First Woman Hood Climber Still Living

McMINNVILLE, Feb. 8.—(Special)—Mary Ann Gilkey, 84, believed to have been the first white child born in Yamhill county, is still living at her birthplace on her father's old donation land near Dayton. The pioneer woman's tales of primitive frontier life here when she was a girl are absorbing, so clear is her memory and knowledge of interesting detail. She recalls a trip to the top of Mt. Hood in 1866 when she and a friend were the first women ever to reach the peak. The trip in those days was an adventure. It required the party six days to reach Government Camp after leaving Portland.
