Rumors About Auto Licenses Said Ridiculous

Reports given wide circulation here that failure to have a 1930 license on his automobile would prevent the owner or driver from recovering damages in case of collision with a machine on which the license was displayed, were declared ridiculous by attorneys connected with the state government.

These attorneys said that failure to have the required license would tend to establish contributory negligence, but would not bar the owner or driver of the car from recovering from the other party to the accident.

Hendricks Says He's Having Fine Vacation Period

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, on pleasure and business bent in Los Angeles, are "very busy and very happy" they write local friends. Mr. Hendricks Sunday had the pleasure of meeting John Steven McGroarty, producer of the internationally famous "Mission Play" and early this week will confer with him about the pageant Mr. Hendricks is planning for Salem in 1934.

"On Sunday we heard Dr. Philpott, great preacher of the Bible institute auditorium," Mr. Hendricks writes. "We shall next visit the city library and later I shall attend the Rotary meeting here."
