Hearing Called for April 7: Manipulation of Wheat Market Charged

CHICAGO, March 25-(AP)-The Chicago Tribune will say to-morrow that for the first time since passage of the federal grain futures administration act nearly eight years ago, Chicago board of trade members are to be called upon to explain reported attempts to manipulate grain prices.

The paper will say that William B. Massey, as agent for Lamson & Co., John S. Reddy and Philip J. Reddy are named in complaints filed by Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde and called for a hearing at Chicago,

The complaint charges an attempt to manipulate the market price of grain, beginning with an allegedly bogus sale of grain on July 11, 1929. In the period following this sale, the complaint alleges, the men through what are termed "ruses, schemes and de-vices," caused to be sold not less than 345,000 bushels of December wheat at prices both lower and higher than the real prices existing when the sales were exe-Use of Mails to Massey is charged with having sold himself at 1 to 11/2 cents a bushel under prevailing quotations, but is accused of having reported the sale as having been made to the Reddy firm. Eight conserva-tives were joined by a single lib-eral, Major C. C. Power, member for Quebec, south; Henry Bourassa, independent member of La Belle, and A. A. Heaps, labor member from Winnipeg, north. During debate R. B. Bennett conservative leader, challenged the government to resign declaring that "self-respecting ministers would resign in a case of this nature.'

Change of Front Is Laid to Government

This demand followed a charge that the government had changed front since, in the last session, W. D. Euler, minister of national revenue, had declared that such a measure was impossible of realization. Bennett quoted Euler as having said the United States should enforce its own law.

In response to a question by Bennett, Premier W. L. MacKenzie King said that the phraseology of the bill in reference to the word "destined" for the United States, had been reconsidered and was found adequate.
