Woman's Club Plans For Meeting

It was announced by Mrs. Harry Weidmer, president of the Salem Woman's club that the hall of representatives would be the meeting place for the state federations of Women's clubs which will take place in Salem May 12, 13 and 14. It is expected that several hundred women will be in Salem at that time and from all over the state.

Mrs. Ivan Martin has requested all women who will be able to house one or more visitors during this time to call her and make known the fact in order that housing conditions may be taken care of at an early date.

At the business meeting of the club it was reported by Mrs. C. K. Spaulding that the tea for which she opened her home last week cleared $44.75 which sum would be used as part of the convention fund for the May meetings.

Mrs. Spaulding also reported that out of the $500 pledged to the Doernbecker hospital there is only left to pay $112.70.

The program for the afternoon was under the direction of the public welfare department, Mrs. E. E. Ling, chairman. Mrs. T. J. Barber, chairman of the public health division of this department, gave a complete and detailed report of the working of her committee during the Red Cross seal sale at Christmas time. Mrs. Adrian McCalman of Portland, chairman of the public health committee of the Portland club, spoke briefly of the work done in Portland.

The main feature of the afternoon was the informal talk made by Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, chairman of the public welfare committee of the general federation, on the subject of public health. Mrs. Dunbar's expressions were very optimistic in regard to health for as she said, "Public health education will soon have the same status as any other subject in the school curriculum." And to verify this fact she pointed to the White House conference held in Washington with President Hoover at which time the sole topic of conversation was the problem of child health welfare.

As a part of the regular club program Mrs. William F. Fargo read a poem, "Growing Old."

Mrs. W. E. Kirk Is Luncheon Hostess

MRS. W. E. KIRK entertained with a one o'clock luncheon at her home on State street Friday afternoon for members of the drama class. The centerpiece for the luncheon table was of lavender and pink sweet-peas in a low bow and on either side of this were pink tapers in crystal holders.

Covers were placed for Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Mrs. I. L. Farmer, Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. William Hamilton, Miss Mattie Beatty, and Mrs. Kirk. Those of the class who were unable to be present were Mrs. Sam Kozler, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. J. H. Albert, and Mrs. A. N. Bush.

The afternoon following the luncheon hour was spent in making plans for the coming year and in conversation, much of which took in many of the past events of the club which is one of the oldest organized clubs in the city which still retains so many of its original membership. Much joy was found in looking through several old portfolios of pictures of actresses and actors of past days, a collection quite rare and valuable owned by Mrs. Kirk.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. William Hamilton, March 17.

CAMP FIRE GIRL ACTIVITIES

The first group of Blue Birds to be organized in connection with Camp Fire girls' activities in Salem met recently with their leader, Gwendolyn Hubbard, a Camp Fire girl working for torch bearer honors, to elect officers.

The following officers were elected: Ruth Amunson, president; Marjorie Walker, treasurer; Barbara Compton, secretary. Additional guests for this meeting were Betty and Louise Hayes.

The Klatskan Camp Fire Girls had their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Minklewitz, guardian, this week and planned their count book for Indian lore which is the project they are working on for birthday honors.

With the dawn of Wednesday came a cessation of much social activity over no small part of the globe, for with that date began the six weeks period of Lent. Social life will be confined to quiet events in many circles and will center more about church affairs. The past week has shown the effect of this period with only a few affairs of note.

Among these was the afternoon for which Mrs. George A. Vehrs was hostess with a charming St. Patrick's bridge luncheon. Other affairs given recently have been in compliment to Mrs. Earl Cooley, nee Mabel Marcus, who has come with Mr. Marcus to make her home in Salem.

One of the largest affairs for the coming week will be the bridge tea for which Mrs. Harry Belt, Mrs. Thomas A. McBride and Mrs. Sam Laughlin will be hostesses at the Elks Temple Tuesday with Mrs. A. W. Norblad as honor guest.

Card Evening Is Happy Affair

Mrs. Rachel Buckles and Mrs. Lucille Baker entertained Wednesday evening with cards in Mrs. Baker's home on Union street. Four tables of five hundred were played. High scores went to Mrs. Lila Nichols and Mr. George Givens, while Lloyd Ramsden captured the hooby prize. St. Patrick's decorations and motifs were used throughout the room. Lunch was served at 12 p. m.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Givens, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ramsden, Miss Loreta Lashway, Carl McMahan, Ed Kerchoff and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson and Dr. L. D. Carter of Portland and the hostesses Miss Buckles and Mrs. Baker.

Y. W. C. A. Executive Board to Meet

There will be an executive board meeting of the Y. W. C. A. at the Y. W. C. A. rooms Tuesday beginning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Rex Sandford, director of finances for the Y. W. C. A. campaign that is to begin soon, will act as president of this board meeting.

Luncheon will follow this meeting at 12 o'clock. Reports will be made concerning February conferences which have been attended by Mrs. Eric Butler, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaber, and Mrs. George Moorehead.

Mrs. J. C. Nelson will give a review of the "Case of Sergeant Grisca" written by Arnold Cweg at the 2:30 study hour of the Salem Woman's club class Monday afternoon at the Salem Woman's clubhouse on North Cottage street. This is a translation from the German and is one of the most significant books concerning the war. At 3:30 o'clock, Dr. F. G. Franklin will take charge of the study and will conduct a class in current events.

Local Women Celebrate Week

TODAY marks the beginning of the fourth annual Business and Professional Women's Week and Salem members of the Business and Professional Women's club have made elaborate plans for its observance.

The high mark of the week's activities will be Thursday evening when the local club will be hostess to the business and professional men of the city at the annual public relations dinner. The dinner will be held at the Marion hotel at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Dorothy McCullough Lee, Portland attorney and well known in Oregon political circles, will be the speaker of the evening. The Salem club stringed orchestra will furnish music.

During the week a representative of the club will appear at the meetings of the various service clubs of the city, including the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Rotary, Ad Club, Zonta and Lions clubs. By this means the local club will send greetings to the various organizations and explain the objectives of the Business and Professional Women's club.

On Saturday evening members of the local club will be at home to members of the Salem Women's club, Zonta club, American Association of University Women and Ecclesia club at Lausanne hall.

The week's activities will terminate on Sunday, March 16, when club members will attend the Presbyterian church in a body and Chaplain James Gilbert will deliver the sermon.

Susan Vance, president of the Salem B. P. W. C. has appointed the following committee: chairman for the week: Julia Webster, general chairman; Carlotta Crowley, chairman for the Public Relations dinner; Josephine Shade, chairman of the reception committee and Ellen Thielson, chairman for the At Home on Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Gregg Donay entertained as their 6:00 o'clock dinner guests Saturday night Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Peck, Miss Virginia Melton, and Miss Helen McHirron.

MRS. EARL COOLEY

Mrs. Oscar D. Olsen Dinner Bridge Hostess

ONE of the attractive parties of the past week was the dinner party for which Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Olsen were hosts at their home Saturday night. Covers were laid for 12 at a table centered with a low arrangement of yellow tulips, and daffodils. Yellow tapers in green holders stood on either side of the flower piece. Spring flowers were used about the guest rooms where bridge was in play following the dinner hour. The evening was in special compliment to Mr. Olsen's birthday which is an event of today.

Those present for this evening were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Thom Wolgast, Mr. and Mrs. William Newmyer, Mrs. Mona Yoder, Ralph Kietzing and Mr. and Mrs. Olson.

Miss McHirron Will Address Arts League

One of the many interesting programs given under the sponsorship of the Salem Arts League will be that given by Miss Helen McHirron on the subject of musical figures Wednesday night in the lovely residence studio of Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts.

The lecture will not be so technical but what all present, and the public is invited, will be able to understand and appreciate to a much fuller extent the value of music after having heard the program.

During the lecture, Miss McHirron will introduce the following musical numbers as illustrations of matter to be treated in her lecture:

Miss Ruth How will sing "By the Waters of Minnetonka" by Lieurance.

Prof. T. S. Roberts will play on the pipe organ "Andante Cantabile" by Teikakovsky.

The Misses Helen McPherson, Rosiland Van Winkle, Grace Henderson and Evelyn High will play a two-piano number, First Movement of the Fifth Symphony by Beethoven.

The social hour after the program will be in charge of the social committee, Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mrs. J. M. Clifford and Mrs. F. D. Thielson, assisted by Mrs. Blanche Jones, Mrs. C. A. Sprague and Mrs. W. H. Burkhardt. John Clifford is in charge of the program arrangements.

Mrs. F. G. Franklin Is Hostess

Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin were hosts to a second group of Willamette university seniors on Saturday night. The evening was spent in social conversation and some literary discussion. Mr. Crnkovich discussed European legends and some amusing results came from the writing of trioslets, in the style of French verse. Mrs. Franklin was assisted at the tea hour by Miss Lillian Scott.

Gay spring flowers were effectively arranged about the rooms and scattered here and there on the tables were many pictures and prints of oriental origin gotten by Dr. Franklin while in the orient.

Guests for this even were Miss Lillian Scott, Miss Leonz Clothier, Miss Gaynelle Beckett, Miss Dorothy Gordon, Mrs. Harold Hauk, William Mumford, John Crnkovich, John Trachsel, Harold Hauk and Curtis French.
