Zena Digs Out of 18 Inches of Snow

Buildings were weighted down and the snow had to be cleaned off before the roofs broke under the enormous pressure. Fire trees resembled fiery Christmas trees covering the city.

ZENA, Jan. 16.—The snow was between 16 and 18 inches on the hills of Zena Wednesday morning. Buildings were weighted down and the snow had to be cleaned off before the roofs broke under the enormous pressure. Fire trees resembled fiery Christmas trees covering the city.

Children walking several miles to school appreciated this very much as did the parents who brought their children to school on sleds drawn by horses.

WOODBURN SENIORS PLAY TO BE JAN. 24

Class of '30 Will Present "Peg O' My Heart" on Friday

WOODBURN, Jan. 16.—The annual senior play, "Peg O' My Heart," given by the class of '30 Woodburn high school will be presented January 31 instead of the date previously announced.

The story centers around Peg who is called to England from her home in America to the bedside of a rich old uncle who passes away before she reaches her destination.

Under the terms of an aristocratic aunt, Mrs. Chichester, is given a desirable amount of money to keep Peg. Since the bank which contains the Chichester funds has failed, Mrs. Chichester keeps Peg and she is treated miserably by Mrs. Chichester's daughter Ethel and son, Alaric. Finally, Peg discovers Jerry and in due time the story ends happily.

The cast is, Mrs. Chichester, Opal Hodge; Alaric Chichester, Charles Byers; Ethel Chichester, Waivo Lenon; Christian Brent, Clair Nibler; Peg O'Connell, Naomi Van Cleave; Jerry, Lowell Gribble; Hawkes, Bernard Cole; Jarvis Glenn Foster, Bennett, Dora Tresidler.

The business staff is prompter, Berneta Thompson; stage managers, Arlo Thompson, Charles Tyler and Inez Elliott; costume mistress, Peggy Sadler and business manager, Leonard Gearin.

The efficient coach of this play is Miss Virginia Mason whose knowledge of dramatics is assurance that the production will be a success. All seats in the theatre are to be sold as reserve tickets.

Gervais Carries On Despite Snow

GERVAIS, Jan. 16.—The heavy snow on Tuesday night did not noticeably reduce the attendance at the high school Wednesday.

The school bus was half filled when it arrived Wednesday morning and there was a 75 per cent attendance reported during the forenoon session.

On account of the cold weather and inability to procure a car for transportation, the Gervais high school had no representatives at the high school editorial conference held at Eugene during the last week-end.

The basketball game scheduled between Stayton and Gervais to be played on the Stayton floor Friday night was cancelled by the Gervais team, to be played at another time when the weather is more conducive to travel.

Gale DeLay Better
Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cannard and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Seely drove to Silverton Sunday afternoon, to call on Prof. G. W. DeLay, Gael, Mr. DeLay's daughter, who has been very ill in a Salem hospital for three months and is thought she may be able to return to her home some time soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lengren of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jones Wednesday evening for an evening of cards. Mrs. Harper served a light lunch after the game.

All old officers were retained for the current year when the stockholders of the Gervais Mutual Telephone company held its annual meeting the last of the week. They are R. S. Marshall, president; Scott Jones, secretary and G. J. Molson, treasurer. A. B. Minaker is operator. There are 112 telephones in the exchange.

MRS. J. FLOOK PASSES AWAY

Oregon Pioneer of 1845 Dies at Son's Home in Mill City

MILL CITY, Jan. 16.—Funeral services for Mrs. Jaley W. Flook who died at the home of her son in this city Saturday evening were held at the Christian church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. A. C. Bates in charge of the services. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

The pall bearers were Frank Berry, Neate Lindsey, LeRoy Grafe, Ned Richards, Ed Davis and Bud Leedy.

Jaley W. Thomas was born in Boone county, Missouri, December 3, 1839 and crossed the plains with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Thomas, when she was but six years of age. She was the youngest of ten children in the Thomas family.

The Thomas family in company with three other families reached Portland in 1845 in October, after many hardships endured on the way. At the Dalles they hired Indians to take them down the Columbia and up the Willamette on rafts. Arriving at what is now the beautiful city of Portland, they with their few belongings consisting of a little bedding and some grub, were dumped at the foot of what is now Morrison street.

At that time there was one log house there and this was probably used as the Hudson Bay company as a fur shed as Mrs. Flook stated on various occasions that all the calves contained was some salt, which in all probability was used to preserve furs.

The Thomas family witnessed the arrival of the first boat shortly after their own arrival and during the winter the captain and crew were boarded by the family.

In the spring of 1846 the Thomas family moved southward, locating in a donation land tract claim near Seilo on what was later called Thomas creek and which was named for Mrs. Flook's father. They were the second family to locate in the Seilo neighborhood, the first party there being a bachelor by the name of Packard, who left that vicinity just as the Thomas family came there.

The only other settlers were the family of John Crabtree who had located on the Crabtree creek. In 1855 Mrs. Flook came to the North Santiam valley, locating on a place a mile east of Gates. Here Mrs. Flook has spent the greater part of the past 44 years, with the exception of short intervals spent at different places. About a month ago Mrs. Flook broke up housekeeping and came to Mill City from her little home near Gates to make her home with her sons.

Jaley Thomas was twice married, the first time to David Prewitt in 1863. To this union five children were born. Mr. Prewitt died in 1869 and in 1871 Mrs. Prewitt was married to William F. Flook, at Roseburg, Ore. Mr. Flook died in 1890.

When a young girl Mrs. Flook united with the Baptist church of Seilo and was baptized in the waters of Thomas Creek which bore the name of her father.

Three sons and four daughters survive this early Oregon pioneer. They are J. F. Flook and G. M. Flook of Mill City, O. D. Flook of California, Mrs. Lou Smith of Gates, Mrs. Emma Williams of Reno, Nev., Mrs. Clara Bushnell of Renton, Ore., and Mrs. Rena Morris of Jewell, Ore. She is also survived by 15 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

SMALLPOX WAR IS STAGED AT HUBBARD

HUBBARD, Jan. 16.—Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer, and Miss Benita Stroud, nurse of the Salem schools, assisted by Mrs. Waldo Brown and Mrs. George Grimps gave the small pox vaccination at the school house Tuesday.

Miss Stroud returned Wednesday to vaccinate others. Altogether 116 were vaccinated including many Hubbard citizens. Pupils of the school whose parents refused to have them vaccinated were sent home by the county health officer to remain until notified.

Miss Hazel Moore, who has the smallpox and her mother, Mrs. Charles Moore and small sister, Marjorie, are quarantined at their home on Main street.

Mr. Moore and son, Marvin, were vaccinated and are staying away from home.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are proprietors of Moore's confectionery.

Trinity Church at Silverton Postpones Home-Coming Event

SILVERTON, Jan. 16.—The annual homecoming and get-together of Trinity church which was to have been held on Friday evening, January 17, has been postponed because of the bad weather.

H. L. Foster, pastor of Trinity church, has announced that the homecoming date will be set later, when weather conditions are more favorable.

INDEPENDENCE HAS SCHOOL EXHIBITION

P. T. A. Sponsors Display of Work by Home Economics Classes

INDEPENDENCE, Jan. 16.—Every color of the rainbow was displayed at the home economics exhibit, Tuesday night. The girls have just finished their first problem and the pajamas were displayed in connection with the P. T. A. meeting.

The 4-H club of the sixth grade also had a small booth with their work. This club was started in November under the direction of Mrs. Keeney. Two of the girls are taking the second division of work and their darning attracted much attention. It was a work of art and proved that both the girls are geniuses with a needle.

The advanced class in home economics at the high school wore their dresses and acted as hostesses. Other dresses were exhibited for the people to inspect. The girls who wore their dresses were Glenna Hiltbrand, Marjorie Wundler, Gladys Murphy, Agnes Simonson and Celesta Cuthbert. The object in wearing the dresses was to let the public see how the dresses actually looked on the owner.

The glee club opened the P. T. A. meeting with "Lovely Night" and "Tired." This was their first public appearance. A short business meeting was held and then Miss Jacobson of Oregon State college spoke on "Clothes."

She pointed out how clothes can show your good points, such as personality, eyes or a clear skin. She said that unconsciously you first judge people by their clothes, until you know the real person.

The last thing was "The Little Chocolate Baby," by the glee club. The club responded to an encore with "Moods and Tenses."

MRS. O. WILLIAMS DIES AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Otho Williams, aged 60, passed away at her home on Mill street in Dallas, late Tuesday afternoon, following a lingering illness of nearly a year.

Mrs. Williams was Mamie Richmond, member of a pioneer family of the Perrydale district, and has made her home in this vicinity all of her life. She is survived by her widower, two sons, Carl of Seattle, and Victor of Dallas, and Mrs. Lonner Ralston of Dallas, besides a brother George Richmond of Dallas, route 3, sisters, Mrs. Allie Lynn of Perrydale, and Mrs. Minnie Holman of Willamina.

Services will be held at two o'clock Thursday from the Henkle & Thomas chapel with Rev. J. A. Smith of the Presbyterian church officiating.
