New York Guests Inspiration For Affairs

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Montague of New York City, guests of Miss Elizabeth Lord, are the inspiration of a number of delightful holiday affairs.

Miss Lord entertained with a o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. Claudius Thayer Thursday evening. A delightful color scheme was worked out with pink carnations, white snowberries, lavender heather and the green of laurustinus leaves. Pink tapers in blue holders completed the color rcheme. Bridge followed the din-

Friday afternoon Miss Lord was hostess for a charming tea with 30 invited guests calling between the hours of three and five o'clock at her home on South High street. The guest rooms were brilliant and gay in red and green. Virginia and Oregon holly wreaths were used in effective spots, and a sparkling Christmas tree reminded guests that the season was holiday time. The tea table was colorful. The cloth was a red embroidered Chinese skirt upon which were placed brass candlesticks holding jade candles.

Mrs. Clifford Brown and Miss Alice Brown poured, assisted by Miss Mabel Robertson. Miss Dorothy Livesley and Miss Priscilla Fry assisted about the dining

Power Generating Possibilities Discussed at Rate

Hearing PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 27 .-(AP)—The Falls of the Willamette river at Oregon City, 14 miles south of this city, power generating possibilities of which were first perceived by Dr. John Mc-Loughlin, the "baron of the Columbia." as early as 1829, took the center of the stage in the public service commission's hearing of this city's petition to reduce domestic electric rates and the Portland Electric Power com-

Kenneth J. Harlan, city rate expert, charged the power company's $4,221,970 valuation of its Willamette falls generating station is beyond reason. He declared the plant is obsolete, that it is no longer an important factor in the company's generating system. He expressed the opinion that it should be withdrawn from public Franklin T. Griffith, president of the power company, took the stand in defense of the falls. He agreed that the plant might be withdrawn but declared the company's valuation of the property was not excessive, "It must be remembered," he told the commission, "that the plant was built when engineers did not know as much as they do now. To do away with it would be to cast aside a huge investment honestly made at the time." The city, through its rate experts, is endeavoring to prove that valuations of the power company for rate making purposes are too high by from $6.500,000 to $13,000,000. The city contends the total, domestic rates would be that if all or part of the alleged reduced about 10 percent.

POWER RULING TO

The state reclamation commission, through Rhea Luper, state engineer, will soon announce its decision in the application of the Northwest Power company, a subsidiary of the Portland Electric Power company, for permission to appropriate the waters of the North Santiam river and Marion Lake for power purposes.

Hearing of the application was held in Salem last September, and three days were required to take the testimony. A large number of sportsmens organizations opposed the application on the grounds that the proposed development would menace the wild life of the Santiam district.

The cost of the proposed development was estimated at $1,900,-
