

ROGUE BRIDGE CONTRACT LET

Over Half Million Will Be Paid for Job of Highway Commission

(Continued from Page 1.) ed at the next meeting is for 8.2 miles of widening and resurfacing in the Denmark-Port Orford section. On the Corvallis-Newport highway bids will be read for 10.1 miles of revision on the Eddyville-Pioneer mountain section.

Representative Cochran, in a letter to the commission, sought an expression of the commission's position relative to a toll bridge at Astoria across the Columbia river. The commission reiterated its position of toll bridges, which has been in opposition unless the public is to be protected against excessive promotion charges and excessive tolls.

No action was taken on the county clerk's association, in session here earlier this week, resolution that the bridge at Gold Beach be named in the memory of the late I. L. Patterson. Woodburn Contractors Given Bridge Job

Other projects acted upon by the commission included: Columbia county, Beacher Creek bridge awarded to Rignold Brothers of Woodburn, $409,650.

Wheeler and Grant counties: Ochoco highway, Barnhouse ranch, Picture Gorge section, 60 miles of grading on east and west units, awarded J. W. Feak Construction company, $187,656.

Lane county: McKenzie river highway, 21 miles of surfacing, the Nimrod, Belknap springs section, awarded Willamette Contracting company, $51,290.

Lincoln county, Oregon coast highway: Ferry slip and one mile of grading, awarded H. P. Nass, $17,004.

Washington county: Tualatin highway, 2.9 miles of concrete pavement, between the Multnomah county line and Beaverton, awarded L. L. Young, the low bidder, $104,405. The awarding of this contract had been held up by the commission for some time pending investigation by engineers.

Jackson and Klamath counties: Jenny Creek-Keno section, 27 miles of stone surfacing, all bids rejected.

BEARCATS TROUNCE WEBFOOT QUINTET

First Half Ends With Score 20-8. Finally, when Willamette was ahead 16 to 6, Keenan of Oregon succeeded in looping the basket at long range. With 15 seconds left in the first half after time out, Willamette executed two plays from center and Scales scored both times to make the half time score 20 to 8.

Meanwhile Coach Billy Reinhart of Oregon, had benched Eberhart, center, when he proved totally unable to stop Cardinal, and in the second half Reinhart kept sending in fresh men in an attempt to alter the state of affairs, all to no avail, although Hughes and Rubenstein, shortly before the game ended, scored on desperate long shots to put the Webfoots back in the race. At the time they were only six points behind. Previously the score had been 24 to 8, and it looked like a runaway rather than a basketball game.

Oregon Catches Willamette Off Guard Several Times. Willamette used the delayed offense at intervals in the closing minutes and the desperately fighting Webfoots several times caught the Bearcats off their guard. Twice Referee Coleman gave Oregon the ball out of bounds when Willamette was entitled to it, and both times the Webfoots scored.

Just before the game ended, the Bearcats scored twice to boost their lead up to ten points. Peterson, a freshman, filled Scales' place acceptably in the latter part of the game.

If you like Faye Wray in "The Four Feathers" now showing at the Fox Elsinore, you will want to remember that you will be able to see her again in "Pointed Heels" where she again is playing with William Powell who is the lead in "The Four Feathers." Her dresses in "Pointed Heels" have won mention from reviewers as being "unusual."

Nancy Carroll and Jack Oakie are fast climbing to the top of screen popularity judging by the measure screen folk use for popularity—namely the mail box. Of course box office receipts count, too, but if their mail is heavy it is to be expected that folk will go to see them when they play in the home town of each.

Here is a little note about Nancy "Honey" who has been selected as the definite title for the musical filmization of "Come Out of the Kitchen," Alice Duer Miller's stage success, it is announced at the Paramount studios. Nancy Carroll is being starred in "Honey." Stanley Smith who played opposite Miss Carroll in "Sweetie," has been cast in the romantic male lead.

The supporting cast numbers among its principals Lillian Roth, Skeets Gallagher, Mitzie Green, Harry Green and Jobyna Howland.

The motion picture star system extends even to Hollywood's animal actors. Among the film animals are stars, featured players, character actors, comedians and extras. They are selected for their various roles with the same care that human players are chosen.

At Paramount's west coast studios this work is done by the animal casting section of the property department.

More than 500 animals of all kinds are listed in this unique casting office, according to their acting abilities.

The animal players are far more caste-conscious than the humans. Stars are distinctly "upish" toward featured actors and positive refusal to have anything to do with extras except under orders.

For instance, Heechee is a canine luminary appearing in "Slightly Scarlet," which co-stars Evelyn Brent and Clive Brook. She is a pedigree Pekinese and the daughter of Chutzy, another dog star.

For certain scenes of the picture, four canine extras were employed. One was a dachshund, one a poodle, another a bulldog and the fourth was plain dog. The extras vised amiably between scenes but Heechee remained majestic aloof, meeting all friendly advances with bored dignity.

GRADUATION FETE IS PROPOSED HERE

(Continued from Page 1.) the plan carries through. It is pointed out by those in favor that the crowded condition of the June exercises as well as giving those who would otherwise be working or out of town an opportunity to go through a formal graduation program.

On the other hand, should the plan be accepted, it will mean details of the commencement, not to say the class sermon, will have to be worked out in a minimum of time.

TULLY RESIGNS JOB AS PASTOR

Local Presbyterian Minister to Accept Call to California Post

(Continued from Page 1.) Salem, the membership of the local church has been increased 400; a new $125,000 church edifice has been constructed; and introduction of the pension law of ministers has been accomplished.

Tully succeeded Rev. Ward Williams Long here, coming west from Racine, Wis.

Since coming to Salem, Dr. Tully has formed a wide acquaintance, and in announcing his resignation last night, he asked that his appreciation be expressed to the many friends with whom he and his family have formed delightful associations for their help and loyalty.

Active Part Taken In Civic Affairs Dr. Tully has been active not only from the pulpit, and within the church, but has been actively interested in civic welfare. He is a member of the Kiwanis club, of lodge No. 4, A. F. and A. M., and of the Y. W. C. A. He is also chairman of the Willamette Presbyterian committee on Christian education and chairman of the same committee for the synod of Oregon.

That the new charge to which he is going offers a larger field than the Salem one, was expressed by the minister last night. He says the Sunday school in Alhambra has 1,000 members, the church 800 members; the education equipment is much larger, with 80 rooms for education purposes alone. The entire plant is new, and the church itself is comparatively new. He says the congregation there looks forward to the church becoming the strongest one in southern California.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS TALKED AT MEET

"Business Outlook for 1936" was the topic under discussion by the Y. M. C. A. at its bi-monthly dinner meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. R. E. Kittredge, president of the club, presided. Several of the 30 members present made short talks relative to the present trend of progress and development for the northwest in 1936.

Among outstanding statements made was one by Judge O. P. Coshaw that the resources of Oregon are being recognized, with special recognition given to the value of its mines. In platinum alone, Oregon has one-tenth of all available in the United States.

C. C. Aller, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, predicted that his company would spend $200,000 in Salem alone in 1936. He also stated that according to telephone statistics there are 30,000 people in Salem.

C. W. Cook made the interesting assertion that "hard times are psychological. Figures from questionnaires show only about four per cent of business men who feel that the stock market collapse affected business."

Ideas of faith and enthusiasm for Oregon's future this year were also expressed in brief talks by R. L. Roman, Judge Hamilton, Rev. Norman K. Tully, R. E. Sisson, C. E. Wilson, Roy W. Hewitt, E. Battelston, and J. F. Ulrich.

Articles of Incorporation Are Approved

Acceptance of articles of incorporation for the Y. M. C. A. Advertising club and agreement upon the members that the articles be filed at once were the principal two business items which came before the club at its regular meeting Thursday noon at the Marion hotel.

Oscar D. Olson presided at the meeting. The executive officers of the club were named defendants in a libel suit last fall and incorporation of the club was decided upon as the best means of preventing a recurrence of the personal liability of the members under the present status of the club. The libel suit was dismissed by the court.

Reports of various Ad club committees and a statement of the programs planned for coming weeks were also on the program.

The speaker will be H. K. Stockwell, local physician, and his subject will be "You and Your Heart." Hereafter the talks will be presented on Tuesday nights and the second will be January 22, when W. B. Morse will be the speaker. Other local physicians will speak at succeeding meetings.

American Delegates Plan to Speed Directly Toward London Today

(Continued from Page 1.) Prime Minister MacDonald's intimation that he would favor a holiday of five or six years served to recall the American naval viewpoint that such a holiday would give the British superiority in this category, since the American vessels are older than the British and that extension of the life of present battleships would keep older vessels in the American service than those of the British.

The question of 12-inch guns is considered largely to be dependent upon the size of battleships decided upon. The British desire to abolish submarines or reduce them to a minimum is favored by the United States.

Fully prepared to present American naval needs at the conference, the American delegation will land on British soil tomorrow confident that the coming parity further the sea armament limitations begun at Washington in 1921.

TRUMPET TRIO IS PART OF W. U. CLUB

The "three trumpeters" are Wesley Roeder, Ralph Morrison, and Gustave Klempel, the young men attain some "marvelous harmony" on their horns. Mr. Morrison, was recently a member of the Horner Conservatory Symphony orchestra at Kansas City, Missouri.

Besides the trumpet numbers and regular choruses, John Crankovich, baritone, and Ben Byrd, cello soloist, will be featured in the club's programs.

The personnel of the glee club is, first tenors, Ralph Morrison, Norman Sorenson; second tenors, Wesley Roeder, Fred Paul, Gustave Klempel, Glenn Savage; baritone, Don Clark, Edwin Rounds, Ronald Hewitt, Howard Miller; bass, John Crankovich, Ben Byrd, Evans Hamilton; accompanist, Richard Bauman.
