Visit Silvertown School—To the first hand just how the "night period" system works in the junior high school, R. W. Tannen, secondary school supervisor, and Miss Signe Paulson, junior high school science supervisor, recently visited the junior high school at Silvertown. Tannen reports that he was much impressed with the way the system is working there, and de-lighted to find it employed so close at hand. W. H. Dunn, principal at Silvertown, has built the school work there around the theory that the primary idea in education is to build for citizenship, rather than for purely class work. Carrying out his ideas, the students take charge of every possible detail of school life. It is possible the split period system will be adopted in the junior high here before another year.

Sophomores Get Reprimand—Because the sophomore class at the high school has asserted too much independence or at least has cut itself off from the rest of the student body, the members were given straight from-the-shoulder talks in a short class meeting yesterday. Principal Fred Wolf, Joe King, student body president, and J. C. Nelson, principal emeritus, all gave pretty severe lectures to the first-year students and asked that they get into the game with a will. At a general assembly held immediately following the class session, Superintendent Hug also asked the sophomores to make an effort to adjust themselves to the school.

Seal Sale Not Red Cross—Incidentally, the annual tuberculosis association Christmas seal sale was mentioned yesterday as the Red Cross Christmas seal sale. Although the Red Cross is making its annual roll call at this time, that association has nothing to do with the seal sale, which will begin Friday morning and last through the Christmas holidays.

Bulletin Board Placed—A large bulletin board made of beaver board and decorated with an artistic board of greens and oranges by members of Miss Ruth Braas's art class at the high school was Wednesday placed on one of the hall walls at the Y. W. C. A. Activities of the various groups affiliated with the Y. W. will be "broadcast" from the bulletin board.

Convict Dope Smuggler—Mel Green, who attempted to smuggle a quantity of dope into the county jail to J. A. Johnson last August, was convicted in federal court Tuesday under a violation of the Harrison narcotic act. Sentence was not imposed at the trial. Green attempted to send the narcotics into the jail by secreting them in a carton of cigarettes. Johnson is serving a year in the state penitentiary for shoplifting, having been found guilty of stealing neckties from a local store.

GERRAIS RESIDENT WINS GRAND PRIZE

E. G. Welsner of Gervais, route 1, was the winner of the grand prize, a silver trophy cup, in the annual corn show at the United States National Bank Wednesday.

Other prizes went as follows: Second, to Roy Todd, Sidney, $10 in cash; third, G. L. Ellsworth, Salem, route 1, $9; fourth, Gerben Donker, Aumsville, $8; fifth, M. W. Maloney, Gervais route 3, $7; sixth, Peter Donker, Aumsville, $6.

More than 50 entries were made in the corn show. According to Robert Shinn, farm advisor of the bank, corn exhibited this year is of a better quality than that of last year and the number of entries is much larger.

C. R. Biggs, county agent of Benton county, judged the show and expressed the opinion that it was of unusually high merit. "The corn exhibited here could well be shown at any corn show in the northwest and would rate very high," said Mr. Biggs.

Entries were from Polk and Marion counties and were limited to the yellow dent variety. Past experiment has shown that yellow dent is the corn best adapted to this vicinity.

According to Mr. Shinn much progress has been made in the growing of corn during the past few years. Earlier developing varieties have been produced through

BREAKFAST CLUB HOLDS MEET HERE

To the tune of "Oh I like to get up in the morning," two dozen men about town gathered at the Gray-Belle Wednesday morning for the second session of the breakfast club which is being set going in Salem. Quite a number of Legionnaires shook the sheets in time for the 7:30 reveille.

Clifford Moynihan served as toastmaster and snapped out orders, moving thing along as skillfully as a drill sergeant. A. W. Peterson, regent of Royal Arcanum, fraternal insurance organization which sponsors the club, invited the crowd back for the next breakfast two weeks hence.

Carl Gabrielson, member of the Portland breakfast club, told something of the activities of that "ham and" organization.

Karl Wenger, trust officer of the U. S. National bank, told young lawyers and others present to go to a good lawyer and have wills drawn. Wenger talked on trusts, discussing estate trusts, life insurance trusts and living trusts.

THAT FIRST THANKSGIVING 1621

OUR forefathers gave thanks for their homes in the New World, for the small crops garnered, for the lives of those who had been spared, for the possibilities of the future to their children and the generations to come after.

THANKSGIVING 1929

WE, too, give thanks for those gifts handed down to us, for Peace, Prosperity, for the patronage and cooperation of friends who have made success possible.
