The largest club membership reported in several years recently came from the 36 school children formed the Lumberton cooking club. This club is headed by Mrs. A. E. Bradley, leader; Susan Bollman, president; Norris Nicolson, vice-president; Lucile Ensland, secretary.

Of the 80 clubs, the division is as follows: two homemaking with 21 members; 33 sewing with 349 members; 22 cooking clubs with 344 members; four poultry with 48 members; three pig with 19 members and eight rabbit clubs with 50 members.

Reynolds, Madge Cupp, Myrtle Powell, George Wright, Chester Downer, Sam Bradley, Charlotte Martin, Violet Perkins, Alice Titus, Clarissa Clark, Wesley Cheffings, Mary Clark, Ralph Alzman, Viola Bradley, Sumner Clark, Robert Lucas, Henman Albright, Kathleen Sparks, Mary Lucas, Elvin Cheffings, Ralph Garbe, Ralph Clark, Josephine Downer, Alice Downer, W. # EUGENE GAGERS ARE PUT THROUGH PAGES

EUGENE, Jan. 4.—(Special).—High school basketball is fast getting under way in Eugene and vicinity. University high will play Cottage Grove at the men's gymnasium at the University of Oregon Wednesday, January 8. It was announced by Gordon Ridings, coach at that school. A game with Salem January 14 has also been added to the university high roster.

University high will journey to Cottage Grove to meet the local quintet in a return game on January 10, it was stated.

On January 11, Eugene high and University will meet in their first encounter of the season.

Although Eugene high won the district championship last year it will be hard for the locals to repeat as graduation left them with but one regular. An injury on the recent road trip to Marshfield and Port Orford will cause the purple and white to be without the service of Eberhart at center.

Although the Eugene team lost both games on the road trip they showed promise, according to Lee Weber, coach.

CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR J. P. JOB

(Continued from Page 1.) the change inaugurated by the legislature providing a flat salary of $2400 a year in place of the compensation which was previously on a fee basis and which was known to pay considerably more under this system. This salary, Judge Small feels, will not be sufficient to justify him continuing in the office and he is intending to resume his private law practice, which was somewhat interrupted by his tenure in the justice of the peace office. Before his election to the office, Judge Small also taught torts and evidence at the Willamette university law school.

But if Judge Small finds the office unattractive, there are apparently plenty of others ready to don the figurative judicial robes.

Ferrey First in Field

Mr. Ferrey, first in the field, has lived in Salem eight years during which time he has served as pastor of the Unitarian church, received his legal training and established a law practice. Not caring to mix politics with his pastoral work, he announced his resignation in September from the church work and the first supply pastor will occupy the pulpit today.

Armenia was the place of his birth. He was born in 1888 and when a mere boy escaped from the Armenian massacre by the Turks in 1895 and went to Egypt. From there he came to Philadelphia, where he received his education. He took his theological training at Meadville, Pa., later attending Harvard, University of Chicago and Colorado college. He received his M. A. degree from the latter institution in experimental psychology.

Since completing his law work at Willamette university, he has engaged in the practice of law for five years. He has had wide interests while living in Salem and has participated in many community affairs. He has also been mentioned as an aspirant for the office of city attorney.

B. W. Macy, who has practiced law in the city for 18 years, admits that he will probably be in the race but prefers as yet to make no commitment. Mr. Macy served as city counselman from 1913 to 1916 in which year he took office as city attorney. He continued as city attorney until 1921. He considered that his most important work as city attorney was to straighten out the street assessment muddle which confronted the city. Street improvements were tied up in litigation and dissent was rife, he said, when he assumed office.

Mr. Macy is a member of Woodmen of the World, Neighbors of Woodcraft, Elks, and Masons. Foster C. Cone stated that he had expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy, probably within the next ten days. He has been putting out feelers for several weeks. Mr. Cone graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1923, taking additional work at University Oregon and his law training at Willamette. He has practiced law for two years.

Mr. Cone is secretary of the Marion county bar association and of the Illinois Country club. He is a member of the Elks lodge. He is 28 years of age and expressed the belief that the work of the justice of the peace office could best be handled by a young man.

Clifford Moynihan is "seriously considering" adding his name to the list of candidates and said that he found prospects very promising. He was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1897. He graduated from Connecticut Agricultural college, was connected with the Hartford Times and then with the Phoenix insurance company.

He came to Salem seven years ago and was graduated from the Willamette university law school. Miller B. Hayden is another young attorney who is generally regarded as making plans to enter the race. He lived for a number of years at Bandon, where he served for a time in the justice of the peace position, which he believes well qualified him for the position here.

Mr. Hayden's father and grandfather were attorneys in Salem and the family name is well known.

ZENA WOMAN LAID TO REST SATURDAY

ZENA, Jan. 4.—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary B. Crawford, 72, who died Sunday, December 29, were held at 1 o'clock Saturday from the Clough-Taylor funeral parlors. Interment was in the Zena cemetery. Reverend W. Earl Cochran, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Salem, had charge of the services at the parlors. Reverend Louis H. Randle of the church on the highway at Cottage Grove and son-in-law of Mrs. Mary B. Crawford assisted at the graveside services. Pallbearers were: W. W. Henry, L. F. Matthews, Charles McCarter, L. M. Purvine, Bert B. Flack and L. V. Gibson.

Mrs. Mary B. Crawford was a daughter of Benjamin and Matilda Culp and was born in Madison county, Illinois. She was united in marriage to W. J. Crawford in 1877. In the fall of 1877 they moved to Albany, Oregon, where W. J. Crawford became pastor of the Baptist church and Mrs. Crawford was engaged in mission work among the Chinese. Later they moved to McMinnville where W. J. Crawford was one of the McMinnville college faculty, from there they moved back to Albany then to Medford and finally located on a farm which they purchased at Zena. W. J. Crawford died October 8, 1917.

Her death ended a beautiful Christian career of unselfish devotion to her family and her friends. She was beloved by a large circle of friends, both young and old to whom news of her death came as a decided shock. She was laid to rest beside her husband, W. J. Crawford. Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. Stella J. Henry, Zena; Mrs. Marie Randle, Cottage Grove; and Mrs. W. Joyce Mungler, Chicago, two sons, W. Frank Crawford, Zena and P. L. Crawford, Chicago.

Paul Wagner Now Returning South

The return trip was made by motor in company with Mrs. Tom Curran and son, Tom, Jr., of Tacoma. The two boys are room mates at the school.

For a SORE throat

A sore throat may be eased by gargling just once, with quarter of a glass of water in which you have dissolved two tablets of Bayer Aspirin. You may have to repeat the treatment for a deep seated inflammation like tonsillitis, but Bayer Aspirin is the one thing that reduces the infection. Don't forget this most sensible of all treatments for sore throat. The one the nurses all know; the one which all doctors consider to be effective. And remember its quick relief against neuritis, rheumatism, lumbago and the like. Use it to break-up any cold, or to dispel a headache. It does not depress the heart. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer manufacture of monoacetic acid of salicylic acid.

CITY COUNCIL'S SESSION WARM

Committee Appointments to Be Effected Under New Arrangement

(Continued from Page 1.) the disposition of the council, the possibility of some changes has been suggested, but they are not likely to be put into effect.

The mayor has been in the habit of addressing an annual message to the council, and one will no doubt be forthcoming Monday. The policies which he announced on taking office three years ago have all been carried into effect with the sole exception of the managerial form of government.

There may also be some discussion of current business, including the placing of the blame for a damaging flood in the vicinity of North Summer street near North Mill creek, and consideration of the mayor's refusal to sign city warrants made out to the firm of Doughton and Sherwin, of which Alderman I. M. Doughton is a member.

Mr. Doughton, who has given assurance that he acted in good faith in selling small items of merchandise to the city, has also indicated that he can ill afford to give up that business for the privilege of serving the city as alderman, and in case the council does not by a two-thirds majority override the mayor's decision, there is a possibility that another vacancy will occur in the council membership, although Mr. Doughton has not announced his plans.

OFFER IS MADE FOR FINANCING HIGHWAY

If Marion county will contribute $2,000 and the Breitenbush Hot Springs $1,000, the forest service will contribute $2,000 of forest service money for additional improvements on the Breitenbush Hot Springs road, a written proposal from C. M. Granger, district forester, revealed to the county court Saturday. It was specified in the proposal, however, that the county should take over the road as a county road.

A further sum of $450 for maintenance money of the project was offered by the government. A total of $50,000 has already been expended on the road from sources other than county funds, the district forester cited in his letter to the court. "To date the forest service has expended for
