

Local News Briefs

Premium List Ready—The premium list for the first Marion county 4-H club project boys and girls to be held here this spring, has been prepared by William W. Fox, county club agent, and will go to the printer shortly. The list is now complete with exception of several awards which may be offered, and includes five cash prizes in four divisions of cooking; five divisions of sewing; two divisions of home making or interior decoration and room improvement; five divisions in sewing; rural home beautification; home beautification; two divisions of handwork; and health.

Periscope Off Press—The last edition for the semester of the Parrish Periscope, newspaper issued every three weeks by the student body of the Parrish junior high school, has been distributed to the pupils. It contains eight pages and is 10 by 7 1/2 inches in size. One page is devoted to room for autographs, inasmuch as 53 pupils are leaving the junior high for the senior high at the end of the week. Frances Bacon, editor, and Lynn Martin, business manager, retire as Periscope directors at the end of this semester.

Don't forget the Tractor School being held here after tomorrow, Friday, Jan. 31, by the Chas. R. Archerd Implement Co., at their store, 210 State street. The school opens at 10:00 a. m.

Latin Club Elects—Officers for the second semester were elected yesterday by the Latin club of the senior high school, these being: Blanche Reece and Howard Teeple, consuls; Martha Kummer, Margaret Smart and Bessie St. Clair, sediles; Theresa Ulrich and Elva Selton, quaestors; Mary Ann Sawyer and Marion Kummer, censors; Louise Melson, praeco; Andrew Repine, scriptor; Charles Greene and Marie Patton, tribunes. Miss Laura V. Hale, head of the Latin department, is advisor to the club.

Nursing Changes Made—With resignation of Miss Martha Harrison, county health unit school and city nurse, submitted to be effective February 1, the following shifts have been announced from the nursing department of the unit. Miss Benita Stroud, who has served the Woodburn territory, will take Miss Harrison's duties in the city and the Woodburn territory will be distributed between Miss Gertrude Brown, Miss Margaret McAlpine and Miss Ruby Bratzka, county health nurses.

Miss Westhoff Visits—Miss Marie Westhoff, teacher at the Grant school for two years before she was seriously injured last September in an automobile accident near Portland, called yesterday at the office of Superintendent George W. Hug. She reported that her physical condition was such that she would be able to take up her work at Grant in another four weeks. Miss Westhoff lives at Mt. Angel.

Want used furniture. Tel. 511.

Elks Giving Aid—With the husband, an ex-service man, in the hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia and the mother and six children in bed and ill of the whooping cough, the American Legion and other local organizations are working to keep the family free from want and in as much comfort as possible under the circumstances. The case was first reported to the Elks, who are supplying food, and the Salvation Army is also assisting.

Former Resident Killed—Helen Dorothy Hatch, age eight, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hatch, who formerly resided at 2100 Center street here, was killed in Spokane Saturday when she stepped in an open elevator shaft and fell two stories, breaking her neck. Funeral services were held in that city Tuesday. She is survived by two brothers, Donald and Gaylord of Spokane, and an aunt, Mrs. Harvey H. Benton of 929 Shipping street, Salem, and two uncles also of this city.

Mice Get Records—Mice which frequent the school building in the Crawford district are full of statistics. At least the teacher has written County School Superintendent Mary L. Fulkerson that all the physical education records of the school were devoured by mice while the school was closed for a short period during the cold weather.

Card of Thanks—We wish to thank the many friends for their expressions of sympathy and thoughtful floral offerings at the death of our mother, Henry, Oscar and Antone Rasmussen.

Girls Plan Banquet—The high school Camp Fire girls will join with other Camp Fire groups of the city for the father and daughters banquet to be held tonight at the Leslie Memorial church, when "Daddy" Baker of the Portland Campfire executive board, will give an address.

Sending Clerk's Supplies—New supplies for clerks of Marion county school districts will be sent out today from the office of County School Superintendent Mary L. Fulkerson. Contract blanks for new teachers are also included in the supplies.

Brother Dies in South—William T. Doolin, brother of Mrs. Alice Rutherford of 310 North Church street, passed away early this week in Danville, Kentucky, according to a telegram received by Mrs. Rutherford yesterday morning.

Visit Daughter Here—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Logan of McMinnville will leave today after visiting here since Sunday with their daughter Mrs. Madeline Logan Callin.

Offer to Visit—Clarence Underwood of Klamath Falls, district deputy grand exalted ruler, will make an official visit to the Salem Elks lodge tonight and will deliver an address.

Mrs. Rosebraugh Hurt—Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh, 1423 State street, is confined to her home as a result of an automobile accident which occurred last Friday. Mrs. Rosebraugh was returning to Salem from Sacramento with her son, Frank, when their car skidded on a slippery pavement and left the road about three miles south of Cresswell on the Pacific highway. Mrs. Rosebraugh was badly shaken and received a slightly sprained back. The accident was reported to The Oregon Statesman as Mrs. Rosebraugh carries one of the North American accident policies which are issued to Statesman subscribers.

Boy Needs Work—Miss Lillah Holloway, director of the part time continuation school, says that she would like to get in touch with anyone who has work for a full time school boy who is urgently in need of work after school hours and at night. Miss Holloway reports also that she has homes in which she can place several girls for part or full time housework, but that she has no girls in her classes for the positions. Anyone interested in either of the above may get in touch with Miss Holloway at 402-W.

Salem Man Held—M. A. Butler, a south Salem resident, is being held for the Linn county grand jury on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses. Butler was arrested at Independence, Monday, it has been learned here. Records at the justice court here reveal that Butler is wanted here on a similar charge, being accused of defrauding the Ladd and Bush bank of $300. A second warrant is also on file here charging him with giving a check without funds, the charge being filed by the Kruger grocery.

Entire Trip Postponed—According to an announcement made Tuesday evening by Howard Miller, manager of the Willamette university, glee club, the proposed trip to Portland and St. Helens for the latter part of the week has been definitely postponed, the originally planned trip to take place during the spring vacation.

Dry wood or coal. Tel. 13.

Officer Takes Man—Edward Dornbush, held in the county jail here for the past several days on a warrant from North Dakota, was taken by J. B. Duncanson, North Dakota, yesterday. Dornbush will face a charge of removing chattels under lien from that state.

Beef Hides Missing—Henry Smith, Stayton, has reported to the sheriff's office that 14 beef hides were missing from the Stayton slaughter house Monday night. All the hides were marked with the number 218, while one of them was marked with an "R" on the left hip.

Tully Says Farewell—Dr. Norman K. Tully, pastor of the Salem Presbyterian church, said farewell to the members of the Kiwanis club, which he has been a member throughout his residence in Salem, at Tuesday's luncheon.

Arm Is Fractured—Earl R. Adams, who is the proprietor of a service station at High and Cheimetta streets, fractured his arm when he slipped from a step ladder at his home 2457 Fairgrounds Road, Monday afternoon. The arm was set at a local hospital.

Hubbard Laid Released—Carl Ott, Hubbard, who has been held in the county jail here pending the outcome of a charge of using rough and abusive language, was released from jail yesterday. Ott's release was on his own recognizance. His case has been continued.

Estate to Be Probated—The estate of Johanne Rasmussen, deceased, was admitted to probate Tuesday. It was estimated that both real and personal property would total $7,500. Antone Rasmussen has been named executor.

Brooks Petition Filed—A petition to set aside the First of January addition to the town of Brooks was filed with the county court yesterday. A warehouse will be built upon the section to be vacated, it was said.

Dollar dinner every night 5:45 to 8 at the Marion hotel.

Want New Market Road—Bill Annan, Mt. Angel road supervisor, appeared at the court house yesterday to hold a conference with county road officials in regard to the establishment of a new market road in that vicinity.

Movies at Rotary—Salem Rotarians this noon will view motion pictures on the subject of health, "To Many Pounds" and "Working for Dear Life," with W. B. Morse, local physician, describing their import.

Guernsey Meeting—The Oregon Guernsey Cattle club will hold a meeting at the Salem chamber of commerce rooms Friday beginning at 11 a. m.

Chorus to Meet—The juvenile chorus, directed by H. C. Epley, will hold its regular rehearsal at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Keys in Portland—Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kay and daughter, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, were Tuesday business visitors in Portland.

CLUB GETS $5000

LA GRANDE, Ore.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stange of Merrill, Wis., have given the La Grande country club $5,000 to be used in the construction of a new club house on the golf course. It was announced by Charles Reynolds, president of the organization.

APPEAL LOST BY LAFOLLETT

Famous Suit Against Wife Is Decided in Her Favor by Supreme Court

Charles R. LaFollett, ex-member of the state legislature from Washington county, Tuesday was adjudged guilty of contempt of court, for failure to pay $75 per month for the support of his wife and four children, in an opinion of the state supreme court affirming the decree of Judge Walter H. Evans of the Multnomah county circuit court. The opinion was written by Justice Rand.

On May 27, 1929, in a suit then pending in the circuit court for Multnomah county, where in defendant's wife was suing him for divorce, an order was made requiring LaFollett to pay into court $75 per month for the support and maintenance of his wife and four children. The court also assessed LaFollett $75 for court costs and $50 as attorney's fees.

LaFollett failed to comply with the terms of the court order, with the result that he was cited to appear before Judge Evans on August 14, 1929, and show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

Attorneys for LaFollett then filed a demurrer in which he sought an order vacating the mandate requiring him to pay any of the money assessed against him in the previous court order. The demurrer alleged that LaFollett had not been served with a copy of the order and that demand had not been made upon him for payment of the money.

The demurrer was overruled, and LaFollett later was held to be in contempt of court. He was sentenced to serve six months in the Multnomah county jail. LaFollett appealed from the order of the circuit court.

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court follow: Macleay Estate company, appellant, vs. Gold Beach Packing company, appeal from Curry county; suit to restrain defendants from maintaining wharf on lands alleged to be public property. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judge J. U. Campbell affirmed.

G. J. Berger vs. City of Salem, appellant; appeal from Marion county; appeal from judgment authorizing plaintiff to establish flying station, not withstanding provision of zoning ordinance. Opinion by Acting Justice Hamilton. Judge L. H. McMahan reversed.

Deo Edwards vs. J. J. Tobin, et al, appellants; appeal from Clackamas county; suit to compel performance of covenant to renew lease. Opinion by Justice Bell. Judge J. U. Campbell affirmed.

Amy H. Eastman, executrix of will of C. A. Eastman, substituted as plaintiff in place of C. A. Eastman, deceased, appellant, vs. Jay D. Cray, defendant, appeal from circuit court decree holding invalid assessment for construction of storm sewer. Opinion by Justice Rasmussen. Motion allowed.

Petition for rehearing denied in May Stores vs. Bishop. Reargument ordered in Dorfman vs. Portland Electric Power company.

The following attorneys having completed their period of probation were admitted by court order to practice law in Oregon: John S. Beer, Portland; E. E. MaGeek, Klamath Falls; Nat H. Aaron, Portland; Edward Otis Smith, Ontario; P. J. Edwards, Eugene, and H. W. Corvitt, Coquille.

CHARITIES KITCHEN GIVEN NEW RANGE

Business of preparing food for transients and needy Salem persons at the Associated Charities kitchen will no longer be a task, thanks to the range which the Stiff Furniture company yesterday donated, reports Mrs. Mae Young, secretary. The furniture company also sent a table with the stove.

Contributions to the Charities cause continue to come in, with the following funds received yesterday:

Gene DeWitt, $1; George Lewis, $2.50; D. D. Socolofsky, $1; General Finance company, $1; A. E. Berger, 55 cents; H. K. Stockwell, $5; D. B. Hill, $1; A. Johnson, $1; B. E. W. $1; W. H. Laidlaw, $5; Fred Ellis, $1; Henry J. Mills, $1; cash, $5; cash, $2; cash, $1; a friend, 50 cents; Mrs. Cross, $3; and Mrs. Russell Catlin, $10.

The Valley Motor company yesterday offered to pick up any automobiles which owners wish to contribute to the Associated Charities, which assistance is most handy at this time, says the secretary. If anyone, who has old clothes, food or other supplies that he or she wishes to give to the Charities, call Mrs. Young, they will be picked up.

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED—SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Jan. 25.—(AP)—John Chambers, arrested near Novato Sunday for the hold-up of the Fairfax branch of the Bank of Italy Thursday, pleaded guilty to first degree robbery here today and was sentenced to from five years to life in San Quentin prison.

POLISHING THE DATES—SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California growers brush their dates with a delicate camel's hair brush to give them luster.

CARDINAL AND MARQUIS

Following a three months' absence from the country, during which he paid two visits to Rome and took a health cruise on the Mediterranean, Cardinal Hayes returns to America with one of his traveling companions, George MacDonald, philanthropist, who has created a Papal Marquis by Pope Pius XI. Crowds of distinguished lay and ecclesiastical figures were at the dock to meet the home-coming.

Mary Elizabeth Kells Is Winner of Thrift Event; Essay Printed in Full

Following is Mary Elizabeth's essay, "My Idea of Thrift," which won first prize in the thrift essay contest sponsored in the two junior high schools as a part of thrift week activities. Mary Elizabeth is a daughter of C. A. Kells of the Y. M. C. A. and is a student at Leslie junior high school. The essay in full:

What is thrift? Is it life insurance, savings accounts, building and loan balances, houses, stocks and bonds, or money in the bank? No, it is none of these.

Thrift is the carrying out of a program for life that will satisfy us when the program is complete, and will satisfy us in the day-by-day execution of it.

Everything of value, such as health, time and money, is worth saving.

Everyone wants to be healthy. The time to form good habits is when we are young. If we don't take care of our teeth, for instance, our whole system is likely to be out of order. We should brush our teeth at least twice a day. This is thrift, because, if we don't, our teeth decay, we get sick and cannot work, then we want to know the cause. We go to the doctor. He traces our illness back to our teeth. The money which he charges for telling us this, with the dentist fee, could have been saved by practicing this good health habit.

Time is very precious. We must use it as it passes, for it cannot be restored. Benjamin Franklin said, "A stitch in time saves nine." If we have a hole in our stocking, we shouldn't say, "Oh, well, I'll mend it after while," and go outside and play. When we come in, we will find that the little hole has turned into a big hole, which is much harder to mend than a small one. "A penny saved is a penny earned."

We must learn to spend wisely as well as save. We must also learn to choose the right kind of friends and the best books.

When I grow up I hope to be a doctor. Since it will take much money, I save all the money I can get. Then my daddy won't have to pay it all. I practice my music in my leisure time so that when I go to the university I can help pay my way by giving music lessons.

If we have a purpose in life we learn more easily to do without that which is unnecessary, and we soon learn to conserve those things that are worth while. Marcus Aurelius said, "A strong character is every ready to sacrifice the present pleasure for the future good."

Thrift is the conservation of time, health and wealth. It is also the ability to spend wisely. A person of good judgment practices thrift.

Myrtle Point Man Named to Education Staff

Earl R. Cooley, until recently Myrtle Point, Tuesday was appointed state supervisor of agricultural education to succeed O. I. Paulson, according to announcement made at the state educational department.

Cooley is a graduate of Oregon state college, where he completed his work in 1923. During the past few years he taught vocational agriculture in the high school at Myrtle Point.

Ask Imperial Furniture About

For Expert Truck and Tractor Motor Reconditioning See G. A. Raymond Machine Shop 423 Chem. St. Phone 8

City View Cemetery Established 1893 Tel. 1266 Conveniently Accessible Perpetual care provided for Prices Reasonable

Belcrest Memorial Park A Park Cemetery with perpetual care Just ten minutes from the heart of town

THRIFT EVENT WINNERS TOLD

Prize Winners Announced in Essay Contest in Local Schools

Prize winners in the thrift essay contests conducted in the Salem grade and junior high schools in connection with the observance of national thrift week were announced yesterday. Fifty-eight scrap books were submitted by the elementary grades, and more than 100 essays were entered by junior high students.

In the elementary division, awards went to the following schools rooms, teacher for which is given:

First grade—Washington, Miss Lita Waters, teacher, first prize; Richmond, Miss Adella Chapter, teacher, second prize.

Second grade—Washington, Miss Martha Jean Dixon, first; Richmond, Mrs. Maybelle Burch, second.

Third grade—Garfield, Mrs. Myrtle McCormick, first; Lincoln, Miss Esther G. Long, second.

Fourth—Richmond school, Miss Lavina Sheridan, first; Garfield, Miss Claire Campau, second.

Fifth—Englewood, Mrs. Dorothy Bancroft, first; Garfield, Mrs. Mildred Trent, second.

Sixth—Englewood, Miss Erna Sadler, first; McKinley, Mrs. Herma Pfister, second.

Leslie pupils carried off every prize in the junior high division, with first going to Mary Elizabeth Kells; second to John Hanson; and third to Margaret Dooge.

Judges for the elementary division were Miss Merle McKelvey and Miss Lillian Davis. In the essay division, judging was done by Miss Julia Webster and Miss Grace Gilliam. Judges report a high standard of work and keen competition.

Cash awards will be presented to the winners sometime today by H. E. Eakin of the First National bank. Prize winning scrap books are on display in the window of the United States National bank on Commercial street. All scrap books entered in the contest will be on public display at the senior high school in the library from 10 to 12 o'clock Saturday, at which time anyone interested is invited to inspect the books.

The Salem teachers' association sponsored the contests.

PROGRESS ON ROAD IS SAID VERY SLOW

"Encountered lots of snow and cold weather but only got stuck about 100 times."

This was the brief account of his mid-winter cross-country motor jaunt from Minneapolis, Minn., to Salem, given yesterday on his arrival here by A. E. Schoettler, 425 North Nineteenth street, today before leaving for Seattle to take up his work as vocational guidance director for the Seattle school system.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

THRIFT EVENT WINNERS TOLD

Prize Winners Announced in Essay Contest in Local Schools

Prize winners in the thrift essay contests conducted in the Salem grade and junior high schools in connection with the observance of national thrift week were announced yesterday. Fifty-eight scrap books were submitted by the elementary grades, and more than 100 essays were entered by junior high students.

In the elementary division, awards went to the following schools rooms, teacher for which is given:

First grade—Washington, Miss Lita Waters, teacher, first prize; Richmond, Miss Adella Chapter, teacher, second prize.

Second grade—Washington, Miss Martha Jean Dixon, first; Richmond, Mrs. Maybelle Burch, second.

Third grade—Garfield, Mrs. Myrtle McCormick, first; Lincoln, Miss Esther G. Long, second.

Fourth—Richmond school, Miss Lavina Sheridan, first; Garfield, Miss Claire Campau, second.

Fifth—Englewood, Mrs. Dorothy Bancroft, first; Garfield, Mrs. Mildred Trent, second.

Sixth—Englewood, Miss Erna Sadler, first; McKinley, Mrs. Herma Pfister, second.

Leslie pupils carried off every prize in the junior high division, with first going to Mary Elizabeth Kells; second to John Hanson; and third to Margaret Dooge.

Judges for the elementary division were Miss Merle McKelvey and Miss Lillian Davis. In the essay division, judging was done by Miss Julia Webster and Miss Grace Gilliam. Judges report a high standard of work and keen competition.

Cash awards will be presented to the winners sometime today by H. E. Eakin of the First National bank. Prize winning scrap books are on display in the window of the United States National bank on Commercial street. All scrap books entered in the contest will be on public display at the senior high school in the library from 10 to 12 o'clock Saturday, at which time anyone interested is invited to inspect the books.

The Salem teachers' association sponsored the contests.

PROGRESS ON ROAD IS SAID VERY SLOW

"Encountered lots of snow and cold weather but only got stuck about 100 times."

This was the brief account of his mid-winter cross-country motor jaunt from Minneapolis, Minn., to Salem, given yesterday on his arrival here by A. E. Schoettler, 425 North Nineteenth street, today before leaving for Seattle to take up his work as vocational guidance director for the Seattle school system.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.

It required just 64 days for Mr. Schoettler to make the trip, traveling by way of Cheyenne, Boise and Portland. The coldest point on the journey was Minneapolis where the thermometer registered 24 degrees below zero when he left. Mr. Schoettler wore out a set of chains. Oregon highways, he said, were the best he had found anywhere and he praised them loudly.