HEARINGS WILL BE RESUMED MONDAY

(Continued from Page 1.) Five employes had handled the matter. The examination of Mannix was resumed Saturday morning. Evan Reames for the prosecution continued to press Mannix as to his questionable actions in the various phases of the extended Wemme litigation. The chief point of the inquiry was the inclusion of the name of the E. Henry Wemme company in certain actions without authorization by the board of directors or the alien property custodian. Asked about a telegram sent by Dow Walker to the custodian at Washington, Mannix' memory was very hazy as to the sending of the telegram or the receipt of a reply. Frank Longman, defense attorney, made only a brief cross-examination and Mannix retired from the stand at 10:30, subject to recall. Additional charges which remain to be taken up are additional bad check complaints, and the Condit-McBride liquor charges.

CHRISTMAS FUND IS INCREASING SLOWLY

(Continued from Page 1.) town Saturday evening, she observed three poorly dressed children standing before a beautifully decorated window containing all manner of wonderful toys and dolls, add as she came nearer her practiced eye observed something quite unusual in the attitude of the young girl. Instead of looking into the window her head was hanging down. Mrs. Williams approached the group and asked what the difficulty was "Was the little girl crying?" And as she looked down upon the poor ragged children the little child raised her sightless sockets towards Mrs. Williams. HER EYES WERE GONE AND SHE COULD NOT SEE THE WONDERFUL ARRAY OF TOYS AND DOLLS. Further inquiry on the part of Mrs. Williams brought forth the fact that Santa Claus had forgotten them last Christmas. (Think of it! A poor blind girl forgotten at Christmas time!) And their father had purchased a second-hand phonograph for the entire family—after Christmas. There are several other children in this family. And thus another name goes down on the Army's list for investigation early this coming week. It is just ten days, including two Sundays, before hungry, poorly clad and lightly sheltered unfortunate will be looking anxiously for the Christmas cheer promised by The Salvation Army. Will you do prompt such dear children as this little blind girl. Only ten days to go and just a little over one-fourth of the $2,000.00 Christmas budget raised. Whose name may we add to the list of donors Tuesday morning?

M'NARY YET TALKED FOR BIG PROMOTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Members of the so-called young guard republicans and the western independents are in line for positions of the key committees in the forthcoming majority reorganization in the senate. The principal competition centers on the foreign relations, finance and commercial committee vacancies. These committees will be charged with the formulation of much of the Hoover administration program during the session. Particular interest was evident tonight in the makeup of the foreign relations committee, which soon will have before it the controversial world court issue and possibly a treaty from the forthcoming London naval arms conference. Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations committee, and the two ranking republicans on the committee—Senators Johnson, of California, and Moses, of New Hampshire—are foes of the revised world court protocol which President Hoover recently signed. Senator McNary, of Oregon, looked upon as leader of the young guard, is the popular choice for the assistant leadership of the republicans succeeding Senator Jones, of Washington, who becomes chairman of the appropriations committee.

VOLCANOES ACTIVE ON ALASKAN COAST

SEATTLE, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Volcanoes reported spouting flame and lava several hundred feet in the air and at frequent intervals along the southern coast of the Alaska peninsula, shows signs of becoming violent as late as October, Lieutenant R. R. Lukens, of the United States coast and geodetic survey, revealed here today. His statement led to the belief that the seven volcanoes which the crew of the steamer Starr signed and reported yesterday as showing unusual activity may have been spouting off for some time. They are located northwest of Kodiak and in a region where there are only a few Indian settlements. Lieutenant Lukens, master of the U. S. S. Surveyor, who returned here recently after his twelfth annual cruise of Alaskan waters, said Katmai and Magick, two of the seven volcanoes reported erupting, were spreading dense clouds of sulphur steam before his return. Katmai showered Kodiak island and the mainland where it is located with volcanic ash in 1912.

PROSECUTION FOR MURDER CONTINUES

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Dec. 14.—(AP)—With the identity of a man claiming to be Connie Franklin for whose alleged mutilation, torture and murder, five men are under indictment, still a question, the case tonight was ready for presentation in court Monday for settlement. Two brothers who will oppose each other in the trial, High Williamson, the prosecuting attorney and Ben Williamson, chief of defense counsel, today completed their preparations to present to a jury for decision the question of the identity of a man who the state claims is dead. Efforts of defense to establish the man's identity as Franklin, whose sweetheart, Tiller Ruminer, 16 year old mountain lass and

GRAM ASKS TO INCREASE WORK

Oregon Labor Commissioner Urges Senator to Push Rail Projects

Senator McNary was urged to appear before the interstate commerce commission and request the speeding up of hearings on various railroad construction applications now pending before the body, in a telegram prepared here Saturday by C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner. "While Oregon has no greater degree of unemployment than a year ago," read Gram's telegram, "it seems that there is more distress as the result of a somewhat slower summer season. Work was not sufficient during the summer to permit our working people amassing a surplus against the winter slack period. "There seems to be a personal desire to support President Hoover's plans of providing employment, and along this line we would suggest that there are a number of projects which can be started here. We find that requests have been made to the interstate commerce commission for permits for new railroad construction."

Projects enumerated in Gram's telegram follow: Application of Oregon Electric Railway company for certificate of convenience and necessity authorizing construction by it of a line of railroad extending from a point between Albany and Cooper, in a general southeasterly direction to a point at or near Cascadia, a distance of 40.60 miles with three branch lines therefrom, all in Clatsop county. Application of Great Northern Railway company to construct a line of railroad in Klamath county, Oregon, and in Siskiyou and Modoc counties, Calif. Application of Western Pacific Railroad company for certificate to construct a line of railroad in Plumas, Lassen and Modoc counties. Joint application of the Great Northern Railway company and Western Pacific Railroad company for certificate to construct a line of railroad between Lookout and Hambone, Calif. "It is our understanding," continued Gram's telegram, "that the interstate commerce commission has held hearings for and against all of these projects. May we not hope for immediate and favorable action on your part as we can assure you that such action will meet with hearty approval of the people of the state or Oregon."

HOOVER SENDS RADICALS HOME

36 Communists are Released From Jail on Request Of President

(Continued from Page 1.) ter, when police followed them. Police had advance information of the proposed parade and assigned a detail to prevent disorder. Department of justice agents after hearing a report that the federal building was being bombed, also rushed to the scene to guard the building, which is near the city hall. Carrying placards bearing the inscriptions "workers' children halt the revolt of the Haitian workers and their children," and "Hoover declares war on workers" the communists marched toward the city hall singing "Internationale." When orders to disperse went unheeded, mounted police charged the parade. The enraged crowd then made a dash for the city hall, sweeping through a line of policemen standing guard on the steps. Police stationed inside the building stemmed the rush, and after the first ten of their number entering the city hall had been placed under arrest, the others turned and fled. Four Jailed For Resisting Officers Four were arrested when they resisted efforts of the police to wrest banners from their comrades. Patrolman Earl Gonyou suffered a broken shoulder and Patrolman John Hennessy received a severe beating when they were set upon by the crowd. Mounted police had just cleared City Hall park when a call for reserves came into police headquarters from Union square. This demonstration was brief, however, for the communists rushed into the Communist Party of America headquarters situated on the square when they heard sirens heralding the approach of the emergency squads.

INVENTOR SENDS BOMBS IN MAIL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Francis Cadwell, 26, eccentric inventor, was confined to the psychopathic ward tonight after he had confessed to police he had mailed a bomb to Clark Scott, of Townsend, November 5, and planned to manufacture a dozen similar devices for distribution throughout the United States. Cadwell said the bomb he sent to Scott was a experiment to test the advisability of using the mails in bomb distribution. Scott, he said, was a friend he made while living in Townsend. Scott unwrapped an innocent looking package postmarked from Los Angeles at his camp on November 29, and was seriously injured in an explosion which followed. Three bystanders were wounded. Half an hour after the bomb had exploded Scott received a telegram warning him not to open a package from Los Angeles. The message was signed "Dementia." Police said they arrested Cadwell after tracing the telegram to him. Postmarks on the package enclosing the bomb also were used in the search.

Crash in Stock Market Is Given New Explanation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A new explanation of the recent stock market disturbance was given in the senate today by Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma. "The stock market crash" he said, "was caused by a riot breaking out in the Wall street stadium in a post season speculative game between the old Kollidge bulls and young Hoover bears. "As in the case in most contests between youth and age," he added, "The Hoover Bears came out victorious."
