

Student Government Being Tried in Woodburn High

WOODBURN HAS NEW STUDENT CONTROL

New System of Self Government Is Under Way in High School

WOODBURN, Dec. 31.—The members of the board of student ethics, the judiciary body of the new form of student government which is being tried out at Woodburn high, have been elected.

The under classmen elected Lowell Gribble; the seniors, Walvo Leno; and the board of control chose the third member, Charles Treddler.

This group, together with the student body president will be the last court of appeals and will try the case of all offenses committed by the students.

The monitor system which was first discussed has been laid aside for the system by which each student is given the responsibility of reporting misdemeanors, not petty, personal offenses but the more serious wrongdoings that reflect on the school as a whole and would give a new-comer or an outsider a bad impression of the management of the school.

The students attending now, who have been allowed to go ahead in various little violations of the conduct rule because of their own particular personality, will be brought under discipline and it is thought that this means of having the students at the head of things will abolish the favoritism which is often shown in faculty discipline.

INDEPENDENCE HAS SCHOOL OPEN AGAIN

INDEPENDENCE, Dec. 31.—School again! That is: For the high school students. Monday morning the studies were resumed after a week of vacation.

Many old students visited the school. Among them Wilma Percival, Ruth Hershberger and Margaret Eddy of the alumni. Miss Percival goes to business college in Portland; Margaret Eddy attends Willamette, where she is a sophomore and Ruth Hershberger is taking nurses training at the Salem General hospital.

Two students who are now going to Salem high were back. They are Lilly Burch and Claire Imbler. Several grade school students visited, too, as their school does not start until January 6.

The advanced class in home economics has just finished making silk dresses and it most certainly looks as if dame fashion was visiting school.

Zena Has Many Holiday Guests

ZENA, Dec. 31.—Frances and Margaret French of Salem were guests during the holidays at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James A. French, of Zena. Harold French, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. French was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde French of Salem.

Miss Audrey Smith and her brother Bobby of Portland, were guests during the Christmas holidays with their aunt, Mrs. W. N. Crawford, of Zena, and their grandmother, Mrs. Alice Simpson of Lincoln.

Mr. Lloyd Cole and young daughter, Betty Lou of Klamath Falls, were house guests during the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Purvine of Zena.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Merrick entertained as Christmas guests, Mr. and Mrs. M. Holdredge, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. William Berg, Brush College and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Burbee and children Golda, Gordon and Louis of Portland.

Wacanda Girl Returns to U. of W

WACONDA, Dec. 31.—Miss Francis Lemery has returned to Seattle to resume her studies at the University of Washington after spending the holidays with her parents and sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemery and Mrs. Frank Felton.

Mr. Carl Brown and family have joined Miss Gladys Brown and Leslie Brown at Newport where they are enjoying the holidays.

Britt Asplawall had the misfortune to break his arm while cranking his car. The attending physician said the cast would not be removed for a month.

Leo Flier, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Flier of Portland is visiting at the home of F. R. Nusom home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Russell of Mission Bottom were Sunday guests at the home of Perie Peterson.

Rosedale Plans For New Year

ROSEDALE, Dec. 31.—Mrs. W. E. Way spent the weekend with her sister in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Culbertson left here last Friday afternoon for Santa Ana, Calif., their former home. They are driving and expect to be gone for some time.

The Ladies' Missionary society is to meet with Mrs. Cammack Thursday at 10 o'clock for an all day meeting.

Carl Trick, who is working in Portland, was home for a short time Christmas.

The Young People's Sunday school class held a watch party at the home of Eva Beckley Tuesday night.

New Homes Adorn Auburn Tracts; Land Subdivided

Small Industries, Dairying and Agriculture Prosper in 1929; Good Year in 1930 Predicted

AUBURN, Dec. 31.—Auburn community—which is school district 118, has made rapid development the past few years. Many of the large tracts have been subdivided into two, five and ten acre tracts. Many beautiful new modern homes have been erected with two new ones under construction, and expansion additions in the industrial buildings.

Among these is a new greenhouse on the Field ranch, this makes about a half acre under glass and about an acre under the Skinner system irrigation. The principal crop raised under glass is cucumbers and tomatoes, while in April, May and June plants are raised for market. About three hundred cords of wood are used here for heating. Two men and one woman are employed the year around and additional help during certain seasons with a payroll of about $2,000.

Miss Hettie Field, who was assistant to her father, Dexter Field for many years, and a nephew, Amby Bagley, constitute the firm.

They also own a number of choice registered Jerseys. Other registered Jersey owners in the community are Chas. W. Cady, who owns a number of cows and a herd sire, which is an outstanding individual of the St. Mauris Lad breeding with a payroll of about $300. One of the cows owned by Dr. Faxon has taken several blue ribbons at Washington fairs.

Wm. Kaplinger, A. L. Lindbeck and Enoch Zimmerman each own a few type individuals. Zimmerman and Chas. Doty each run retail milk routes to Salem, Herman Hammer runs a milk truck, and Ed Olsen manufactures butter-milk and has created a good trade.

Ros E. Clark runs a pure bred Chinchilla rabbitry, and is expanding rapidly. He finds a ready market for all his furs and breeding stock, and holds that raising rabbits of choice type is just in its infancy in Oregon. He has

DOMES CAPTURES TURKEY AWARDS

Henry Domes of McCoy has been a consistent prize winner at the western turkey shows this fall. At the Oregon state fair Mr. Domes entered 15 White Holland turkeys and won 13 prizes.

At the western turkey show held at Oakland, Ore., recently he did the same thing, entered 13 exhibits and won 13 prizes.

Mr. Domes has been engaged in the turkey raising business only about three years but his success has been phenomenal. He has several hundred birds in his flock and breeding stock from the Domes farm is in great demand.

Hazel Green Is Having Revival Service Interest

HAZEL GREEN, Dec. 31.—The revival meeting is growing in interest and will continue another week. Rev. F. W. Pontius is preaching.

Subjects for the remainder of the week are Wednesday, Unbelief; Thursday, Whither Go Ye; Friday, Repentance; Saturday, Two Knockings; Sunday 11 o'clock, Our Passover; 7:30, Enduring and Unchanging.

Mrs. Peter Woelke's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCormack of Oregon City moved last week to the farm on the corner north of Herman Wacken's farm.

Rev. W. N. Blodgett and wife of Salem visited the Sunday school, and told the pupils that when 10 years old he won the prize offered for learning the most Bible verses, reciting the entire book of Matthew and part of Mark without a correction from the teacher.

Hubbard Fireman Elect G. Grimps

HUBBARD, Dec. 31.—George Grimps was re-elected chief at the meeting of the firemen held at the Firemen's hall Monday evening.

Other officers elected were Hugh Wells, assistant chief, and Bob Brown, secretary and treasurer.

Plans for a fight to be held in January were discussed.

Members present at the meeting were E. S. Epperley, Bob Brown, George Grimps, Frank Thompson, L. A. Miller, Joseph Weaver, Ed Erickson, Maxwell Smolinsky and Rollie Blagood.

Fritz Kinniki is sick with the mumps.

Waldo Hills Has Holiday Visitors

WALDO HILLS, Dec. 31.—Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Hall of McMinnville returned to their home Friday after spending a few days at the Edson Comstock home. Christmas dinner guests of the Comstocks were Rev. and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. S. J. Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Sylvester and daughter, Shirley.

Mrs. Frank M. Egan is still confined to her bed and under the care of a physician. She was taken ill the Thursday before Christmas with an attack of influenza.

Miss Myrtle Moore of Portland spent Christmas day with her mother, Mrs. W. H. Moore at the A. A. Geer home. Mrs. Geer, a trained nurse, also spent a few hours in the afternoon at home.

We, of the Waldo Hills, are very sorry to know of the serious illness of Mrs. J. L. Stalker. The Stalkers were very popular residents of this district about 12 years ago.

Geraldine Dickman, the 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dickman was taken very ill Monday and is still confined to her bed. Her grandmother, Mrs. William Hawick, sprained her ankle while in Salem Tuesday, but is much improved at this time.

School closed Monday at the Centerville school for a two week's vacation. A program and treat were given under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Gordon Simpson.

Mrs. G. O. Shockley and daughters, Nellie and Margaret, went to Oregon City by stage Christmas morning.

HUBBARD GIRL HOME AGAIN

Miss Ruth Calvert Returns From Interesting Eastern Trip

HUBBARD, Dec. 31.—Miss Ruth Calvert, cashier of the Hubbard State Bank, arrived home Monday afternoon from Chicago, where she was a guest at the home of her brother, Eldon Calvert.

Miss Ruth says that she had a wonderful trip and was delighted with Chicago which she had the pleasure of viewing both by land and by air. All the places of interest in the city were visited and a few trips to other cities were taken but the weather prevented many more trips that had been planned.

Miss Ruth experienced her first blizzard about a week before her return home. She had hoped that a blizzard would occur while she was in Chicago and sure enough, the biggest one that had been known since the war, raged over the city tying up traffic and delaying Miss Ruth's return by a few days. However the storm did not spoil Ruth's plans for she and her sister-in-law braved the blizzard to attend a theatre for which they had made previous arrangements.

The trip to Chicago was made in company with Miss Calvert's brother and his wife as they returned home from a visit with home folks eight weeks ago. The party spent one day at San Diego, Cal. With no car trouble and good weather, the trip east was much enjoyed.

When Miss Calvert left Chicago last Friday, everything was covered with snow but the sun was shining; and as she left Minneapolis, the day was perfect.

The return trip was made on the Empire Builder via the Great Northern.

Lincoln Club Has Meeting

Community Group Enjoys Program and Profitable Pie Social

LINCOLN, Dec. 31.—The Lincoln community club met in the school house Friday night with a large crowd and an excellent program presented by local and adjoining districts' talent.

A short business meeting was held. Mr. Buckles, president, presiding. Unanimous vote was cast for the purchase of two small electric plates for the use of the club.

Mr. H. Nieger was appointed to install the wiring and buying of the plates.

The program was as follows: piano solo—Helen Nieger; reading, Lucile Hackett; dialogue, Helen Hunt and Paul Worthington; instrumental trio, Marjory Walling, piano; Irene Windsor, banjo; and Ellis Walling, saxophone; vocal solo, Ralph Scott, accompanied by Mrs. Scott at the piano.

Iron Works Has Varied Product

The Salem Iron works now employs 34 men and has an annual payroll of $50,000. Its products are marketed in all parts of the Pacific slope.

The plant deals principally in cast iron and bronze, making gears, valves and machinery of all kinds. Among their widely advertised products are the Gerlinger carrier for handling loads of lumber and other commodities and a power drag saw. These are sold in Washington, California and British Columbia, as well as Oregon.

Prune stoves, hop dryers, paper mill machines, centrifugal pumps, cannery equipment, logging and sawmill machinery are among the products manufactured. A trip through the plant to observe the process by which molten metal is converted into machine parts is a revelation in itself.

The plant has been four years under the ownership of the Dallas Machine & Locomotive works. Carl Gerlinger is president, W. E. Ballantyne is secretary-treasurer and A. B. McLaughlin is manager.

Dallas A. F. & A. M. - Installs Officers

DALLAS, Dec. 31.—New officers of Jennings Lodge No. 9, A. F. & A. M. for 1930 were installed at a meeting Friday, December 27. They are: Les S. Finseth, W. M.; Robert S. Kreson, S. W.; W. H. Hawkins, chaplain; David McDonald, Tyler.

The first degree was conferred upon Wayne Faze, who is home from the University of Oregon for the holidays.

Furnace Factory Has Long History

A Salem industry which ranks as the oldest steel furnace factory in the northwest is the plant of the W. W. Rosebraugh Co. which was founded by Anderson Bros. in 1905. This has grown to manufacture the largest line of furnaces on the coast, and distributes its product all through the state of Oregon and through western Washington as far as Seattle. A carload of furnaces was shipped to San Francisco the past year.

Besides furnaces the plant manufactures fire escapes, smoke stacks, sawmill castings, gas and oil tanks, gas pumps, fruit drying equipment, manhole covers and special products on order. It is the only plant in the state outside of Portland making gas tanks and pumps.

The plant consists of a well-equipped foundry, machine shop, sheet metal works, and boiler shop. During 1929 new equipment was added and other equipment replaced with new. An office building was acquired across the street from the plant which is located at 17th and Oak streets.

A branch is maintained in Portland for selling the product of the local factory. Under the management of Mr. Rosebraugh the plant has shown steady growth in volume of business from year to year.

GO TO VANCOUVER, B. C.
