MONMOUTH CLUB PROGRAM UNIQUE

Early History of Town Recalled by Pioneers Who Are Club Guests

MONMOUTH, Feb. 15.—At the February meeting of the Monmouth Civic club, Saturday, an unique program was presented under the direction of Miss Laura J. Taylor, who heads the department of physical education for women at the normal and is chairman of the program committee of the club. As the date of meeting succeeded Admission day, Miss Taylor observed this anniversary and from an interesting compilation of facts pertaining to the history of Monmouth, observed also that this year marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Monmouth; and the fiftieth anniversary of its incorporation.

On March 10, 1855, according to records found in city hall, a board of trustees was appointed and immediately took action to have the town platted, originally to have 16 city blocks 300 feet square; with streets 66 feet wide except Monmouth avenue—which was laid out in 1860; the university, which was $2 1/2 feet wide. On Jan. 18, 1865 the territorial council of Oregon granted a charter for establishment of Monmouth university.

Miss Taylor advanced the suggestion that a fitting community commemoration of these important historical events be held here within the year; and that a committee be appointed including a member from the Civic club, from the Lions club, from the Normal school, and from the city council.

Her principal motive in gathering the historical data was that a definite start be made to preserve precise records of Monmouth's unique history, while sons and daughters of the founders are living and able to furnish the records. A custodian will be appointed to add to the compilation any significant fact that can be secured.
