

CARNEGIE TECH WILTS UNDER TROJANS' ATTACK

CURTIS COMMENTS

Continuity is a great factor in sport events—partly because it gives the sport writers something to talk about. In the category of events having this useful attribute belongs the annual basketball game between the Salem high quintet and the alumni, which will be played Friday night.

Without digging into history fully, it may be sufficient to note that last year the high school team won this big game 27 to 24, and prior thereto for three years the alumni had won.

It's a great opportunity for some of the stars who have made basketball history at Salem high—a history which every graduate of the local school recalls with pride and pleasure to be seen in action once more.

For instance, it's entirely possible that two men who are now members of the varsity squad at O. S. C. and one who is on the varsity squad at the U. of O. will be in the alumni lineup Friday night, along with one who has played two seasons at Willamette, coach on the all-Northwest conference quintet.

These players are Bob Drager, now a letterman at O. S. C., and Tom Duffy, who is on the squad there; Harold Olinger, who is expected to be a regular on the university quintet; Dwight Adams, who has been a regular for two seasons at Willamette, and Bob Ashby, who played there one season.

Other former Salem high stars who may scintillate again include some more of the Ashby family, a couple or so of Siegmunds, Lyons, Beecher, Hansen, Kafury—or, the list could run on indefinitely.

Speaking of present Oregon State, U. of O. and Willamette players appearing on the same team reminds us of an independent outfit we played on several years ago. We had a center and one forward from Oregon, and two guards from Oregon State. We were the other forward.

And do you know, the old rivalry was so strong that when one of the O. S. C. guards had the ball, if he couldn't throw it to the other O. S. C. guard advantageously, he had to throw it to us, and we could throw it to the Oregon men. Some teamwork, we had.

Of course, nothing like that will happen when the alumni get together Friday night.

Listening to the description of how Carnegie Tech played circles around the Trojans in the first half at Los Angeles Saturday, we begin to wonder just how good these California teams are after all. About the same thing, though not so pronounced, happened when the Trojans played Washington State.

Maybe it's just the climate. Yet look at what Howard Jones's boys did to poor old Bagshaw and his outfit at Seattle early in the season.

Now comes the southern collegiate conference proposing to subsidize its players frankly and openly. It's just what we advocated two months or so ago, when the Carnegie Foundation report was first being discussed. Of course the Statesman's circulation in Alabama and Georgia is limited, and the athletic moguls probably didn't get the idea from us.

But we submit that the idea of "simon pure amateurism" was invented long ago by aristocrats for the purpose of confining participation in sports to themselves. Leisure to indulge in sports is costly. The average young fellow just doesn't get the chance.

That is, he didn't until sports began to attract the attention they do today, and it became profitable for colleges in search of good athletes, to make financial provision which would permit those young fellows to go to college and have the time to participate in sports.

Today the aristocrats are no longer in the saddle. They held on longest in tennis, but that field is now headed by such fellows as Bill Tilden, who has to make a living but manages to do it and keep on playing. And oh, what a whirl of protest he has caused by invading this last stronghold of the aristocrats.

There's no way that young fellows can go to college, participate in sports, study, and earn a living without overtaxing themselves unduly. If the young fellow who hasn't a bankroll behind him is to have a chance, the southern association plan, which does away with under cover subsidizing, is the right and only solution.

The Dolly Madison well, near the birthplace of President James Madison's wife, will be marked by the D. A. R. of Guilford county, N. C.

Two sons of Henri Verbruggen, conductor of the Minneapolis symphony orchestra, plan to enter the cattle business in Texas.

Tennis is the most popular sport among women at the University of Texas.

Schissler Signs Contract for Five More Years at Oregon State

45-13 SCORE IS PILED UP

Eastermans Show Superiority in First Half; Reserves Decide Game

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLISEUM, Los Angeles, Dec. 14.—(AP)—A Carnegie Tech scoring attack which blossomed and flourished in the first half, wilted and was swept away before the determined Trojans of Southern California in the final two periods of their clash here today, sending the Tartans to a 45 to 13 defeat before 50,000 madly cheering fans.

It was the tremendous reserve strength of the "Trojans" which brought about the crash of a great effort after the valiant aggregation from the smoky city had started everybody, including the men of Troy, with a touchdown rush shortly after the opening kickoff.

Saunders and Tappan Lead Trojan Attack
Credit Russell Saunders, driving quarterback, and Francis Tappan left end, with a greater share of the work which turned the tide to a Southern California victory in the third period after the count was deadlocked at half time 13-13.

What the stocky Saunders failed to do in his running attack, he supplanted with unerring passes. It was his pass to Garrett Arbelbide which brought Coach Howard Jones' men their first touchdown after the team from Pittsburgh had swept all before it to send Murray Armentrout across, giving the Tartans the lead.

Armentrout, who had been substituting only a moment before for Johnny Eyth at left half, covered himself with glory, not only by his touchdown but by superb cut-backs through the tackles and remarkable, shifty end runs. His 77 yards in 15 attempts all but equalled the record of Saunders. The U. S. C. signal caller made 124 yards in 24 tries for a 5.2 yard average. The Tartan half-back averaged 5.1.

Pass Pats Carnegie in Position to Score
Harry McCurdy's fifteen yard pass to Thayer Flanagan, who replaced George Kennedy, put Coach Walter Steffen's eleven in a position to score. Flanagan punted and twisted his way to the shadows of the Trojans goal line.

It was a parade of 45 yards in eight plays which brought the score.
Determined that they must go into the annual Tournament of Roses game at Pasadena, New Year's day against Pittsburgh in the Commercial league, another defeat, the Trojans struck back with Tappan scoring after a beautiful running catch of Marshall Duffield's long pass. This time John Baker kicked goal.

Eastern Team Comes Back to Score Again
But the lead served only to spur the easterners on. They launched a second drive goalward which netted sixty-six yards in eleven plays. Armentrout leading the attack, McCurdy executed a perfect quarterback sneak after the ball had been placed on the Trojan one-foot marker, but Captain John Dreshar's place kick was wide.

Seeking to go into the second half with the lead, the Trojans attempted eight consecutive passes in the dying minutes of the first, but the three completed fell far short of the Tartan goal.

In eight plays, with Saunders carrying the burden of the thrust, the U. S. C. eleven inaugurated the opening of the third period with a 65-yard gain and a touchdown. It marked the beginning of the end for the treacherous Tartans, for Saunders duplicated his feat a few moments later with another tally after a sweeping end run.

In rushed Tartan reserves, but this did not prevent Jones' aggregation from driving to three more touchdowns. Edelson took Saunders' pass for the first of these, while Duffield and Thomas Wilcox, substitute tackle, brought the other two.

Whatever the score may show, Carnegie Tech accounted for the greatest yardage, making 18 first downs to 14 for U. S. C. Three hundred eighteen yards were made from scrimmage, but the Trojans out-did their opponents in passes. The men of Troy completed 9 of 17 efforts for 162 yards against six out of 19 for 153 yards. The Southern California yardage from scrimmage stood at 254.

The summary:
Carnegie Tech Pos. U. S. C. English.....LE. E. Tappan Schmidt.....LT. Hoff Dreshar (C).....LG. Barragar (C) Ducas.....RG. Galloway Higberger.....RT. Anthony L. Flanagan.....RE. Arbelbide McCurdy.....QB. Saunders Kennedy.....LH. Edelson Eyth.....RH. Pinkert Morbito.....PB. Shaver

Scores by quarters:
U. S. C......9 13 13 19—45 Carnegie Tech.....7 6 0 0—13
Touchdowns: U. S. C.—Arbelbide, Tappan, Duffield (substitute for Saunders); Wilcox (substitute for Hoff); Edelson, Saunders 2. Carnegie Tech—Armentrout (substitute for Eyth) McCurdy.

Points after touchdown: U. S. C. (place kicks) Baker (substitute for Barragar); Shaver (drop kick); Duffield, Carnegie Tech (place kick) Dreshar.

MORAN PICKS ANOTHER TEAM

All-Star Aggregation Places Some Men in Unusual Positions

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Moran, northwest conference official, today announced his 1923 all-conference football eleven. The first team includes five Willamette university players, two from Whitman, and one each from Linfield, College of Puget Sound, Pacific and College of Idaho.

The team, in the picking of which Moran was assisted by coaches of the conference, follows:
FIRST TEAM
Holmgren, Whitman end.
Lindman, Whitman end.
Carpenter, Willamette, tackle.
Genero, College of Puget Sound, tackle.
Tuor, Pacific, guard.
Jones, Willamette, guard.
Cardinal, Willamette, center.
Warren, Linfield, quarterback.
Rudage, College of Idaho, halfback.
Erickson, Willamette, half back.
Lang, Willamette, fullback.

SECOND TEAM
Reese, Whitman, end.
Sapp, College of Idaho, end.
Roberts, College of Idaho, tackle.
Ager, Pacific, guard.
Philpott, Willamette, guard.
Ackerman, Willamette, center.
Gillham, College of Puget Sound, quarterback.
Miller, Pacific, halfback.
O'Connor, College of Idaho, halfback.
Applegate, Whitman, fullback.

Persons in Salem who have learned of Mike Moran's selections for his all-Northwest conference eleven have been mildly surprised—yes, "mildly" is the word.

Out of the 22 men on Moran's first and second elevens, eight are strictly out of position, the outstanding case being Cardinal of Willamette, who, so far as could be learned, has never snapped a football back between his legs, much less played center in a game.

Tuor of Pacific is a center; not a guard; Jones of Willamette is a tackle, not a guard; a shift which is not quite so bad, Reese, whom Moran placed at end on the second eleven, ranks with Erickson as outstandingly the best ball carrier in the conference. Rutledge of College of Idaho is a quarterback, not a halfback. Mengel of Whitman is a guard, not a tackle, and Applegate is a quarterback, not a fullback.

Although Moran claimed to have consulted with the coaches, it is noticeable that he placed Philpott of Willamette on the second eleven, when at least three coaches put him on the first.

The supposition among local fans is that Moran, seeking to please everybody, picked what he considered Willamette's five best men, put them on without consideration to positions, and then picked somebody from each of the other schools to make them all happy.

The only other possible conclusion is that Moran was too busy looking for violations of the rules to keep track of the lineups.

Persons in Salem who have learned of Mike Moran's selections for his all-Northwest conference eleven have been mildly surprised—yes, "mildly" is the word.

Out of the 22 men on Moran's first and second elevens, eight are strictly out of position, the outstanding case being Cardinal of Willamette, who, so far as could be learned, has never snapped a football back between his legs, much less played center in a game.

Tuor of Pacific is a center; not a guard; Jones of Willamette is a tackle, not a guard; a shift which is not quite so bad, Reese, whom Moran placed at end on the second eleven, ranks with Erickson as outstandingly the best ball carrier in the conference. Rutledge of College of Idaho is a quarterback, not a halfback. Mengel of Whitman is a guard, not a tackle, and Applegate is a quarterback, not a fullback.

Although Moran claimed to have consulted with the coaches, it is noticeable that he placed Philpott of Willamette on the second eleven, when at least three coaches put him on the first.

The supposition among local fans is that Moran, seeking to please everybody, picked what he considered Willamette's five best men, put them on without consideration to positions, and then picked somebody from each of the other schools to make them all happy.

The only other possible conclusion is that Moran was too busy looking for violations of the rules to keep track of the lineups.

Persons in Salem who have learned of Mike Moran's selections for his all-Northwest conference eleven have been mildly surprised—yes, "mildly" is the word.

Out of the 22 men on Moran's first and second elevens, eight are strictly out of position, the outstanding case being Cardinal of Willamette, who, so far as could be learned, has never snapped a football back between his legs, much less played center in a game.

Kuehne and Anderson to Meet Again

BATTLE IS ON AND THEN OFF

Relative merits of the "Boston crab" and the "leg split" as effective means to victory on the wrestling mat, are being argued with renewed vigor, following the announcement that Des Anderson and Harry Kuehne will tangle again at the armory Wednesday night.

It so happened that Anderson won the "split" hold in forcing Kuehne to pound the mat for the first fall, and Kuehne came back with the punishing "crab" to win the second. Each wrestler wriggled out of the other's favorite hold on other occasions.

Additional "kick" is provided for the match due to the question raised as to whether Anderson actually had Kuehne's shoulders on the mat when the referee called the former the deciding fall.

Anderson was using a front headlock and jamming the Newberg wrestler's head up and down and it's certain that both shoulders touched the mat more than once, but whether both shoulder blades were held there at once, is a question on which there is a difference of opinion.

At any rate, it was a great match, and it so tickled the one-sided fans that they have been telling their friends about it from that day on, and will still be talking about it until Wednesday night's match gives them a new topic.

Anderson, who is making Salem his home and plans to remain here, has promised to shrink down to something less than 142 pounds before Wednesday, so that Kuehne's western welterweight championship belt will be at stake.

ORANGEMEN PLAN LONG HOOP JAUNT

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 14.—(Special)—With the football season officially closed at Oregon State, basketball men hold the attention of sport fans. Ten Oregon State varsity basketball players, accompanied by their coach, Slaty Gill, will leave here Wednesday morning for California where they will play eight games in the bay district. The Orangemen won their opening game with Multnomah club in Portland last Friday night.

Early indications are that the Orangemen will have a very strong team this season as Coach Gill has such a wealth of material to pick from. Six lettermen are on the squad besides some promising talent from the rookie squad of last year.

Players who were picked to make the trip into California include Rod Ballard, Kelly Callahan, Bob Drager, Tom Duffy, Buck Grayson, Morse Lyman, Howard Morrill, Mush Torson and Cotton Whitlock.

The complete barnstorming schedule is as follows:
December 19—Olympic club at San Francisco.
December 20—Y. M. I. at San Francisco.
December 21—Santa Clara at San Francisco.
December 22—Stanford at Palo Alto.
December 27—St. Marys at San Francisco.
December 28—St. Marys at San Francisco.
December 30—College of Pacific at Stockton.
December 31—Chico Normal School at Chico.

Fresh Athletes Not Permitted Usual Sweaters

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Dec. 14.—(Special)—Freshman athletes at the University of Oregon are barred from having numeral sweaters, according to Hugh Biggs, dean of men.

Freshmen last year wore sweaters that were not rightly theirs, as a student body law passed four years ago banned sweaters for all beginning athletes. Due to a change in the administration in the dean of men's office a requisition for last year's sweaters slipped by without the proper approval. This year's freshmen class accepted Dean Biggs' criticisms, and at a class meeting decided on, and accepted, the proposal that all eligible freshmen should have felt numerals as soon as possible, and arrangements be made with some local store to stock standard sweaters, which the numeral men could buy if they wished.

Lloyd Ambrose Changes Name He Announces

Because of the constant confusion as to which of the Ambroses was Floyd or Lloyd, happens to be doing the fighting in the local ring at any given time, Lloyd has changed his name to "Bobby."

The Ambrose twins always look just alike, and carrying out that tradition, both had attacks of mumps at the same time recently.

MENTOR WILL STAY ON JOB

College Authorities Express Gratification at Athletic Outlook

CORVALLIS, Ore., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Paul J. Schissler, head football coach at Oregon State college, has signed a five year extension of his contract as head coach and director of intercollegiate athletics. It was announced today by President W. J. Kerr and the student faculty board of control.

The contract carries a salary unannounced by the board and will extend to June, 1934 as there remains one more year on his present term. Schissler is also a regular member of the physical education faculty with the rank of full professor.

Coach Schissler came to Oregon State in 1924 and has just completed his sixth coaching season. He has already served longer than any previous head coach here and has had more consistent success than any other. He has broken even with Oregon games, has won the northwest championship once and has made an impressive intercollegiate record.

Dean A. B. Cordley, chairman of the board of control, expressed satisfaction at the signing of the contract, emphasizing Schissler's value to the state in character building as well as being an outstanding coach. Similar statements were made by Wallace Keadler, alumnus and faculty member of the board; Jay Reynolds, alumni representative; and Hanson Meinke, president of the associated students.

WEBFOOTS DEFEAT MULTNOMAH CLUB

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 13.—(AP)—The University of Oregon basketball team made its debut in Portland tonight, defeating the Multnomah club 39 to 20 in a clean fast game.

The Webfoots took the lead from the start and were never headed. The score at the end of the first quarter was Oregon 12, Multnomah club 5, end of half, Oregon 15, Multnomah 7; end of third quarter, Oregon 23, Multnomah 14.

The lineup:
Oregon (89) Multnomah (20)
Dolph (8).....F.....Gunter (5)
Calkins (19).....F.....Cherry
Eberhart (3).....C.....Ingels (4)
Ohlinger (10).....G.....Grab (9)
Horne (4).....G.....Smith

Substitutions: for Oregon: Stevens (1); for Multnomah club: Edwards (2). Referee: Jenne.

In a preliminary game Washington high school defeated the Multnomah club intermediates 24 to 8.

All Statesman carriers are little merchants. They are charged for all papers delivered by them.

DALLAS WILL PLAY RICKREALL TUESDAY

DALLAS, Dec. 14.—(Special)—Dallas high plays its second basketball game in the county league here Tuesday. Rickreall will again be the opponent and there will be a preliminary game between the Dallas Polecats and the Monmouth second team. The preliminary will start at 7 o'clock and the main game about 8.

Dallas has won its only other game in the county league and is hoping to defeat Rickreall again. It lost to the Willamette Freshmen last Thursday by a score of 38 to 19 but even then the team made a good showing, considering the practice it has had.

After the game Tuesday, there may be a game December 20 here, but Dallas will play Molalla at Molalla on the 27th. The next county game will be January 3 with Monmouth.

STRIKES and SPARES

The Barr Plumbers broke the three way tie for leadership in the Commercial league by winning three games from the Chevrolet outfit, but there is still a two-way tie between the plumbers and the Capital City Bedding company team.

Wonder why George Allen insisted on a fourth prize in the Commercial league? The Business Men's league is misnamed, inasmuch as there are some women playing in it, so from now on it will just be the Business league. Anyway, it's fast becoming one of the best of them all. Captain Leibold has his Capital Dairies team on time Thursday night and "a good time was enjoyed by all."

The Stiff Furniture team is setting a great pace, having won seven out of the last nine games. Someone will have to stop this outfit if it will grab first money. Bert Victor was the miler on Monday night, and the answer is that he passed Stolker in the City league averages. Newton and H. Barr are going strong in the Commercial league, but haven't yet hit their stride in the City league. However, the Clouds gave the Food Shop boys a great battle Monday night. Ask Walt Cline.

Jim McMullen was missed from Schei's lineup and all the fans are looking for him to come back next Monday night.

Myrtle Riggs of the Day and Niles team nearly broke up the Statesman league Friday night when she came so near getting a "300." All that prevented it was a 5-1 split in the eighth frame. She beat the previous women's all-time record set by Ellen Hemenway, by one pin.

Myrtle also won the suit of clothes offered by Cooley's, but nobody can imagine what she'll do with it.

A home-and-home match, five-man team, doubles and singles, will be rolled by Salem's best five men against Portland's best. The first engagement is at the Winter Garden, Sunday, December 22, followed by one in Portland the following Sunday.

Claahan won a special five game match from Billy Hemenway Saturday afternoon and at the same time Woodruff and McKin-

CITY LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.
Man's Shop	2	15	.422
Elks	2	18	.571
Senator Food Shop	21	1	.500
Reo Flying Clouds	20	2	.477
McKay Chevrolet	20	2	.477
Schei's Men's Wear	14	28	.333
Records—Team series, McKay Chevrolet, 27-67; team game, McKay Chevrolet 973; series, H. Barr, 633; game, Van Welder, 247.
Averages (highest ten) — S. Steinbock, 185; Page 182; Hal 181; Tomson 178; Victor 176; Stolker 172; Johnson 175; Lee 174; Kay 173; Karr 173.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.
Barr Plumbers	24	15	.615
C. C. Bedding Co.	24	15	.615
Chevrolet Club	25	12	.676
General Oil	20	19	.513
Valley Motor	16	24	.385
Gasco	13	26	.333
Records—Team series, General Petroleum 2601; team game, General Petroleum 947; series, Hall 645; game, Hall 326.
Averages—Hall 185; Kay 183; R. Johnson 180; Page 177; H. Barr 177; E. Newton 176; Grote 173; B. Hemenway 171; Allen 165; Phillips 163.

CLUB LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.
Elks	26	7	.787
Nelson and Hunt	21	12	.636
Lions	19	14	.575
Printers	15	18	.455
Cooley's Clothing	11	22	.333
Associated Oil	7	26	.212

BUSINESS LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.
Reth Grocery	22	11	.667
STIFF Furniture	19	9	.682
Western Auto	16	14	.533
Salem Sanitary	17	16	.515
Oregon Packing	12	21	.364
Capital Dairies	9	18	.333

STATSMAN LEAGUE

W.	L.	Pct.
Olds Vix'ns	13	14	.576
Day and Niles	13	15	.545
Carson Pharmacy	17	16	.515
Fulope Clothing	17	16	.515
Central Pharmacy	15	18	.455
Sunfrens	13	20	.394

COAST CONFERENCE MEETS THIS WEEK

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 14.—(Special)—Pacific coast conference managers and coaches will gather for their annual meeting in San Francisco Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss and settle various items of business, the most important being the scheduling of football games for next year. Although some of the managers have already made preliminary arrangements for games, the official scheduling will not take place until Monday.

A four-year series of games between institutions in the Big Four—California, Washington, Southern California and Stanford, has already been settled. This schedule will not permit any of these teams to meet another member of the Big Four on successive Saturdays.

The members of the conference will also try to work out some definite plan of determining football championships. This year the conference ended in a four-way tie due to the many methods used in deciding the championship.

Other items of business to be taken up by the managers and faculty representatives are: selection of officials for 1930 games; color of jerseys to be worn by visiting football teams; matter of commissioner plan; eligibility of seniors playing on Shrine benefit football team; and the starting time of pre-season football training.

"A man really isn't old until he begins to think he has always been as good as he is now."—Medford Mail Tribune.

Shanghai ranked first in 1923 among Chinese ports, with 41 per cent of the total incoming and outgoing trade.

Giving our friends a run for their money

It's part of our business to see that you get full value from the tires we sell you.

We believe you should be safeguarded by us against any condition which might shorten the life of your

KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRES

Let us therefore check your air pressure regularly and inspect your tires occasionally for signs which might indicate a wheel out of alignment or other condition which you yourself might not recognize but which might easily cut your tire service in half.

We make no charge for this co-operation; we are glad to render it.

Douglas McKay Chevrolet Co.

430 N. Commercial St.—Phone 1802