The Week's Sermonette The Epiphany Star

By REV. AMOS E. MINNEMAN Pastor, Christ Lutheran Church

Matt. 2: 9: "And, lo, the star, which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was."

Graciously God takes recognition of the longing of the heathen hearts and vouchsafes to them a sign of the Saviour's birth. Even as He found amongst His chosen people those hearts that longed for Messiah's coming, even so He found amongst those outside of Israel's ranks those dissatisfied with that which heathendom offered and provided for them also that salvation which alone can satisfy the human heart.

Though Bethlehem's manger has long since crumbled to dust, though angels no longer wing their way to this earth with the glad Christmas Evangel and though the star that proclaimed the birth of the new-born King has long since disappeared from amongst heaven's constellations, the century-old message of salvation through Him who was born in yonder crude stable-cave still resounds to earth's utmost confines.

Though now proclaimed by sinful men 'tis still the gospel of the Word made flesh and the very Son of God become man for us; 'tis a gospel whose full meaning we may read only in the light of that great sacrifice made by Himself upon Calvary's height; 'tis the story of the blood-atonement made for sinful mankind unable by its own works or merit to atone for its sin; 'tis a gospel whose full benefit is ours when we submit to the workings of the Holy Spirit in our heart in true repentance and absolute faith and trust.

LEADER

Rev. James M. Baker of Ongole, South India, who will bring an interesting message at the Baptist meeting here Wednesday. He is a missionary and his name is associated with those of Lyman Jewett and John Clough, pioneer missionaries.

Five Salem Men to Tell Benefits of Prohibition At First Church Sunday

What do Salem business and professional leaders think of national prohibition? Persons who attend the First Methodist church Sunday night will have an opportunity to find out what some of them think, for in observance of the tenth anniversary of national prohibition, that church has arranged a program of addresses by prominent laymen and of patriotic music.

Rev. Fred C. Taylor, the pastor, will preside and the service will open with the singing of the national hymn. Services will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

A symposium of five-minute talks on the general theme of "National Prohibition, Its Value and Benefits" by representatives of several professions and occupations will be given, in the following order:

From the standpoint of the Mercantile Business by Brown E. Sisson, manager of Miller's store.

From the standpoint of the Medical Profession by Dr. Edgar S. Fortner, surgeon and physician.

From the standpoint of the Public Press by Sheldon Sackett, managing editor of the Statesman.

From the standpoint of the Legal Profession by O. W. Emmons, attorney.

From the standpoint of the Church by Rev. Fred C. Taylor. The program will also include recitation of the American's Creed by Robert Utter and the congregation will unite in pledge of allegiance to the American flag. The choir and orchestra will give special numbers.

NORTH HIGH STREET BEING USED MORE

Traffic checks show the steady increase in traffic on north high street since the completion of the paving to its intersection with Liberty to form Broadway. Paul Hendricks has made traffic counts at the intersection for his own information, and the series shows the growing use of North High as compared with Liberty. The initial check made just when High street was opened to traffic showed a count of six to one in favor of Liberty. The proportion dropped until a recent check resulted in the count being less than two to one for Liberty street. This was on the incoming traffic. For outgoing traffic the count now is practically even showing that High-street is coming into common use for cars leaving the business center. The counts were made for fifteen minutes intervals from 10 to 11 a.m. and from 2 to 3 p.m., at times when there was no special stimulus to traffic.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Evening service, 7:30 o'clock; subject: "The Word of the Holy Spirit." Evangelist Jarrette preaching; solo and duets by Evangelist and Mrs. Aycock. Sunday school 9:45 a.m. F. M. Little, Supt. Mr. Aycock will speak to the Sunday school. Revival will continue each night at 7:30 (except Saturday). Young people's meeting: Friday evening 8:30. Miss Thelma Sampson, president in charge. The Juniors will meet at the same hour.

EXTRADITION ORDERED

Governor Norblad Friday authorized the extradition of James C. Jannino, who is wanted in San Francisco on a charge of forgery. Jannino is under arrest in Klamath Falls. J. W. Hansen, member of the San Francisco police department, will escort the prisoner to California.

TAX BLANKS MAILED

The state tax commission has mailed approximately 20,000 blanks to persons and corporations who are subject to payment of the intangibles tax under a law enacted at the last legislative session. This tax is payable on interest and dividends.

INSTITUTE SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Western Oregon United Brethren to Meet at Cascade Church Tues.

The pastor and congregation of the Cascade United Brethren church are preparing to act as hosts Tuesday and Wednesday, January 14 and 15, to one of the seven District Institutes of the Oregon conference, Church of the United Brethren in Christ. Churches in the local district include Salem, Hazel Green, Hopewell, Philomath, Tillamook, Beaver and Pleasant Valley. Representatives from all these churches are expected. The theme of the Institute will be "Pentecost, Money and Christian Education."

The main speakers will be Bishop Ira D. Warner of Portland and Rev. Gordon Howard of Dayton, Ohio, both prominent leaders in the church. Howard is director of the young people's work of the denomination. Other addresses will be given by F. W. Ponting of Vancouver, conference superintendent; and Rev. L. W. Biddle of Salem, who is the general director of the Christian education of the Oregon conference. Rev. F. S. Mitchell of Tillamook will act as district leader.

The Christian education department of the church includes and correlates the work of the following organizations, according to age groups: Sunday school, brothers, Christian Endeavor, Women's Missionary Society, Otterbein Build Guild, Women's Aid Society, college and seminars. The other six institutes will be held in Seattle, Vancouver, The Dalles, Walla Walla, Elberton and Spokane.

A young people's rally to be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night will be a feature of the first day's session of the institute in Salem. John Gillhouse of Salem will preside and Rev. Howard will conduct the worship service.

Schedule for Meetings Next Week Announced

Week day meetings for the Calvary Baptist church include the W. G. girls' meeting and the regular meeting of the board of trustees, both at 7:30 o'clock Monday night; the orchestra practice at 7 o'clock and the rehearsal at 8 o'clock, both on Tuesday night, for the pageant, "The Transformer," final practice of which will be held that night. It is urged that every member of the Sen or B. Y. in the pageant appear Tuesday night. Choir rehearsal is scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.
