

BRUSH COLLEGE GRANGE MEETS

Patriotic Program Featured At Regular Meeting of Group

BRUSH COLLEGE, Feb. 11.—About 75 members were present at the regular meeting of the Brush College Grange Friday night, February 7, and enjoyed the bounteous 8:30 o'clock supper which preceded the program and business meeting.

The tables were artistically decorated with flags. Mrs. C. L. Blodgett, grange lecturer, had charge of the splendid patriotic program including "America," by the assembly, tribute to Washington by Dr. C. L. Blodgett, tribute to Lincoln by Glenn Adams, two musical numbers "Falling Leaves" and "Forget Me Not," by Hilda Crawford, tenor banjo, Frank Crawford, Jr., steel guitar, and Miss Louise Seefeld, piano.

As an encore the trio played "Aloha," two readings "Incidents in the Life of Lincoln" and "A Tribute to the Flag," by Burton Cray; vocal number, "Mount Vernon Bells," by Billy Uttley, accompanied by Frank Crawford on the steel guitar. "Hawaiian Blues" was sung as encore, accompanied by Hilda Crawford, banjo, Frank Crawford, steel guitar, and Mrs. A. E. Uttley, piano. The next number was a talk by County Agent Beck on the experiments made last year in pruning prune trees and the different results noticed in the orchards. The new grange officers put on the first and second degree work and initiated Mrs. Groves of West Salem.

The standing committees gave reports. Refreshment committee for Friday night was Mrs. Oliver Whitney, Mrs. Charles McCarter, Mrs. H. M. Buel, Mrs. Jesse Worthington and Mrs. Cash Roberts. The next meeting, March 7, will be in the nature of a homecoming. Announcements will be made later.

MONMOUTH GRANGE MEETING ENJOYED

MONMOUTH, Feb. 11.—The February meeting of Monmouth Grange was held Saturday and was well attended, with dinner served at noon.

The afternoon program opened with roll call answered by quotations or anecdotes relating to the life of Washington and Lincoln. G. A. Peterson of Oak Point spoke in interesting vein on the great emancipator, Misses Havhill, and Root, members respectively of Central Grange, Clackamas county, and of Tigard grange, were guests for the day. They are Normal school students.

The grange will entertain the Monmouth Lions and their wives at dinner at the March meeting.

Kenneth Gillanders received the most votes for president and Edith Shrock was elected vice-president. Frank Nelson is to be the secretary and the businesses that were heretofore handled by individuals are being placed in the hands of committees since the adoption of the new constitution last spring.

The three members who, with the student body officers, form the board of control are Elizabeth Miller, Harold Schooler and Jane Yergen.

ROBERTS CLUB HAS PROGRAM

Unique Pageant Written and Directed by S. C. Davenport Featured

ROBERTS, Feb. 11.—Division one of the Community club led by S. C. Davenport, presented a most pleasing scenario Saturday night called "The Temple of Fame."

The production met with enthusiastic response and many compliments were given Mr. Davenport as he not only wrote the play and planned it, but drilled the characters so that each did his part exceedingly well.

The cast was as follows: queen, Miss Dorothy Rice; maids in waiting, Alberta Hansen and June Edwards; pages, Roseanne Goodrich and Clara Hansen; Christopher Columbus, Merle Shorey; George Washington, Wesley Goodrich; Abraham Lincoln, Hollis Selmer; Joan of Arc, Miss Julia Query; Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd Davenport; Jigs, Leroy Edwards; Maggie, Dorothy Salchenberg; Paul Revere, Raphael Bettincourt; Mother Goose, Ardeth Caldwell.

"Napoleon's March" was played by Mrs. Forest Edwards. As the music grew softer the curtains slowly parted disclosing a most beautiful scene. On a high throne, rich in tapestry, sat the queen dressed in purple robes. Above the throne was written "The Temple of Fame." Below the queen were the maids in waiting and the pages in lovely costumes.

Costumes Attractive The candidates for the wreath of fame, dressed in characteristic costumes, entered one by one telling why each should have the wreath. Christopher Columbus, George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Joan of Arc in armor, who after introducing herself sang "The Marseilles." Woodrow Wilson and the humorous applicants Jigs, Maggie, and Paul Revere.

A noise was heard and in came Mother Goose with her 12 children, six boys and six girls, who came to boost for her. The children came in singing "Ten Little Indians." As they sang they marched, making beautiful columns and formations. After much praise by them for Mother Goose, the former candidate voted that the wreath of fame be given to her. The queen then placed a beautiful wreath of laurel and silver on the head of Mother Goose. The children gave three cheers and all stood and sang "America," the audience joining in.

Music Enjoyed Preceding the scenario were several splendid numbers which met with great applause: duet, "Springtime on the Rockies" by Mrs. Forest Edwards and Miss Julia Query, Quartet, "John Brown's Body," by Henry Query, Floyd Davenport, Floyd Query and Roy Rice. Both numbers were encored. After the program came the auctioning off of faces, or rather noses and eyes. Three holes were cut in a sheet and the lady to be auctioned displayed her nose and eyes through these.

SANDNER HEADS WOOL GROWERS

Socio Man Elected to Represent Northern Willamette Valley Group

G. A. Sandner of Scio was re-elected to represent the northern Willamette valley counties on the board of directors of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, at the recent election held throughout this district. The first meeting of the new board was held at Portland on February 10th. Other western and southern Oregon members of the board are E. A. McCormack of Eugene, Loren Miller of Dillard and George Hall of Oakland.

This wool marketing association, which will be the northwest unit of the new National Wool Marketing Corporation, is strictly cooperative and is governed by a board of fifteen growers elected by and from the membership. A fifteenth director is appointed to represent the public at large.

Operating plans for 1930 to take care of the greatly increased volume to be handled by the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers as a result of its participation in the new national program will be outlined by the directors at this meeting. A report of the progress that has been made in setting up the National Wool Marketing Corporation will be made by R. A. Ward, manager of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, and a director of the national corporation.

The National Wool Marketing Corporation, which is made up of the regional wool marketing associations of the United States, has taken over one of the oldest and strongest wool houses in Boston as its sales agency. The Federal Farm Board will supervise its operations. Individual growers' dealings will continue to be with their regional cooperative, such as the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, but they will secure the benefit of marketing their wool through the national agency with 30,000 other American growers who are expected to deliver 120,000,000 pounds of wool to the national this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jones were guests recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Nusom. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Thurmon of Forest Grove recently visited with friends and relatives here. They returned to Portland where Mr. Thurmon is taking treatment for gonorrhea. They are former residents of this place.

Miss Constance Goffin has returned to Salem to resume her studies at Sacred Heart Academy after spending the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goffin.

Gervais Council Handles Routine City Business

GERVAIS, Feb. 11.—The Gervais city council met in regular session Monday night and transacted only routine business. All members were present.

The regular contract bills were allowed and ordered paid. The big business of the meeting was the report of the special committee of the council which met with the county court and the state highway engineers in Salem Monday. The committee reported that the highway engineers would not listen to any other route than down Third street, back of the regular street used for business. The report was accepted.

This closes what the Salem papers have been pleased to call "division of the citizens" upon what street should be used as a thoroughfare for the market road through Gervais. Work will start on this improvement as soon as weather conditions will warrant, according to report.

GERVAIS BLOCK SOLD Gervais, Feb. 11.—Mrs. Magdalena Plennert has sold to Catherine Mathes a block of ground near the west city limits, the consideration being $500.00. Mr. Plennert died recently.

WOODBURN TO HAVE A BASKET SOCIAL

Seniors Lead All Classes in Both Department and Class Work

WOODBURN, February 11.—The Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church will hold an old fashioned basket social in the Ogilvie building next Friday.

There will be a program, a social hour as well as the basket sale and everyone is invited. The general chairman for the affair is Inez Elliott and the proceeds realized from the social will go to the church.

Girls Entertain Small Children At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Feb. 11.—Monday afternoon the advanced home economics class entertained guests at the home of Agnes Simonton.

Each girl went after her small guest and escorted her to the party. They were told a story and the picture that was to be taken by Kennell-Elis was explained. Then while all of the children were playing they took the picture.

Later punch and animal cookies were served. For six weeks the older girls have been studying child care and the party was given with the idea of bringing the girls in direct contact with small children. This proved very beneficial and interesting.

Stayton

STAYTON, Feb. 11.—Miss Loretta Quillhot came from Portland to attend the funeral of Mrs. Arch Caspell, which was held Monday afternoon. Miss Quillhot and Miss Lucille Caspell are taking the nurses training course at St. Vincent's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Day and little daughter, have moved to Washington. They will live on his brother's farm about 18 miles from Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Smith, of Estacada, were among those who came to attend the funeral of Mrs. Arch Caspell.

Floyd Crabtree, rural carrier, has been ill with erysipelas. Mrs. Tom Taylor, substitute carrier, has been taking his place on the route.

H. S. HONOR ROLL NAMED

Peter Buffington Rites at Stayton

STAYTON, Feb. 11.—Burial services for Peter Buffington were held on Thursday at the Lone Oak cemetery. He was laid away beside his wife, who died from flu during the severe epidemic of 1918. He was quite well known here, his wife having been Pearl Stayton, daughter of Mrs. Betty Stayton of this place.

Mr. Buffington was a railroad engineer, and was in active service overseas at the time of his wife's death. As in her case, his death was caused by flu and pneumonia. He was 51 years of age, and passed away at Albany.

RUTH WHITNEY ILL

BRUSH COLLEGE, Feb. 11.—Ruth Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Whitney of Brush college is confined to her home by illness. She became ill Wednesday, February 5 and pneumonia developed rapidly.

Monday's report was that her temperature was slightly lowered and her condition more favorable. Ruth is a pupil at the Brush College school.

Believe it or not!

A shepherd boy left crumbs of his lunch and a little milk in a cave—weeks later he returned and found not crumbs and milk, but a cheese that has since been called "Roquefort".

Many great discoveries happen by accident—and you might accidentally take lunch or dinner here some day.
