Every Chrysler owner can profit by this rule:

For your motor's sake choose an oil that forms no hard carbon

Three to five times as much carbon and the kind that causes trouble—hard, flinty carbon. Yet it came from an expensive oil that is otherwise a good lubricant!

* * *

A little bit of soft, fluffy soot formed by burned Shell Motor Oil. Scarcely enough to hurt a motor even if it stayed in—but it blows nastily away through the exhaust

THE whole Chrysler line, from haughty "Imperial" to saucy Plymouth, is a real automotive achievement.

Forward-looking people buy Chryslers—and are repaid many times over in thrilling Chrysler performance.

But any car can be ruined by carelessness. You can't run without water in the battery, or without grease in the transmission. You must keep your car lubricated, serviced, if you expect it to go on working faithfully.

And be sure that you understand this point about motor oil: All oils form some carbon when they burn. Yet some of the costliest ones form three to five times as much carbon. And, strangely enough, many of these costly oils leave hard carbon—a kind that cakes like cement inside your motor.

Shell Motor Oil forms only a very little soft soot that blows away easily with the exhaust gases.

Avoid oils that form gritty, coke-like carbon deposits. They'll cause you valve trouble. Bits of carbon will chip off and grind endlessly through moving motor parts. Glowing, red-hot "nibs" will make your motor knock.

Why ask your car to perform against such odds? Give it a chance to keep free from hard carbon. Shell motor Oil is sold by thousands of stations and garages. Insist that it go into your Chrysler.

THE PROPER OIL FOR CHRYSLER IMPERIAL IS SHELL MOTOR OIL "D." FOR ALL OTHER CHRYSLERS, SHELL MOTOR OIL "C"
