

INCOME LEVIES ARE EXPLAINED

Salem Realty Board Holds Annual Session Here Last Night

Phases of the federal income tax law and the state intangible and excise taxes were explained to the Salem Realty Board, in monthly session last night at the Marion, by L. E. Oberer, member of the board. Oberer pointed out the changes in the federal law and to the many instances in which the law which is especially applicable to the realtor and his business transactions.

Three other members of the board gave short talks. James Sears talked on "Population," predicting that in the next 10 years Salem's population will double that of today and pictured the part the realtor will play in doubling that population. He touched upon the chain store, asserting that this method of merchandising will for some time play an important role in business property values here.

Mrs. Winnie Pettyjohn spoke on "Salem's Civic Organizations," dividing them in two classifications: those that affect the child and those that affect the adult. The former she declared to be the most important, because a properly trained child means a desirable adult element in the next generation. She said she had found the schools of Salem played a strong part in bringing families to this city and that she believed the work of maintaining schools to the most efficient degree a business obligation. She touched upon the many organizations which have been started for both child and adult.

There is really but one drawback to Salem as a home, in substance said E. A. Miller in speaking on "Salem's and the Valley's Natural Advantages." That drawback is in its estimation, that the valley is located out of line with the greatest development because it is practically the end reach of development, rather than a territory through which people are going to pass for farther fields. Transportation, natural beauties, climate, a good productive soil and a good substantial population are all strong points, he said.

E. B. Grabenhorst was named chairman of a committee to study other realty boards of the valley to cooperate with the local board in erecting a significant sign at the entrance to the valley from the south, this sign to displace the ineffectual sign which now marks the spot.

WOMAN INJURED IN LEAP FROM WINDOW

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—While crowd estimated at 5,000 looked on Margaret Paine, 25, one of about 200 employees of seven different firms trapped on the upper floors of a burning building near the Loop, leaped from the eighth story and was probably fatally injured late today when she struck the edge of a life net and fell into the street. All the others escaped without serious injury.

A number of firemen and volunteers were unable to support the net under the impact of her body. Witnesses said her body struck a projection on the facade of the building on its way down. Her skull was fractured. Three men also leaped from the eighth floor into the net and suffered no more than minor bruises. Four men and four women found on the ledges of windows on the eleventh floor and were rescued by firemen, who had to use scaling ladders because their extension ladders reached only to the sixth story.

At a hospital doctors said that Miss Paine, an employee of the Western Film company, probably would die.

The fire, which caused damage estimated at $350,000 was in the Gunther building at 1018 South Washburn avenue, just south of the loop.

Work Carried On Redeking County Bridge

The work of redecking the west approach to the Marion-Polk county bridge at Salem is progressing steadily. Heavy bridge timbers are being laid. They will be covered with asphalt with non-skid surface. Traffic is not being held up very long, but guards control the movement of cars across the new work.

Similar work is under way at the Harrisburg bridge across the Willamette. Both jobs are being done by the state highway commission.

Cherrians Meet Here This Week

The Cherrians will hold their first regular meeting of the new year and the first presided over by the new King King, Grover Hillman, Tuesday night at the chamber of commerce. Plans for obtaining some good pictures to advertise blossom day will be discussed, and suggestions as to other activities which the Cherrians may engage in, will be invited.

LUMBER MILLS OPEN
MEMPHIS, Feb. 10.—(Special)—Lumber mills and camps throughout this section are working again after temporary suspension for several weeks. Mills of the Southern Lumber Company, located here and at Newburg resumed operations this week.

The Call Board

By OLIVE M. DOAK

HOLLYWOOD

North Capitol street, North Salem

Today—"Hard to Get"

Wednesday—"Anybody Here Love and Tom Moore."

Thursday—"Anybody Here Love and Tom Moore. Manhattan players."

Friday—"The Grayhound Limited" with Monte Blue.

GRAND

North High between Court and State

Today—"Hard to Get" with Dorothy McCall and Jack Oakie.

Wednesday—"Her Private Affair" with Ann Harding. Collins and Singer.

Thursday—"Her Private Affair" with Ann Harding. Collins and Singer.

Friday—"The Grayhound Limited" with Monte Blue.

BLIGH'S CAPITOL

State between High and Church

Today—"George Arliss in 'Disraeli'."

Sunday—"Romance of Rio Grande."

FOX ELISNORE

South High between State and Ferry

Today—"Maurice Chevalier in 'The Love Parade'."

Saturday—"The Vagabond Lover" with Rudy Vallee and Fanchon and Marco.

"Disraeli" is all that has been said that it was and then the story is not told. George Arliss makes one realize just how far from acting most of the so-called art is which we see every day.

The motion of his hand, the raise of an eyebrow, the expression of his eyes—all is such perfect artistry that it makes one ashamed to consider what is sometimes called art.

Not only is his acting good but that of the whole cast has been polished and put into a sincere interpretation of a gripping and powerful story of intrigue and political strategy.

Today is Tuesday and it marks the entrance of Maurice Chevalier into the theatre realm of Salem. He is to be seen at the Fox Elsinore—not only seen but heard—and it is difficult to say which is the most interesting.

He is so homely that he is handsome. He has a twinkle in his eyes that cannot be missed—it is not part of his acting—it is his very own and it has power.

The story is one of love and romance and it is told both in song and in speaking. It is smooth, beautifully photographed, and interesting. It is built on such human frailty that there cannot but be common appreciation for all those who see it.

Mrs. Harra Is Taken by Death Late Saturday

Mrs. Mary Adeline (Addie) Harra died at her home at 621 North Winter street Saturday night at the age of 63 years. She had lived in this city since 1907. Funeral services were held here Monday afternoon and interment was made in the City View cemetery.

Today is buried a son, G. W. Harra, instructor in the local high school; her mother, Mrs. M. J. Hinton; and five brothers and sisters, also all of Salem: H. P. Durham, Mrs. W. Hollis Mills, W. H. Hinton, Mrs. Nannie Jackson and Mrs. M. B. Brooks. She is also survived by another brother and sister: H. J. Hinton of Phoenix, Arizona, and Mrs. Victoria Roy of Taft, Calif.

Thornburgh Is Now Candidate For Legislature

John A. Thornburgh of Forest Grove, Monday filed with the secretary of state here his declaration of candidacy for the republican nomination for representative in the legislature for the 15th representative district, comprising Washington county. There are three representatives to be elected from Washington county.

"Conscientious performance of all official duties and obligations" is the slogan adopted by Thornburgh.

Kinsley Funeral Rites Scheduled

SILVERTON, Feb. 10.—Funeral services for Mrs. Eda Kinsley, 73, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church officiating. The body will be taken to Bristol, Vermont for interment. Nye Bristol, a nephew, will accompany the body.

Mrs. Kinsley is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. S. Bristol of Silvertown and Mrs. George Farr of Vermont.

HAMPTON BETTER UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Eugene, Feb. 10.—(Special)—Clarence Hamilton of Salem, who has been confined in the infirmary the past few days has been released.

Trunk's Prescription Rheumatism

People once afflicted with rheumatism are often told to "pull it out" by the use of the "Trunk's Prescription." It is a scientific method, based on the fact that you cannot see it, but you can feel it. It is a scientific method, based on the fact that you cannot see it, but you can feel it. It is a scientific method, based on the fact that you cannot see it, but you can feel it.

SUBMARINE TO BE CONSIDERED

Substantial Progress Made At Naval Conference Says MacDonald

(Continued from Page 1.)

The United States delegation, will follow the first lord and is preparing his address on lines of fullest support of the British policy.

France, who first broached the "humanizing" plan in London, will add her voice to Britain's and America's on this issue, but at the same time will fight every attempt to eliminate submarines.

Mr. Stimson will urge that, if the seas cannot be rid of the submarine menace, these ships must be reduced to the fewest possible number. At the same time he will express the desire of the United States to sign an agreement banning their use against merchant vessels in the ruthless manner of the World war.

Technical argument on submarines will follow the lines of Lord Balfour's speech at the Washington conference. Great Britain will propose to revive the agreement signed at Washington February 6, 1922, but not ratified by France, to regulate the attack of merchant ships by submarines in accordance with the rules and practice set forth in the treaty.

Although out from the time he first hit the floor, Hansen refused to stay down for the count. He rose in a daze each time to waste into Sandwina, wildly swinging his arms and seeking to get into a clinch. Sure of his man, the Sioux City punter measured his larger opponent with the accuracy of a tape measure, finding in succession for counts of three, four, three, two, six, and finally ten.

The first count of six sent Hansen through the ropes but he arose and vainly sought to get going. Hansen weighed 203 pounds and Sandwina 194.

Winter sports on the slopes of Mt. Hood were greatly enjoyed by the party of Chemeketas who spent Saturday night and Sunday morning at the resort. Although snow conditions were not ideal for skiing and tobogganing.

Those in the party were Lella Johnson, Gale Curry, Lois Lattimer, Laville Perry, Ipha Knox, A. C. Perry, Lois Steinkamp, Margaret Moore, Richard Upshur, Edward McDonald, Frank Cross, Frank Spear, Glen Holman, Elsie Holman, Louise Gunn, Bessie Scott, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Emmert, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blinckhorn, Elsie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hoffman, Grace Johnson, Myrtle Moore, Carl Miller, Flor Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hamilton, Pauline Johnson, June Jackson, Mrs. Bushy, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Douglas, Katherine Gaylor, Geddis Smith, Mildred Thrift, Ralph Eggstalt, Gladys Miller, Myrtle McDuff, Mildred Gehr, Ruth Howe, Mildred Hartung, A. H. Julien, Echo Baldersee, Ruth Braut, and Muriel Wilson.

Efforts toward collection of numerous sums of money which have been owed to the city of Salem, some of them for a number of years, are being made by William H. Trimble, city attorney.

Some of these debts are in the form of delinquent license fees, and others delinquent street and sidewalk assessments. Some collections have already been made, and others are in process of negotiation.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

PLAY IS PRESENTED AT SALEM HEIGHTS

Salem Heights Dramatic club presented Feb. 6 and 7 its play, entitled, "A Family Affair," to large and appreciative audiences.

Each evening the hall rang with laughter and applause from the opening to the final curtain.

In response to requests from numerous persons in Salem and even in West Salem, the play will be given for the third time. It is planned to stage it again Thursday evening and conclude the tour.

The curtain is scheduled to rise at 8 p. m. Thursday evening, February 13.

Cleave Bartlett who played the role of Daniel Gillespie, a young man in a tight place, who needed money and a baby and was as true as truth, received large applause at the predicaments he found himself in.

Dr. D. D. Craig as Johnson, the hired man, kept the audience in a continual state of laughter, by dumb scenes and antics to his master and secure the much needed baby for Mister Dan and also untangle his own love affairs.

Mrs. Gladys Washburn, as Sally, and Johnson's new wife, brought scenes to the water, with her cute manner of sitting out of a numerous baby situation.

Mrs. D. D. Craig as Miss Campbell, a bric a brac maid who wanted a man and didn't care much what kind, was frequently hit in her make up and actions and received continued applause whenever she appeared.

Earl E. Pruitt as the irascible Deacon Smith was most excellent in his role provoking laughter and applause at every turn and getting in to hot water himself through his investigations into Daniel's affairs.

Mrs. Fred W. Burger as Louise Johnson (negress) brought the house down in the third act, when she was a maid and ready to do bodily injury to the culprit who spirited away her baby.

The evening's entertainment was further augmented by solos from Mr. Edward Burnside and Mrs. Fred W. Burger, who were from Salem went out to see the show and the writer has been informed by them that they could not pick a favorite as the cast was so evenly balanced.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The McCoy-Perrydale Grange met Wednesday evening with an excellent attendance. After the business meeting a program was presented. Those on the program were: Mr. H. J. Elliot, Miss McMillan, Mrs. J. W. Finn, Mona Brooks, Marjory Stewart, Anna Frank, Betty Lou Finn, and among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Powell of Monmouth and Polk County Agent Beck, who gave a short talk.

Waldo Finn was a business caller in Portland Thursday.

Misses Mona Brooks and Eva DePries spent Wednesday with Miss Betty Lou Finn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Finn attended the American Legion meeting in Dallas Thursday evening.

PLANE FORCED DOWN
CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A tri-motored twelve-passenger monoplane of the West Coast Air Transport company made a forced landing on Corvallis airport late yesterday because of heavy fog. Six passengers made their way to their destination, Portland, by motor.

NEW BAND SOUGHT FOR THIS SUMMER

Has anybody got a brass band that he wants to put to work? The band committee of the city council will hold a meeting soon to decide upon the contract for this year's concert.

For several years past Oscar Steelhammer's band has presented these concerts—in fact for so many years that the public has come to take it for granted.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

PLAY IS PRESENTED AT SALEM HEIGHTS

Salem Heights Dramatic club presented Feb. 6 and 7 its play, entitled, "A Family Affair," to large and appreciative audiences.

Each evening the hall rang with laughter and applause from the opening to the final curtain.

In response to requests from numerous persons in Salem and even in West Salem, the play will be given for the third time. It is planned to stage it again Thursday evening and conclude the tour.

The curtain is scheduled to rise at 8 p. m. Thursday evening, February 13.

Cleave Bartlett who played the role of Daniel Gillespie, a young man in a tight place, who needed money and a baby and was as true as truth, received large applause at the predicaments he found himself in.

Dr. D. D. Craig as Johnson, the hired man, kept the audience in a continual state of laughter, by dumb scenes and antics to his master and secure the much needed baby for Mister Dan and also untangle his own love affairs.

Mrs. Gladys Washburn, as Sally, and Johnson's new wife, brought scenes to the water, with her cute manner of sitting out of a numerous baby situation.

Mrs. D. D. Craig as Miss Campbell, a bric a brac maid who wanted a man and didn't care much what kind, was frequently hit in her make up and actions and received continued applause whenever she appeared.

Earl E. Pruitt as the irascible Deacon Smith was most excellent in his role provoking laughter and applause at every turn and getting in to hot water himself through his investigations into Daniel's affairs.

Mrs. Fred W. Burger as Louise Johnson (negress) brought the house down in the third act, when she was a maid and ready to do bodily injury to the culprit who spirited away her baby.

The evening's entertainment was further augmented by solos from Mr. Edward Burnside and Mrs. Fred W. Burger, who were from Salem went out to see the show and the writer has been informed by them that they could not pick a favorite as the cast was so evenly balanced.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—The McCoy-Perrydale Grange met Wednesday evening with an excellent attendance. After the business meeting a program was presented. Those on the program were: Mr. H. J. Elliot, Miss McMillan, Mrs. J. W. Finn, Mona Brooks, Marjory Stewart, Anna Frank, Betty Lou Finn, and among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Powell of Monmouth and Polk County Agent Beck, who gave a short talk.

Waldo Finn was a business caller in Portland Thursday.

Misses Mona Brooks and Eva DePries spent Wednesday with Miss Betty Lou Finn.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jennings and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Finn attended the American Legion meeting in Dallas Thursday evening.

PLANE FORCED DOWN
CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 10.—(AP)—A tri-motored twelve-passenger monoplane of the West Coast Air Transport company made a forced landing on Corvallis airport late yesterday because of heavy fog. Six passengers made their way to their destination, Portland, by motor.

NEW BAND SOUGHT FOR THIS SUMMER

Has anybody got a brass band that he wants to put to work? The band committee of the city council will hold a meeting soon to decide upon the contract for this year's concert.

For several years past Oscar Steelhammer's band has presented these concerts—in fact for so many years that the public has come to take it for granted.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—(AP)—J. L. Butler, general manager of the Chicago plant of the Corn Products Refining company, said he knew nothing of the conspiracy indictment returned in Springfield against his firm, the Fleischmann company and 17 alleged bootleggers.

ANOTHER BRIDGE IS FOUND INADEQUATE

Residents of the vicinity reported Monday that the Cross street bridge over Fringle creek was falling to accommodate the water coming down that stream, and that it was backing up and flooding basements in that area.

They claimed that considerable damage had been caused.

Similar complaints had been made recently about several bridges in that part of the city. Engineers who have investigated state that the bridges have ample clearance to carry the flood water, but that the failure is due to obstructions in the stream and its narrowness at several points.

At the 13th street bridge, which was similarly flooded recently, it was found that one of the two openings under the bridge was blocked almost completely by gravel deposited there because of back current at a bend in the creek. The problem has been referred to City Engineer Hugh Rogers.

A federal officer, whose name was not learned, made the arrest. He had been in Dallas for some days, fraternizing with local young men and gathering information which led to the arrest.

Lewis will be given a hearing in local court on Friday, with Justice Charles Gregory presiding. Although this is Lewis' second offense his physical condition is such that a jail sentence is not probable.

HOPMERE, Feb. 10.—Arthur Goffin is reported to be quite ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Grason, who have recently purchased a dairy farm near Pease will move soon to their new ranch. Their Hopmere property will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Dolinski. Mrs. Dolinski is a daughter of the Grasons.

Miss Constance Buchanan of Portland, was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Buchanan of Hopmere.

On Friday evening, February 14th, the Buena Vista Literary society will sponsor a program. Mr. and Mrs. Albertson and Keith Jones are the committee in charge of the program.

Miss Lenora Jones spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Jones. Miss Jones is a student at Monmouth Normal school.