with the exception that Bob Kelly and Hug have suffered injuries to their arms. Hug is unable to do any passing but Kelly's injury must be on his left arm; anyway he has been flipping the oval effectively in practice. Hug's kicking leg is in good shape.

Tough Game Expected
By Salem Warriors
The warriors of the red and black are well aware that they are facing a hard game, inasmuch as Corvallis held Eugene to a tie score and Eugene, although it scored largely through a penalty, generally outplayed the Salem high team here.

On the other hand, Salem has an advantage in that its team has not played since Armistice day, while Corvallis will be playing its second hard game within a week.

The outstanding star of the college town eleven is Roney Adams, who has run wild against practically every opposing team excepting Eugene, and in that contest he did some notable work.

When Coach Nig Borleske scored largely through a penalty, generally outplayed the Salem high team here.

Whitman scored on four plays from the kick off to open the game and added three more during the first half to lead 27 to 0.

Holmgren, Applegate and Rees were stars for the winners and Miller, McGinn and Tuor were bright lights for Pacific.

Action pictures of the University of Detroit's night football games will be rare. The floodlights lack actinic power needed for photographs.

THREE GAMES OUTSTANDING

Yale-Harvard Contest Attracts Most Attention Today

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Football fans will not be permitted to remain hungry tomorrow, in spite of the inactivity of a number of crack teams to await a Thanksgiving feast. Lack of quantity in the Saturday menu is compensated by its quality.

Three games, reading from east to west across the map, stand out in bold relief, but more than a score of others are fought with interest and importance to their immediate partisans. Front and center of the program are Yale and Harvard at Cambridge, Notre Dame and Northwestern at Evanston and California and Stanford at Palo Alto.

Harvard and Yale held the list because they are Harvard and Yale, ancient foes with many old scores to settle. When the crimson meets the blue, caution flags out of the window, so anything may be expected as Johnny and Eli clash.

Notre Dame, with its great coach, Knute Rockne left behind on a sick bed, may be expected to win from Northwestern, because it always has, but seldom have the Ramblers been able to vanquish the Wildcats without a stern struggle.

California is shooting at a championship when it plays Pop Warner's burly Stanford outfit. Victory will give Nibs Price and his undefeated cohorts a clear title to the laurel wreath or crown to be bestowed by the Pacific coast conference, and in it an invitation to defend the honor of the west against one of the east's best in a post season game at Pasadena, where the roses bloom New Year's day.

LOCAL FIGHTERS TO APPEAR AT HUBBARD

Salem fighters will figure prominently in the card that is being lined up for presentation at Hubbard next Friday night, November 29. Joe Blackwell of this city will meet the well known Spud Murphy of Hubbard in the ten round main event. Blackwell weighs 155 pounds, and Murphy 157.

Jack Summers of West Salem will fight Curly Schuman of St. Paul in the six round semi-final at 152 pounds. Lloyd Ambrose of Salem is to meet Swartz Bazneck of Hubbard in a four rounder at 122 pounds.

Red Moehler of Salem will trade fisticuffs with Kid Westfall of Hubbard over the four round route at 137 pounds, and Kid Summers of West Salem, who fought Jim Jeffries here Wednesday night, will fight Knockout Hubbard, for whom the town was named, at 98 pounds.

Mel Brown, local instructor, has provided several of the men for this card.

INTERCLASS HOOP GAMES SCHEDULED

DALLAS, Ore., Nov. 21.—(Special)—The first of a series of interclass basketball games were played today. The games are for students of the various classes with the exception of the football men and basketball lettermen. There will probably be six games each team playing every other team once.

The first game was between the freshman and sophomore teams. It looked like a close game at

COAST TITLE PUT IN ISSUE

Last Chapter of Far-West Football Race Will Be Written Today

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—On the green turf of Stanford stadium tomorrow will be written the last gripping chapter of a football drama whose climax will unveil to a million or more far western fans either a new champion of the Pacific Coast conference or a situation involving many teams whose records include one defeat.

Before a capacity throng of 89,000 persons, California's undefeated Bears will stake their championship hopes in a final bid for glory against their oldest college rivals—Stanford's Cardinals. In a season of thrill-packed victories and astounding reversals, the Bears have fought their way to within sight of the finish line. Only a traditional gridiron enemy blocks the way to the first clean-cut championship since 1923.

Not in six seasons has California's chance been so bright but each and every member of the squad knows that all the gridiron prowess that has brought the blue and gold to the top will have to be brought into play tomorrow to vanquish a foe of 37 years standing. In all the years since these two rivals first lined up on the football field in 1892, the annual "big game" has been the most stubbornly contested of all.

California's record has been brilliant, Stanford's disastrous but despite this variance in football fortunes they will face each other on practically even terms.

A California conquest will give it undisputed possession of the conference title. A defeat will muddy the situation to the extent of having one defeat charged to California, Stanford, Southern California and Oregon.

Washington State also has been defeated but once but hardly figures to defeat Southern California, Nov. 30. If it should score an upset, however, it would replace Southern California as the fourth title claimant.

Wrestling Card to Be Held Here

Applauded by a host of hungry wrestling fans who haven't been privileged to witness their favorite sport for more than a year in Salem, announcement was made Friday that the game would be revived next Tuesday night when Des Anderson, former national amateur champ at his weight, 147 pounds, meets Ray Lyness of Aberdeen, Wash.

Anderson is planning to make his home in Salem, and has already done considerable training in anticipation of the match next Tuesday night at the armory. He took on nine grapplers Thursday night and disposed of each in less than a minute. He is already well known and liked by a large number of local fans.

Lyness is a prominent figure in the mat game. He has met such experts as Cal Herman and Young Santell, and has to his credit victories of Billy Edwards and Vic Potter.

The Police Gazette rules will prevail, guaranteeing that there will be nothing tame about this encounter, as both wrestlers have reputation for the use of "he-man" tactics on the mat.

SYNCOPATED CREW STROKE IS DEVISED

LONDON.—(AP)—Athletes of the London Rowing club have devised a system of "syncopated" rowing which they contend is much faster than any yet seen in regattas hereabout.

The usual method of rowing, in which the whole crew pulls together, pauses, and pulls again, results in a loss of momentum between strokes, advocates of the new system explain.

In "syncopated" rowing the crew members row in pairs, so that some of the oars always are pulling.

Nevada Team Is Beaten by Saints

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—(AP)—St. Mary's college overwhelmed Nevada 54-0 today at Kesar stadium to remain the only undefeated and unscored on major football team in the country. Fighting gamely through four quarters, Nevada however, threw two bad screws into Gael supporters' hopes of an unscored goal line.

WOODBURN HIGH 11 WINS 25 TO 0

Win Over Silverton Closes Successful Season for Bulldog Team

SILVERTON, Nov. 22.—(Special)—The Woodburn high school football team finished its schedule with an unbroken series of victories, today when it defeated the Silverton high eleven 25 to 0 before the largest crowd that had ever turned out for a gridiron contest here.

As a result of this victory and its clean slate for the season, Woodburn high is a claimant for consideration for the mythical state championship.

The Woodburn eleven displayed exceptional teamwork, making its best yardage on end runs although it completed three forward passes out of five attempts. Woodburn made 16 first downs. Silverton put up stronger competition than the score indicated, making ten first downs. It tried 20 forward passes, completing eight.

Kohn and Johnson were Silverton's outstanding backfield men in Friday's game, and Fuller and Graham earned special notice with their line play. L. Scholer and Oberst were Woodburn's strongest players.

Much enthusiasm prior to the game was kindled at a rally held Friday night. The Silverton team will end its season with a game against Stayton high Thanksgiving day. This will be the last game for Harwood, fullback and captain of the Silverton eleven.
