mand for butter of the higher SCOTES. Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland buread of the United States depart-more liberal.

ment of agriculture says: Higher prices were established on cauliflower, asparagus and bananas. Continued cold weather at Book Standard Research Standard Research R anas. Continued cold weather at Roseburg is delaying cauliflower maturity. California cauliflower shipments are much lighter than during the last three months and present advanced price levels will consequently be of benefit to Oregon shippers. "Bananas at seven cents per pound to retailers mark the highest level in several weeks. "A few cars of Florida grapefruit are again being distributed in Portland. Quality of this stock shows wide variation, due to shipping-point treatment, by processing with heat or cold, to prevent spread of the Mediterraneau fruit fly. Some of the stock is very satisfactory; while others are readily susceptible to decay.

"Cool and rainy weather at California points is delaying asparagus maturity. Until more favorable growing weather materializes, prices will probably stay at their present levels of about 30 cents per pound to retailers.

"Outside demand for Oregon onions or any other onios continues very slow. Recent consignments are netting growers 70-75 cents per cwt., plus sacks."

California, Roseburg Cauliflower Takes 50c Jump up

The vegetable market furnished most of the excitement Monday. according to the figures of the local wholesalers. New potatoes from Florida made their appearance here Monday, and yesterday dropped exactly half the previous day's quotation, with 15 cents a pound the new figure. Asparagus is also new today and it selling to the stores at 30 cents a pound. Both California and Roseburg cauliflower took a 50 cent jump in 24 hours, the new price from the jobbers being $1.75. The quality is excellent. Although the price continues the same, Salem people are becoming unusually fond of artichokes and the wholesalers are experiencing a heavy call on this commedity.

Cabbage Cent Higher Cabbage was quoted a cent-higher yesterday, at 6 cents a pound, and it is predicted this figure will hold for at least 16 Lettuce is way down again and is the finest that has been on the market for some time. Yesterday's figure ranged from $2.75 to $8. Celery, toe, has dropped and to now $5.75 a crate, and exceptionally fine. New California peas are on the market from California at 16 cents a pound, and Imperial Valley grapefruit, the first of the season, is arriving. The quotation in from $5.50 to $6.25. Eugene is shipping the hot house cucumber received here, the price being $3.56.
