Willamette's second intersectional debate is scheduled for Tuesday evening when the local debaters meet a three man team from Wheaton college, Wheaton, Illinois, at the Chemawa Indian school. The contest will be held at Chemawa because of the appearance of Bishop Titus Lowe in the Willamette chapel that night. A Willamette team defeated Wheaton at Wheaton in 1923. The Wheaton debaters are on a tour of the west which in Oregon includes Reed college of Oregon State college, at Corvallis. The members of the team are Stephen Paine of Grand Rapids, Michigan; Allan Zaun, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Clarence Sorenson, of Bollus, Nebraska.

The same team which debated the University of Hawaii here last Monday is to represent Willamette. The Pi Kappa Alpha question, "Resolved, that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament," will be used.
