

Student Council Stands Squarely Behind Wolf, He Says

POSITION TOLD BY PRINCIPAL

High School Youths Not to Hand in Resignations, Is Report

Members of the Salem high school student council, who met Tuesday noon to consider whether or not they should hand in their resignations, are a hundred per cent behind Fred Wolf, principal. Wolf stated yesterday afternoon following a session with the council that noon.

The council members were given to understand definitely that the principal is running the school and to know definitely that their authority in student body affairs is subordinate to word of the principal. Wolf said in substance in telling of the meeting.

The student officials' meeting on Tuesday was held because these students had come to the point that they felt they held little of their intended status when the principal disregarded the student body constitution at will. Following Wolf's talk with the officials yesterday, the principal reported the students as informing him that their previous attitude had been simply the result of a misunderstanding.

The group were informed definitely where lies their place in the school, and how far their authority goes, the principal telling them that the student body is supplementary to his authority.

DAVIS OPTIMISTIC IN RADIO ADDRESS

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Davis today characterized the United States as a land of unexampled prosperity and opportunity, asserting that "20,000,000 people born on other shores have found it a land of opportunity and I am one of those 20,000,000." In a radio address under the auspices of the United States flag association, the labor secretary said, "America is the first country on earth to have regard for the well-being of the common man."

"If you go back 200 years," he asserted, "you discover that there was not a powerful lord or king in Europe who lived as well as the type of worker who is becoming typical of America."

Republican Body Not to Schedule Early Gathering

Tentative plans for a pre-primary meeting of the precinct committeemen of the republican party in Marion county have been discarded by J. C. Perry, chairman of the county committee, he stated Wednesday. Perry said he had been asked to call the group together prior to the primaries with the view of pledging support of the republican organization to one of the candidates for governor. This Perry said, was not only contrary to republican policy but probably illegal.

After the primaries, Mr. Perry said, he would call the precinct leaders together as prescribed by law and then make plans for the campaign in the fall.

ASA KEYES ENTERS SAN QUENTIN CELL

to prosecute adequately numerous wealthy Californians, accused of fleecing thousands of investors in Julian Petroleum corporation stock. He took his place calmly and without complaint, other than to repeat what he said last night in a formal statement. In that statement he said he was innocent and would some day be vindicated. He also said he did not enter prison in a downcast mood but with head erect and determined to start anew when he faltered again his freedom. Keyes Makes Journey in Cheerful Mood

The former prosecutor's journey from the south was without incident. He chatted frequently with his guard, Deputy Sheriff Frank P. Cochran of Los Angeles, and newspapermen who accompanied or joined him enroute. He told one newspaperman that he felt he had in one way done California more good than any other man. He referred to the fact that he had sent more than 5000 persons to state's prison. Nearly 3000 of these have served their time or been paroled.

There was much curiosity as to how the 2000 still here would receive Keyes. This curiosity was satisfied when it was found they actually ignored him. He entered accompanied only by Cochran and newspapermen and photographers. No other prisoners were with him.

Little Notice Given By Street Crowds

His party motored into the prison grounds from the Richmond-San Quentin ferry hurriedly and without attracting more than a passing attention.

When Keyes got out of the car before the prison entrance, Warden James B. Holohan was there to greet him.

Riley of Hubbard, Frank Loerger of Portland and Captain Harry M. Niles of the Portland police department; music by Lela's orchestra of Woodburn; selections by the Portland police quartet; accordion solo by Roberto Morton of Salem, and piano solo by Leta Nibler of Woodburn.

A feature of the birthday entertainment was a huge birthday cake lighted with electric candles. A giant postal card, 36 by 36 inches, was received from J. K. Brown of Portland and during the afternoon floral pieces from Portland friends were dropped from a plane piloted by Tex Rankin of Portland.

FAMILY OF BEGGARS IS WARNED AGAINST

Ensign Earl Williams reports that the Salvation Army's system of "chain charities" demonstrated its worth this week in a striking way. Early in the week the Army officer at Albany phoned Williams and warned him of a certain begging family which was headed this way. Temporary assistance had been given and a job secured for the man, the employer furnishing a supply of bedding. The family promptly took to their car and headed north, but were overtaken by the employer who repossessed his bedding.

The Albany officer checked up with the Army at Eugene and found that the family had attempted the same trick there. They did not apply for aid at the Salvation Army in Salem or Portland but Williams learned yesterday through checking with the confidential exchange in Portland that this identical family is now in Portland and has asked aid of the Welfare Bureau. In such a case the Army filed its information with the confidential exchange who in turn notifies the Welfare Bureau. This family of professional "mothers" will find the picking rather slim in this district.

Such people, Williams states, often use different names in each town and so are difficult to check up on. Plenty of work and a liberal use of the phone and telegraph are the best methods to use with this type of case, says Ensign Williams.

How a Family Doctor made Millions of Friends

FIFTEEN years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became one of the best-known members of his profession. A single prescription made him famous. And for forty years it has continued to make friends.

As fast as people could tell others about the marvelous way this prescription corrects constipation and relieves other troubles caused by sluggish bowels, demand for it spread until Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it filled in quantities; bottled and distributed through drug stores.

Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people would never think of using anything else when they're headachy, bilious, feverish, or weak; when breath is bad, tongue is coated or they are suffering from nausea, from gas, or lack of appetite, etc.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as you buy it from your drug store is made in accordance with the original formula from only herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant tasting; its action is thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.
