TULLY WRITES OF NEW HOME

Former Salem Pastor Well Pleased With Situation in Alhambra

Dr. and Mrs. N. K. Tully and two daughters are well pleased with their new home in Alhambra, Calif., according to word contained in a letter just received by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morris, 284 North Sumner, from Mrs. Tully. The pastor and his family left here the first of this month. The Tullys are located at 722 Irving street, Alhambra. The letter says in part:

"We enjoyed a fine trip south when we came through the Siskiyou mountains, when it either rained hard or we were in a heavy fog. We have had sun and no rain ever since. The sun has been glorious and the weather is like the latter end of June.

"The church building is much more than we expected. I still get lost in it. There isn't anything in Oregon that can touch it. The manse is very comfortable and about seven long blocks from the church. We have a garage back and front, with flower beds, shrubbery and several nice trees, two avocado, two orange, two walnut, one each pepper and plum.

"Milk is higher but other things are some cheaper. I wish you could see the huge oranges I bought for 25 cents a dozen.

"Mr. Tully has an office at the church and also one at the manse. The financial secretary and director of religious education each have offices at the church and there are all day. The girls are all nicely started in the schools. The high school has 2401 students and an evening school of 1700. Several buildings are connected with the institutions. Both girls are in schools in walking distance of the home.

"We surely have been received royally here—the whole family. The reception last Tuesday evening was a very beautiful affair. I have already received cards making me an honorary member of the Round Table club and the Woman's club. Norman has been a guest of the Kiwanis and City club of Los Angeles. He attends the Ministerial association at Los Angeles tomorrow. We are going to Los Angeles from Pasadena and eight from Los Angeles and 40 minutes to the ocean and about the same to the mountains on the east.

"I expect things are about the same as we left them in Salem. Are you having any rain? No doubt the pulp committee has many applications for the church. I surely hope you get a good minister.

"We all send greetings to our many friends in Salem.

"Mrs. Tully enclosed in the letter a clipping from the Alhambra paper, the last paragraph of which said: 'Dr. Tully and his family have made a splendid impression on the people of Alhambra and the members of his new congregation feel that the work of the church is started off well under his supervision.'

GRAND JURY PICKED FOR CIRCUIT COURT

The grand jury for the April term of the Marion county circuit court is announced as follows: Nellie G. Baldwin, foreman; Babcock, James Y. Adams, J. H. Edwards, William P. Colard and John C. Glaze. The drawings were made Monday following the closing of the February term of circuit court.

Although scheduled to go to trial yesterday, the case of State vs. Joe Piser was continued to April 14 on agreement of attorneys for Piser and the District Attorney. Piser is accused of stealing cattle.

When Lloyd Johnson's attorney made a showing for parole after young Johnson had been sentenced to the penitentiary for one year on a charge of forgery, Judge Percy Kelly took the matter under advisement.

Law School Dean Will Give Speech

Dean Roy Hewitt of Willamette university has accepted a speaking engagement before the men's group of the Rose City park church in Portland on Monday, March 10. His subject will be "Sex and Sex Education." The following day he will speak at the morning meeting of the Professional club at the Heathman hotel. His address at that gathering will be an inspirational one. Hewitt is already making appointments for commencement addresses to high school throughout the state.

Creamery Issues Booklet As Aid to Producers Who Sell Butterfat to Plant

By MADALENE L. CALLIN

"When both producer and manufacturer make money, good times result," is the opening message in the little booklet given out by the Falls City creamery to all producers who sell cream to the company. The book is obviously an attempt to aid the farmer to produce a better quality of cream that will demand a higher price.

First of all the book, which is in a handy pocket size, has a place for the cream or milk record for each day. This record shows the pounds of milk sold, the test, pounds of butterfat, price and amount of the check.

In addition to this handy record the booklet gives careful directions as to the best method of handling milk and cream. It shows pictures of the proper types of milk pails and shows microscopic pictures of clean and unclean milk. "This is a book of instruction to some and simply a reminder to others," says every one who handles milk and cream would do well to heed the advice given.

Some of the rules given are:

Have clean barns, clean barnyards and clean stalls.

Do not permit cows to wade in sloughs.

Brush the loose dirt from the flank, belly and udder of the cow, then wipe udder with a damp cloth.

Do not wet fingers in milk pail, or ever milk with hands so wet as to drip.

Use clean milk cans.

Use no oil or fat on anything that will create a dust, just before milking.

Remove milk from the barn as soon as milking is over. Keep udder and dirt out of it.

Use no pail or can that has open seams. Have all seams soldered full so nothing can lodge in a crack.

Never use anything but bright tin pails. Old, battered pails and cans must be discarded.

And by all means use the "hooded" pail.

Wash the hand separator after every skimming.

If you use a separator, skim a cream of 35 to 40 per cent test. Immediately after separation cool the cream to the lowest possible temperature, 50 degrees or lower. Do not use a separator, cool the milk at once when milking is finished. Stir frequently until all animal heat has left the milk, otherwise the milk in the center of the can will stay warm, develop bacteria rapidly

HOSPITAL WILL SEEK SUPPORT

Campaign by Auxiliary to Be Launched in Salem on Third of March

Beginning with March 3 the women of the Salem general hospital auxiliary will start a campaign to arouse the interest of the general public in this institution which bears such an important relation to each and every member of the community. It is an organization owned and maintained on more or less of a community plan. Its board of directors includes many prominent people of Salem.

In an interview with Estella Ford Warner, former director of the Marion county health demonstration, an appreciative view of the work to be done by the hospital was given. Said Mrs. Warner: "I am intensely interested in the welfare of the patients in the hospital, which, of course, means the service of the hospital as it is offered to the sick person who is temporarily a guest. But there is a larger field in which a hospital serves than in just care to the individual and that is in being an integral part of a whole progressive community.

"The function of the hospital today is so different from that of a few short years ago. We know that illness is a thing that to a great extent can be prevented; that if sickness does overtake us, that the earlier the malady is determined and the remedy begun, the greater are the chances for complete health restoration; that health is a real economic asset. The hospital is no longer the place where people go only in extreme sickness, but the nucleus within the community where health should and does emanate.

"I am so proud of the place of the Salem general hospital and its place in the community and its rank with other hospitals through out the United States. It is a standardized hospital. But what does that mean? It is simply an assurance to the patients and the city that certain requirements as to type and service set by the American college of Surgeons have been met by the hospital.

"These standards include staff membership of doctors who are graduates of recognized schools of medicine and are of good standing and worthy in their respective fields of practice; that the staff shall have regular meetings to discuss their clinical experiences; that accurate records be kept on all patients; that laboratory and X-ray facilities be of the best quality. All these items simply mean a protection to the individual patient, and a high quality of service for a community.

"Salem and Marion county has so much of which to be proud in its achievements in health and the place of a hospital offering adequate service set by the American college of Surgeons, that we should offer our whole-hearted, sympathetic interest."

West Salem

WET-DRY POLL NOW LAUNCHED

Literary Digest to Conduct Straw Vote on Prohibition Amendment

Twenty-million voters throughout the entire United States are now being polled for their opinions on Prohibition by the Literary Digest, which has accurately predicted the outcome of the last three presidential campaigns through "straw" votes.

Salem's allotment of ballots has already been mailed from the poll's headquarters in New York City and should be distributed by the local post-office here within a few days, according to advice received Monday.

The first tabulated returns of the nation-wide balloting will be published about the middle of March, it is stated.

Distribution of the postcard ballots, which are used in the "straw" referendum have been mailed widely throughout the United States already.

Each ballot is said to be strictly secret and requires no signature and entails no obligation on the part of the voter. The ballot, consisting of questions, of which the voter is asked to choose the one policy he favors:

1. Do you favor the continuance of strict enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and Volstead Law?

2. Do you favor modification of the Volstead Law to permit light wines and beers?

3. Do you favor a repeal of the Prohibition Amendment?

MOSHER SHOP NOW BEING REMODELED

Alterations which will make the D. H. Mosher tailor shop on Court street thoroughly up-to-date are under way this week. Mr. Mosher has his store in the Odd Fellows building.

A large window with adequate lighting provided for, is being built on the Court street front. Room for the six tailors employed by Mr. Mosher is being arranged in the store room. Formerly the majority of eighth grade boys. The club is making a very good showing with Mrs. Lacey as leader.

Miss Evelyn Thomas spent an afternoon last week at the Lausanne hall visiting her cousin, Miss Eloise Allor.

Leonard and Lila Nash and Loren Dixon of Salem and Herbert Hille of Independence were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hille of Second street.

Mrs. George Baun of Monmouth was a recent dinner guest with her friend, Miss Hilda Baun of Second street.

Miss Vera Stewart of Edgewater street, who has been suffering with poison oak is now able to be up and around.

An interesting church service was enjoyed Sunday evening by all who attended. Special singing and an interesting talk were the evening's program.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gooder have gone to California, where they expect to remain some time and perhaps make their home at that place.

Donald Davis, who teaches at a school at St. Helens, was at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. E. Davis of Ruge street, last week end.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sloper of Edgewater street has been undergoing a coat of paint. Mr. Sloper has been doing the work.

A committee has been appointed by the community club of West Salem for the purpose of having charge of the program for their meeting to be held in March. The committee consists of Mrs. Ben Williams, Max Gehlar and Miss Bessie Shinn.
