

NAVAL CONFAB WILL CONTINUE

tative Pending Frenchmen's Appearance All Agreements to Be Tentative

It was generally assumed that the Tardieu-Poincare conferences which were going on this evening would result in the selection of a list of ministers representing all moderate elements in the chamber of deputies, but with some representatives of the parties of the right.

Such a list, it was pointed out, would amount to the throwing down of a gauntlet to the parties of the left represented by Chamberlain, Edouard Herriot, and Edouard Delandier. Should the cabinet which M. Tardieu is trying to form win its necessary vote of confidence in the chamber, France would have a moderate conservative government. If it is overturned, it was predicted tonight that President Poincare would again look to the left.

Tardieu Persuaded To Reconsider Stand

M. Tardieu was entrusted with the task after he first had refused and nominated M. Poincare. But the latter told the president his health was still too precarious from the effects of recent operations to permit him to assume the burdens of the premiership. He, therefore, urged that M. Tardieu should be called upon once more, promising to collaborate with him and on this basis was made the special messenger of the chief executive to notify the premier.

But M. Tardieu, who had been received with less resentment on the part of the left guards because of his "saviour of France" had nothing to do with the defeat of the Chamberlain list. On the contrary, Tardieu was held responsible for yesterday's outcome and he can expect little or no help from the left guards despite the presence of Briand in his cabinet. "The man in the street" was pleased with the selection of Tardieu. The latter has captured the imagination of the populace which has credited him with having raised the prestige of France both at the reparations conference at the Hague and at the fire-power naval conference in London.

ed the street with blinding gas and patrols of officers charged into the crowd. Women leaped upon the backs of patrolmen struggling with male rioters and bit and scratched as officers became isolated temporarily in the throng.

The police front stood firm, however, and the uprising quieted rapidly after the second assault had failed.

many matters coming up for its attention in connection with the intangibles tax. However, under the direction of Commissioner Charles V. Galloway, a booklet is being prepared which is designed to standardize the assessment of buildings. It will be issued within a few weeks, after which it will be necessary to hold conferences with assessors and arrange for instruction of deputy assessors in the correct use of the tables and regulations contained therein.

Petz Injured But to Receive Compensation

E. N. Petz of 465 Marion street is confined to his home as a result of injuries received when his automobile collided with a car driven by C. R. Alcott of Junction City last Saturday at High and Court street. Mr. Petz has reported the accident to The Oregon Statesman as he is insured by one of the accident insurance policies issued to Statesman subscribers. Mr. Petz's car was almost a total wreck and he considers himself lucky to have escaped with only minor injuries.

WOMEN'S DEFENSE CONFAB MEETS

General view of the opening session of the women's national defense conference in Constitution Hall, at Washington, D. C. More than 1,000 women delegates representing 43 patriotic societies attended the meeting and enthusiastically applauded warnings to America to maintain an efficient and adequate national defense and beware of entangling alliances.

WIFE'S LOVE AFFAIR WITH PERSIAN TOLD

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 26.—(AP)—A love affair between a Persian prince and Mrs. Dorothy Moormeister, 32, whose mutilated body was found on a lonely road near here last Saturday morning, was revealed today by Dr. Frank Moormeister, husband of the slain woman, on the witness stand during a coroner's jury inquest.

Dr. Moormeister, who wept much of the time while telling of his visit to the scene of the murder, testified that he knew nothing of his wife's intimate relations with the Persian prince until he found a letter from him in her desk the day after her death.

He said his wife met Prince Farid of Persia while they were in Paris last year. He said Prince Farid now was supposed to be visiting the Maharajah of Mysore at Mysore, India. Dr. Moormeister testified that "supposed" Prince Farid was a gentleman until he read the letter which his wife received from the prince soon after her death.

Dr. Moormeister said while in Paris he made trips to Africa and other places but that his wife and his daughter, Miss Peggy Moormeister, remained in Paris. He said his wife told him of a "most wonderful man" and introduced him to Prince Farid.

County Attorney John D. Rice attempted to show that Miss Moormeister had told Dr. Moormeister of his wife's relations with the prince but he emphatically denied it.

Testimony during the inquest today was mostly of a routine nature. Dr. Moormeister, the principal witness, wept repeatedly while telling of events prior to the finding of his wife's body by a mill worker shortly after midnight last Friday.

The inquest will resume tomorrow.

Here is an interesting sidelight on directing:

Instead of one man supervising everything, as was the case with silent pictures, the talkie of today employs the services of pictorial, dialogue, sound, dancing, musical, photographic, and color directors.

A visit to the sound stage where Radio Pictures' musical extravaganza, "Hit the Deck" was being filmed revealed that seven individuals are responsible for specialized phases of the task of bringing this stage bit to the audible screen. Their work is divided as follows:

Pictorial director, who guides the action of the players on the screen; dialogue director, the man who coaches the players in their speeches; photographic director, he is in charge of the cameras, cameramen, and lighting effects; sound director, responsible for the recording of voices, music and sound effects; dance director, who rehearses the chorus girls for weeks in advance so that new and intricate steps will be ready for filming without a moment's delay; musical director, in charge of the orchestra and vocalists; and color director, responsible for the photography of technical scenes.

Senator Norris passed up this proposal, and said later off the floor, that such a resolution "will not be necessary—for the president and the executive branch of the government cannot let affairs go on as they are now, after they know what has been developed in the committee investigation."

Ballot Title Is Ready on Three Dollar Licenses

Ballot title for the initiative bill providing for a flat $3 annual license fee for motor vehicles, excepting electric vehicles which is increased, and increasing the gasoline tax from four to five cents a gallon, was completed by Attorney General Van Winkle here Wednesday.

The proposed law is being introduced by H. H. Stallard of Portland. The law, if passed, would reduce the total license money available for highway approximately $5,000,000, of which one-third would be lost by the counties and two-thirds by the state.

not forthcoming. Leaders of all factions afterward claimed enough votes were available to carry a motion to remain in session tomorrow night.

Tariff on Lumber to Be Considered Again

Senator Jones said he would call up tomorrow an amendment to the free list to place a duty of three dollars a thousand feet, board measure, on all lumber. There was some question whether shingles would be considered along with lumber as the senate already has gone on record by a comfortable margin for free shingles as against a house duty of 25 per cent.

Senator Jones said he would not demand a separate vote on shingles, but hoped a duty satisfactory to his section would be agreed upon in conference between the two houses.

The free list was reached today after several amendments to the sundries schedule were acted upon. The most important amendment approved was one by Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, which would allow free entry to all ingredients used chiefly for in the manufacture of fertilizers.

This was urged as an important aid to the farmers, whose fertilizer bill was estimated at $250,000,000 annually.

The effect of the amendment would be to make non-dutiable ammonium sulphate, lutable at one-quarter of a cent a pound, and used chiefly for fertilizer, and any other items on the dutiable list at present which came in this category. Practically all of these substances are already on the free list.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, was successful in a move to restore the present rate of $10 a dozen on fur felt hats valued at over $24 and not more than $48 a dozen which the bill had raised to $12 and $18 according to carrying values.

By 46 to 35 approval was given another amendment by the Massachusetts senator to eliminate the increase from 15 to 25 per cent in the rate of photographic dry plates.

CONGRESSMAN SAYS CHARGES ALL FALSE

He Told of Trochowski Being at the Kuntz Home Repairing the Furnace and of Offering to Loan him $400 to Meet a Board Bill. To Said the Money was Later Returned.

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Congressman Stanley Kuntz, on trial with his son, Stanley, Jr., on charges of operating a confidence game, today denied the $400 he received from Walter Trochowski was a bribe to enlist his aid in securing a police job, and said it was merely a loan.

He told of Trochowski being at the Kuntz home repairing the furnace and of offering to loan him $400 to meet a board bill. To said the money was later returned.

Sam Palmer, an employe of Kuntz, testified preceding the congressman and told a similar story.

The state charges Kuntz and his son accepted the money in exchange for the congressman's purported influence with the civil service commission.

Gray also testified that he had suggested changes in the 1928 message of Coolidge the congress denied that he had conferred with President Hoover regarding his congressional message. President Hoover's recent communication was characterized by him as the "best message on Muscle Shoals ever written by a president."

"Then he beat you and Mr. Coolidge both," observed Chairman Caraway of the committee.

RACKETEERS BUSY AGAIN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Racketeers have renewed a "shake down" campaign backed by threats against well known actors and actresses appearing in Chicago, police said today.

The actors equity league began a formal investigation of complaints made by several members who said they were presented with demands for money during Chicago engagements and threatened with dire penalties unless they paid. Equity said hundreds of dollars already had been paid by members, that others had been frightened out of town and that many had been forced to seek police protection.

Since January 31, police said Francine Larrimore has been playing the lead role in "Let Us Be Gay," with two detectives standing in either wing back stage guarding her from a possible attack by racketeers who sought to collect $1,000 from her.

Similar demands were reported made of Eddie Cantor, starring in "Whoopee," but Cantor emphatically denied it tonight.

17 Drowned as Ship Goes Down Off Abaco Isle

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—Seventeen lives were reported lost when the sloop Pretoria was swamped in heavy seas off Abaco Island, Bahamas, on February 17, according to passengers arriving here today from Nassau.

Three persons of the crew of 20 succeeded in reaching the island after the vessel sank, passengers reported.

Has the laxative in your home a family doctor's approval?

MOST of us value our health too much to purposely neglect ourselves when we are warned of constipation by bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, a headache, lack of appetite, or that weak, helpless feeling. The continuation of our trouble is more often due to the things we do rather than the things we leave undone.

Some things people do to help the bowels really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what things will cleanse the system without harm. That's why the laxative in your home should have a family doctor's approval.

A wonderful product now known to millions of people as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Caldwell wrote thousands of times in his many years of practice at Monticello, Illinois. He proved it safe and reliable for women and children; thoroughly effective for the most robust men. He showed it actually corrects constipation. It is made from fresh herbs and other pure ingredients.

Since Dr. Caldwell first permitted his prescription to be put up in bottles and sold through drug stores, it has increased steadily in popularity until today it is the largest selling laxative in the world!
